'PLOT U. S. COUP': GEN. BUTLER

THRONGS HONOR CARDINAL IN HIS SILVER JUBILEE

Clergy of 43 States Unite in Ceremony.

BY JAMES O'DONNELL BENNETT.

The twenty-fifth anniversary of the episcopate of Cardinal George Mundelein of Chicago was celebrated yesterday morning at the Holy Name cathedral with stately and solemn ceremonies expressive of his rank as a prince of the Roman Catholic church and with a fond intimacy that told how dear the cardinal is to his flock in the archdiocese of Chicago—a flock numbering nearly a million.

The occasion was given a world-wide significance by a message of felicitation and benediction from Pope Pius XI. and by the presence of ecclesiastics from forty-three of the forty-eight states in the Union, from near and remote provinces of Canada, from Italy, from Russia, from Mexico, from the republic of Panama, from the Philippines, and from Porto Rico.

Two Cardinals Take Part.

Two cardinals—Patrick J. Hayes, archbishop of New York, and Archbishop Mundelein—occupied the thrones of scarlet and gold to the left of Holy Name's high altar as you face it.

Enthroned upon a green covered tribuna opposite them was the pope's representative, Archbishop Cicognani, apostolic delegate to the United States, and behind him sat rank upon rank of archbishops, bishops and mitered abbots. Papal knights, wearing jeweled decorations on uniforms heavily braided with gold and silver, from time to time knelt at the sanctuary rail.

Other dignitaries occupied pews in the body of the church. The gentle teaching sisters of the archdiocese were given places of honor, as were Franciscan fathers wearing brown robes girdled with rope.

Greatest Service Since 1926.

Not since the Eucharistic congress held in Chicago in 1926 has this Gothic cathedral, consecrated 60 years ago, held so representative and so brilliant an assemblage as that of yesterday. It numbered 2,500 clergy and laity and it was supplemented by a throng of laity and of uniformed children from the parochial schools of the archdiocese who beheld in the streets the brief and jubilant pageantry which marked the procession of ecclesiastics from the cathedral schools and rectory to the great western entrance of the church.

On, on, they came through the misty morning, each prelate attended by his chaplains. Preceding them, crucifers appareled in scarlet and gold bore the two barred metropolitan or archiepiscopal crosses.

Children Pay Their Tribute.

As they passed, double lines of children attended by teaching sisters made reverent obeisance. From windows all along the way, from roofs, and even from the branches of trees, a throng of ten thousand people gazed upon the march. The great bell of the cathedral was booming. Strains of music carried by amplifiers from the interior of the edifice filled the air.

The scene was geography in scarlet and purple—a pageant of commonwealths and of nations.

There were archbishops from Baltimore and from Winnipeg, from Cincinnati and from San Francisco, from St. Paul and from San Antonio, from Rochester, N. Y., and from Portland, Ore.; from Milwaukee, and from Dubuque.

From India and Saskatchewan.

The geographical contrasts were as dazzling as they were significant—three bishops from the Philippines, two from Porto Rico, four from the Dakotas, one from India, an archbishop and a bishop from Panama, two archbishops and two bishops from the state of New York, and Bishop Matulionis, apostolic administrator of Leningrad.

In all, 17 archbishops, 87 bishops and 9 abbots.

Was ever tribute so far flung paid to a Chicagoan?

Governor and Mayor Attend.

The governor of Illinois and the mayor of Chicago, who were among the guests of honor, could recall nothing like it, and the experience of

'Ridiculous,' Say Men Named.

New York, Nov. 20.—[Special.]—A plot of Wall street interests to overthrow President Roosevelt and establish a Fascist dictatorship, backed by a private army of 500,000 ex-soldiers and others, was charged today by Maj. Gen. Smedley D. Butler, retired marine corps officer.

He appeared before the house of representatives committee on un-American activities and told his story to Representative John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, chairman, and Representative Samuel Dickstein of New York, vice chairman. McCormack announced a thorough investigation would be made.

Denials Follow Story.

The two committee members heard testimony from Gen. Butler and Gerald P. MacGuire, a bond salesman in the stock exchange firm of Grayson M. P. Murphy & Co., named by Gen. Butler as having urged him to head the proposed Fascist army.

There were immediate emphatic denials by the purported plotters.

From Philadelphia came word that Gen. Butler had told friends there that Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, former NRA administrator, was scheduled for the rôle of dictator, and that J. P. Morgan & Co., as well as Murphy & Co., were behind the plot.

Gen. Johnson led the chorus of denials. He barked:

"Butler had better be pretty damn careful. Nobody said a word to me about anything of this kind and if they did I'd throw them out the window."

"Moonshine," Says Lamont.

Thomas W. Lamont, partner in the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., said:

"Perfect moonshine! Too unutterably ridiculous to comment upon!"

Said Col. Murphy:

"A fantasy! I can't imagine how any one could produce it or any sane person believe it. It is absolutely false so far as it relates to me and my firm and I don't believe there is a word of truth in it with respect to Mr. MacGuire."

Mr. MacGuire, the alleged intermediary, said:

"It's a joke—a publicity stunt. I know nothing about it. The matter is made out of whole cloth. I deny the story completely."

In Washington aids of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, chief of staf, who was confined to his quarters with a cold, expressed amazement and amusement when told that the "plotters," according to Gen. Butler, had used Gen. MacArthur's name as an alternate for head of the Fascist army if Gen. Butler did not accept.

Gen. Butler's Story.

While the committee declined to make public the quoted testimony of Gen. Butler, the New York Evening Post published a copyright article containing much of Butler's story.

Gen. Butler, according to the Post, related a conversation he had with MacGuire Aug. 22 at the Bellevue-Stratford hotel in Philadelphia.

"The upshot of his proposition was that I was to head a soldier organization of half a million men, that this group would assemble—probably a year from now—in Washington, and that within a few days it could take over the functions of government.

"Didn't Seem Bloodthirsty."

"To be perfectly fair to Mr. MacGuire, he didn't seem bloodthirsty. He felt that such a show of force in Washington would probably result in a peaceful overturn of the government. He suggested that 'we might even go along with Roosevelt and do with him what Mussolini did with the king of Italy.'

"Mr. MacGuire insisted that all of his program was 'constitutional,'" continued the general. "He proposed that the secretary of state and vice president would be made to resign, by force if necessary, and that President Roosevelt probably would allow MacGuire's group to appoint a secretary of state. Then, if President Roosevelt was willing 'to go along,' he could remain as President. But if he were not in sympathy with the Fascist movement he and the Vice President would be forced to resign, whereupon, under the constitution, the presidential succession would place the secretary of state in the White House.

"Then he discussed the need for a 'man on a white horse,' and insisted that a show of armed force was the

SEYFERLICH BARS LEG AMPUTATION; 'LAST HOPE GONE'

His refusal to submit to amputation of his right leg has removed the last hope of recovery for Fire Commissioner Arthur R. Seyferlich, under treatment at the Henrotin hospital for diabetic gangrene. This was disclosed last night by his physician, Dr. Ernest S. Moore.

"The commissioner has remained adamant since he came here for observation Oct. 27," Dr. Moore declared. "I told him that only an amputation could save him. But he told me that a one legged fireman was no fireman and that if he couldn't have both legs he would have none.

"While his condition is not threatening immediately, it is very serious. We can not tell what will happen. He may live for two or three months or he may go suddenly. Hardening of the arteries has complicated a serious diabetic condition from which Mr. Seyferlich has suffered several years. The poison is confined to the toes of his right foot, but an amputation well up on the leg would be necessary."

The commissioner is 63 years old. While fighting in the stockyards fire he suffered an injury to his right foot, but Dr. Moore said he did not think this was the cause of the present condition.

OXYGEN PUMPED INTO CHILD FAILS TO SAVE HER LIFE

While a father and mother stood anxiously by, an Evanston fire department inhalator squad under Lieut. James Geishecker labored in vain last night and early today to save the life of little Nancy Taylor, 7 years old, in her home at 2224 Lincolnwood drive, Evanston.

The little girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmber Taylor, had complained of a sore throat earlier in the evening. By 10 o'clock the pain had become so acute that Dr. H. O. Lussky and Dr. Lawrence J. Lawson were summoned. They found the child suffering from an acute attack of laryngitis.

They made an incision in the little girl's throat, inserted a rubber tubing, and through this the inhalator squad pumped oxygen. Despite all their efforts, however, the little girl died at 2:15 o'clock this morning.

BLONDELL BABY IN KIDNAP PROOF HOME NURSERY

She and her husband, George Barnes, film cameraman, built the nursery in their home. It has an intricate alarm system, ingenious windows, and other devices to foil possible kidnapers.

Drug to Extend Life Is Found, Says Scientist

Cleveland, O., Nov. 20.—(AP)—Human life can be lengthened, at least a little, Dr. Wilder D. Bancroft of Cornell predicted today before the National Academy of Sciences. That will be performed by the use of sodium rhodanate, which appears to reduce tendency to worry and to increase resistance to disease.

Tests of the drug thus far have been made on rabbits and chickens and in the treatment of human drug addicts.

Sodium phodanate in the case of rabbits and chickens at least, he said, reduced their nervous irritability, made them more healthy and able to resist disease.

Gain Largely Among Young.

"In the last 25 years," said Dr. Bancroft, "the probable length of human life has increased materially, thanks to medical science; but the change has been due very largely to a decrease in mortality among infants and children. The probable length of life of a man of forty-five has not been increased appreciably in the last quarter century.

Dr. Bancroft said he has been taking sodium rhodanate himself for two years as a cure for insomnia and as a prolonger of life. He accused the medical profession of discouraging grants of funds from scientific foundations to test the sodium rhodanate treatment, urging its use "on certain forms of alcoholism, insomnia and sciatica."

The medical profession, he added, "does not dare to make these tests because the results would show we are right."

New Blood Pressure Studies.

Dr. A. J. Carlson of the University of Chicago, said old men's lives are not worth prolonging unless the functions of the body are kept working well.

New experiments with the cause of high blood pressure were reported to the academy by Dr. Alan R. Moritz of Western Reserve university.

Some scientists have believed that high blood pressure resulted from the gradual thickening of the walls of blood vessels and arteries, giving the blood less room to flow, but Dr. Moritz says that is not the case.

Some people with high blood pressure do not have that thickening of vessel walls.

PLUMBER WINS AFTER SURGEONS ARE FAILURES

Boston, Mass., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—A city hospital plumber performed an operation today after doctors and nurses were balked in the treatment of a four year old Roxbury girl.

Little Mary Peters was the patient. She was hurried to the hospital from her home in Perch street, Roxbury, after her father found her screaming in pain. A metal washer was jammed on the third finger of her right hand; the finger was swelling rapidly.

Miss Celia Cooney, in charge of night nurses, and three surgeons failed to remove the washer.

A call was sent to the engineering department of the hospital. The hospital plumber responded with his tools—then ether was administered to Mary. The plumber sawed through one-sixteenth of an inch of the washer so it could be spread and removed.

'DRINKER' TAKES THE SILVER CUPS; ALL 25 OF THEM!

A pseudo drunkard with an eye for the rising price of silver was sought last night by Hyde Park police after five fraternity houses on the University of Chicago campus reported the theft of twenty-five silver trophy cups since Saturday afternoon.

All five chapter houses agree on the procedure of the agile thief. He feigns drunkenness, and stumbles into the house, where the brothers rally 'round, and minister to his wants. After they have gotten him back into shape, the "drunk" wanders out. A few hours later the disappearance of the cups is discovered.

The fraternities to be victimized were Phi Delta Theta, Kappa Sigma, Alpha T- 1 Omega, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and Phi Kappa Psi.

Robbed Twice; Hires Night Watch; Is Held Up in Day

Twice in three months burglars looted the second hand store of Max Fleischman at 16 South Jefferson street. They got clothing worth $600. After the second raid a month ago Fleischman hired a night watchman. Yesterday, before night and the watchman arrived, three robbers held up the store and took property worth $300. Until last August thieves ignored Fleishchman for thirty years.

Charges U. S. Twists Facts in Insull Trial

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Skies lightened for Samuel Insull and his sixteen fellow shipmates in the mail fraud trial yesterday afternoon, as Attorney Charles E. Lounsbury told the jurors in Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson's courtroom how all their acts in connection with the sale of Corporation Securities company stock had been honest acts and described the government prosecution as unwaranted and unfair.

The jurors did not appear as sleepy as on the previous afternoon, but this circumstance may have been due to the atmosphere of the courtroom. They are in for a siege of oratory and pleading that is likely to last all week. Seven defense attorneys remain to be heard and two for the government. A night session will be held this evening, but while Judge Wilkerson would like to place this case in the jury room by Saturday morning he probably will not be able to deliver his instructions until next Monday.

Seven More of Defense to Talk.

Mr. Lounsbury will finish his argument this morning and will be followed in order by John J. Healy, William H. Haight, Frederic Burnham, James G. Condon, Jay Fred Reeve, Harry Ditchburne, and Floyd E. Thompson, closing for the defense. Leslie E. Salter, special assistant to the federal attorney general, and United States Attorney Dwight H. Green will divide the rebuttal, which may start on Friday and end at noon Saturday. Adjournment would then be ordered over the week-end.

Harold Huling, head of the government's expert accounting staf, who was referred to as "the professor," "the brain truster and theorist" of the prosecution, came in for a major share of Mr. Lounsbury's attention yesterday. He credited Mr. Huling with being the man who had started all this trouble for Mr. Insull, and gave the following parable as illustrative of his idea of the two men:

"About sixty years ago, let us assume, a boy living in England wished to learn to be a seaman. He enlists in the mercantile marine and after a few years of experience becomes an able bodied seaman. He improves his spare time by studying navigation and gradually and slowly works up to a master's berth.

Takes Cargo of Great Worth.

"He is given command of a ship and through the years acquires a reputation for being one of the master navigators of the seven seas. He is given increasingly important commands until finally he is given a ship in 1929 which is known among navigators as the finest, stanchest ship afloat.

"Trusting in his skill and reputation built up through the years, you and I intrust to him a cargo of great worth. In making the passage he encounters a terrific storm, but he has encountered many storms before. He does not worry but takes command himself. He knows that his crew is faithful and that they have the experience in seamanship to help him fight off any gale.

"The storm continues to increase in intensity until finally the bridge is swept away. That is followed by almost the complete demolition of the entire superstructure of the vessel, but with the courage of a true seaman he fights on and on.

"The storm by this time has risen

SEIZE 5 IN BANK SWINDLE; DAVE BARRY QUIZZED

Otto Van Derck, 23 years old, 5022 North Parkside avenue, a poor but earnest bank clerk, hung around a saloon, fell into bad company, and helped defraud the bank of $54,000.

Then he fell in love and, desiring to have a clear record and a good name before getting married at Thanksgiving time, made a confession yesterday that resulted in four other persons being held for questioning about the alleged swindle plot. The four are:

JOSEPH BAIATA, 38 years old, part owner of a saloon at 112 West Madison street, who under the name of Joseph B. Marcino once served a term in a federal penitentiary for a $200,000 swindle.

DAVE [LONG COUNT] BARRY, 35 years old, 523 Melrose street, who refereed the Dempsey-Tunney fight here in 1927 and is titular head of two companies in which Baiata is the silent partner and manager. Among the company enterprises were the saloon and two concessions at the World's Fair.

Bank Stops $26,000 Checks.

The bank which employed Van Derck and from which the money was stolen, is the Amalgamated Trust and Savings at 111 West Jackson boulevard. Officials of the bank yesterday stopped $26,000 of checks alleged to have been put through as part of the plot.

These checks were all admittedly signed by Barry, whose balance in the bank was $2.97, and were countersigned by Baiata. There were two for $8,000 each and two for $5,000 each. All were drawn in favor of the Dave Barry, Inc., account in another bank, and were stopped after the Amalgamated bank had been warned of the plot through young Van Derck's confession.

Says Baiata Supplied Capital.

"I signed those four checks in blank," he declared. "I didn't know what the balance was nor what amounts they were to be written for. Baiata furnished the capital for the saloon, for the Chinese show on the Bowery at the World's Fair, and for the Hall of Champions, also at the Fair. So far as I knew it was Baiata's own money."

Barry denied ever having talked with Van Derck about putting through worthless checks, although he admitted having seen the young man around his saloon. Van Derck had asserted that both Barry and Baiata gave him advice on how to proceed.

Murray B. Karman, president, and Duane Swift, cashier, of the Amalgamated bank, said that a full examination had not been made, but that they doubted the peculations had reached $54,000. In any event, they added, the loss was fully protected by surety bonds.

All Prisoners Locked Up.

Assistant State's Attorney Vernon Thompson, after questioning the five prisoners last evening, ordered them all locked up in the detective bureau for the night. Van Derck and Ehlers, he said, apparently told all they knew of the alleged swindling operations. Karatz, who formerly practiced law in Minnesota, flatly refused to talk at all.

Baiata, Mr. Thompson said, adopted a smart, devil may care attitude and remarked that "nothing will be hung on anybody but me and the kid."

Young Van Derck, according to the bank officials, had always been regarded as a competent, hardworking employé. He went to a night school to learn accounting. His conscience overwhelmed him late Monday and he went to the Hartford Accident and Indemnity company to tell his sensational story. He was taken to the detective bureau and after he had been questioned there Lieut. Charles Welling sent out squads who seized Baiata and Karatz.

Story of Bank Clerk.

The story of Van Derck was substantially as follows:

"I first got acquainted with Baiata last April. He sent through an over-draft on the Dave Barry account and I protected it for him. He promised to make it good, but the money was never paid. Then I was in bad and he told me how to doctor the books. He knew all about how it should be done, and his system was so good that I got by in May when the bank examiners came around, although there was a $1,200 shortage then.

"The checks were put through another bank and they came to us through the clearing house. I disposed of the checks. But the thing was getting too fast for me. The checks were coming in amounts too big. I wasn't getting anything myself. Altogether they gave me one suit of clothes, $200, and some free beer and sandwiches in the saloon.

"When I protested that I had to have the money to make good to the bank, Baiata and Barry would sit me down at a round table in the bar and tell me they were going to put over some big deals and get plenty of money. Then everything would be O. K. and I'd have a $300 a month job and a lot of stock in an insurance company, they said.

"But they never gave me the cash."

Ehlers Tells Baiata Deals.

Ehlers told an intricate story of his dealings with Baiata. It indicated that the old financial wizard—Baiata served four years in prison for defrauding a Warren, Mass., bank of $213,000—had made plans to reach out ambitiously for the control of at least two financial institutions.

"For thirty years," Ehlers said, "I was in La Salle street, working in brokerage houses. But business has been bad and I was broke. I met Baiata in his saloon. He told me that a man of my experience would suit him perfectly, that he was going to buy a bank in Indianapolis."

Early last week, according to Ehlers, he, with Baiata, Karatz, and Hayden Sanders, who is now treasurer of the Abraham Lincoln Life Insurance company of Springfield, Ill., went to Indianapolis and conducted negotiations for the purchase of a bank.

"We came back to Chicago," he continued. "The W. W. Ehlers Investment company was formed.

First Job Is Cashing Check.

"The first task I got was to cash a check for $25,000, signed by the Abraham Lincoln Life Insurance company on its account in the Amalgamated Trust and Savings bank. I understood the check was to pay for bonds that were sold to the insurance company."

The check, according to the Amalgamated bank officials, was properly signed, and the company had a deposit of more than $50,000. But because Ehlers was not sufficiently identified, the cash was not turned over to him. Instead he got a draft, which would be cashable through any bank that would recognize Ehlers.

Ehlers conferred with his backers and an effort was made to send the draft back through a St. Paul bank. That effort failed and yesterday morning the draft was given to Ehlers and he was told to take it back to the Amalgamated bank and have it placed to the credit of the insurance company. He was seized in the bank.

Reports Company Purchased.

According to Van Derck, he was told by Baiata and Karatz that they had purchased the Abraham Lincoln Life Insurance company about eight weeks ago and that they had put in Gustav Lindquist, former state insurance commissioner of Minnesota, as president and Hayden Sanders as treasurer.

Ernest Palmer, Illinois state insurance director, said that Lindquist was the only buyer, officially, but that he learned Baiata and Karatz had investigated the purchase of the company and had talked about the worth of its assets.

Lindquist paid $25,000 on Nov. 1 and was to pay $25,000 more on the 15th, but was granted an extension until yesterday. The old owners, who had sold to Lindquist for a total of about $400,000, informed Mr. Palmer the payment was not met. Lindquist and Sanders were not located last night.

Sanders Former Bank Employé.

Sanders, it was learned, was formerly an assistant cashier at the Amalgamated bank. He left there voluntarily in March, 1933, and was later a bookkeeper in a loop café. Van Derck told of being taken to the café by Baiata and of talking to Sanders there. This was before Sanders had been made an insurance company officer.

From Minnesota sources it was learned that Lindquist had a good reputation as a business man and that he was once secretary to former Gov. J. A. A. Burnquist. He was a figure in Republican politics in St. Paul about eighteen years ago. Karatz is a graduate of the University of Minnesota.

T-N-T WITNESS TELLS OF PAYING FEE FOR CITY JOB

Testimony that a trucking company paid a $10 daily fee for each of its vehicles hired by the city was given yesterday in the trial of 15 business men and labor officials who are charged with racketeering conspiracy through the Trucking and Transportation exchange [T-N-T] and two alleged affiliates.

The testimony was given by William E. Izard, 5255 Belle Plaine avenue, secretary treasurer of the Elston Trucking company. He occupied the stand as a state's witness throughout yesterday afternoon's session of the trial in the Criminal court of Judge William V. Brothers.

Izard said that he paid the fees to Arthur Barrett during part of 1931, 1932, and part of 1933. In all, he said, he made payments totaling $640. Barrett, suspected by the prosecution of being an official of the T-N-T, has so far been identified in the trial only as a hanger-on at T-N-T headquarters.

Tells of T-N-T Offer.

Izard testified that he was first approached by Charles J. Wilson, secretary-treasurer of the T-N-T, one of the defendants. Wilson called him on the telephone, Izard said, and invited him to the T-N-T headquarters.

"Wilson asked me if I wanted to put some trucks to work for the city," Izard went on in reply to a question by Assistant State's Attorney Donald Thompson. "I told him I did and he said it would cost $10 a day for a truck. I told him all right and put two trucks to work."

The matter was dropped at this point, except it was shown that the city paid the trucking company $37.50 a day for the trucks, which hauled asphalt. No effort was made to show through whom Barrett or Wilson exercised influence to get the city work.

Seeks to Show Coercion.

Earlier in the day the prosecution tried in vain to connect Izard's testimony with the state's charge that illegal coercion was brought to bear on contractors to force them into line with Associated Contractors, Inc., and the Engineering Service corporation, alleged affiliates of the T-N-T.

Izard testified that his company was awarded a black dirt contract by the Lincoln park board. Although the contract called for 50,000 to 75,000 cubic yards of dirt, he delivered more than 100,000 yards at $1.65 a yard, he said. Soon after his company was awarded the contract, Izard said, he and R. D. McLean, president of the concern, went to see John Bransfield, contractor, and John P. Steffin, secretary of both the Associated Contractors and the Engineering Service corporation. Both Bransfield and Steffin are defendants.

"We talked to Bransfield and Steffin," said Izard. "They told us of a charge of 25 cents a cubic yard which was to be paid to Engineering Service. Mr. McLean said the job would not stand a 25 cent charge. He asked me if it would stand a dime charge and I said it would."

$6,560 to Engineering Service.

Izard said his company was asked to withdraw its bid for the park job but refused. It did make a payment of $6,560 to Engineering Service, he testified.

Q. [by the court]—Was that money in payment for services performed.

A.—It was listed as an engineering service charge.

Q.—Were any services performed?

A.—No.

The prosecution tried to show that Izard's company took as a partner on the contract Ben Brautigan, excavating contractor, member of Associated Contractors and Engineering Service. This, prosecutors said, would connect with previous testimony given by August Jarnecke, Des Plaines excavator, who said he was told by Steffin to withdraw his bid on the park job because it was "all set for Brautigan."

Izard, however, did not give the connecting testimony. He will be cross-examined by the defense today.

U. S. AGENTS SEEK KIDNAPERS OF RICH CAFE MAN

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—A belated search for William Weiss, wealthy local night life figure, and café owner whose family kept his kidnaping a secret from authorities for more than three weeks, was being made today by United States department of justice agents.

The first information authorities had of the abduction came on Sunday night. Members of Weiss' family then notified federal operatives that the night club owner has been missing since Oct. 26.

The agents were told Weiss was kidnaped, apparently by underworld characters, from his luxurious suburban home and that half a dozen ransom notes, containing demands for $100,000 on threats of killing the victim, had been received by the family.

Philadelphia police have taken no action in the case inasmuch as Weiss' two and a half story colonial house, where he resided with his wife and three small children, is in Overton Hills just outside the city limits.

The 18,000 teachers and other employés of the Chicago school system received yesterday checks totaling $1,988,000 as their pay for the first two weeks of November.

Money for the pay day was derived from two sales of tax warants totaling $4,501,000 completed by the board of education last week, according to James B. McCahey, president of the board. A purchase of $3,501,000 was made by a syndicate of loop bankers, and a similar syndicate of brokers bought $1,000,000 warants.

The warant sales, Mr. McCahey said, are in keeping with the board's promise last August to meet pay rolls regularly. At that time all arrearages in school salaries were paid by means of a Reconstruction Finance corporation loan.

Mrs. Primack charged she permanently injured herself when she slipped on the bean pod on the floor of the store several weeks ago.

Approached in Fascist Scheme, He Says.

"He told me he believed that at least half of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars would follow me.

"MacGuire explained to me that they had two other candidates for the position of 'Man on the White Horse.' He said that if I did not accept an offer would be made to Gen. Douglas MacArthur, chief of staf of the United States army, whose term of office expires Nov. 22, and that the third choice would be Hanford MacNider, former commander of the American Legion.

"Mentioned as Alternates."

"So far as I know, neither Gen MacArthur nor MacNider has been approached. Their names were merely mentioned as 'alternates.'

"This conversation I had with MacGuire at the Bellevue-Stratford had been preceded by others in which he spoke chiefly of swinging the American Legion national convention into line for retention of the gold standard. One of those conversations was in a hotel in Newark, N. J., when I was attending a reunion of the 29th division.

"At that time MacGuire came into my hotel room, pulled out a worn wallet, and started to toss thousand dollar bills on the bed. I asked him what the hell that was for and he told me it was to pay my expenses to Chicago to make a speech in favor of the gold standard.

"You know damn well it doesn't cost $18,000 to go to Chicago," I told him.

"Don't Be a Fool, General."

"'Don't be a fool, general,' he told me. 'Why don't you do like Harbord and Sims did and make some money out of it? The government doesn't take care of you, so why don't you act like a business man?'

"I told him to pick up the money before somebody came in. I then suggested that one of the men who were providing all these thousand dollar bills come and see me so I would know who was back of it all.

"'Murphy is in Europe,' he told me, 'but I'll have Col. Clark [Robert Sterling Clark, wealthy New Yorker with offices in the Stock Exchange building] come to Newton square on Sunday!

"Clark called me on Saturday from New York and reminded me that we had served together in China in the Boxer trouble in 1900. He told me he would like to come and see me and discuss old times.

Tells of Clark's Call.

"Clark came to my home the following day and offered me money to go to Chicago to make the speech on the gold standard which MacGuire had previously given me. MacGuire told me he wrote the speech, but Clark said that John W. Davis, Democratic presidential candidate in 1924, had written it. After we discussed the proposition for a few minutes, I told Clark he ought to be ashamed to come into a man's home and try to bribe him."

Gen. Butler explained that he had sat in at five different conferences with MacGuire. He said the first time MacGuire saw him he brought a man named Doyle, described as a wounded veteran. He said that MacGuire and Doyle drove up to Butler's home in a limousine and that on the occasion of that visit MacGuire showed the general a bank book with deposits of $64,000 and said that was "to take care of my expenses to the American Legion convention."

Asks About Backers.

"At the time he told me he had received donations from six men, including Clark and Murphy, which he said were to be placed in his account to cover 'necessary' expenses at the Chicago convention.

"Several months later, when I asked MacGuire who was backing his movement to set up a dictatorship, he said: 'The same people that financed the Chicago propaganda.'"

"At all times," said the general, "I refused to accept any money from any of these men. I told the leaders of this Fascist movement that I wasn't interested in Fascism or in any other ism, and that I wouldn't consider any such proposition.

"The whole affair smacked of treason to me."

Plans for Hearing.

"From present indications," said Dickstein, "Butler has the evidence. He's not going to make any serious charges unless he has something to back them up. We'll have men here with bigger names than his."

Dickstein said that about sixteen persons mentioned by Gen. Butler to the committee would be subpenaed and that a public hearing might be held Monday. Mr. MacGuire was directed to reappear before the committee tomorrow afternoon.

PLACED ON TRIAL

HARRY SIEGEL.

IMPANEL 'DEATH JURY' FOR ARSON MURDER TRIAL

Crippled Victim's Sister Tells of Fire.

A jury qualified to inflict the death penalty was completed yesterday in the court of Judge Walter LaBuy to try Harry Siegel, 47 years old, a public insurance adjuster, on a charge of murder by arson.

The murder charge against Siegel grew out of the investigation of State's Attorney Courtney which uncovered the "million dollar arson ring" in Chicago. Joseph Pecori, 17 years old, a cripple, met his death in a fire in a four story building at 1200 Taylor street on Aug. 11, 1928.

Indicted with Siegel for the crime are Mrs. Bertha Warshovsky, a grandmother and so-called arson queen, Thomas Falone, who operated a butcher shop in the building, and Harry Brown fugitive insurance adjuster.

"Arson Queen" Gets Severance.

Mrs. Warshovsky and Falone, who is said to have started a successful string of markets with the $11,200 in insurance money he obtained from the fire, have been granted severances and will testify for the state.

Following selection of a jury yesterday, Miss Lucy Pecori, 18 years old, sister of the dead youth, took the stand as the first witness for the state. Miss Pecori, who now lives at 809 South Ashland avenue, told the jurors that she was awakened by a terrific explosion which was followed by flames on the night her brother was killed.

Woman Saved by Firemen.

She was unsuccessful in her attempts to escape from the second floor apartment, she said, because the fire escape was red hot. She returned to the apartment for her shoes, the witness said. Then finding her escape barred by a solid wall of flames, she waited at the window until she was rescued by firemen.

The state charges that Siegel, after serving as an adjuster in an accidental fire in Falone's butcher shop, inquired why the market owner "didn't have a good fire?". Falone agreed, according to the state and obtained the services of Mrs. Warshovsky who set the fire. Six squads from the detective bureau were unsuccessful Monday night in a last minute effort to find Brown in time for the trial.

GOV. TALMADGE FINDS NEW DEAL MOSTLY MAGIC

Calls It as Illusory as Strange Georgia Hill.

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Warm Springs, Ga., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—Gov. Eugene Talmadge of Georgia rode over Magic hill, his state's far famed optical illusion, this afternoon to loose a blast against many phases of the alphabetical recovery program at the little White House in the Georgia pines.

GOV. EUGENE TALMADGE.

Beating dust from his clothing on his arrival, the governor announced he was considering rechristening the phenomenal bump "New Deal hill." He said both the hill and the New Deal give the illusion of going up when in reality they are going down.

The hill, which is about six miles east of President Roosevelt's haven of rest, is traversed by a winding red clay road. It appears to have a downward grade of 8 per cent, but bearings taken by surveyors have disclosed an upward grade of about that degree.

Travel "Down" Under Power.

Natives amuse tourists by taking them through the scrawny countryside to the hill. There the motorist is instructed to go "down" the hill and finds he must do so under power. At the "foot" of the slope he is told to shut off his engine, put his car into neutral, and finds to his astonishment that it rolls "uphill."

"And we have a river in these parts with 'rubber rocks' like the rubber dollar," Gov. Talmadge said. "All the New Dealers ought to visit these parallels of nature to their handiwork."

The governor said President Roosevelt should ride about the countryside to get the reaction of Georgia farmers and business men to the New Deal. Such a tour would reveal the New Deal is not working in his state, Talmadge said.

Assails Bankhead Bill.

He attacked the NRA, the Bankhead cotton control bill and relief administration policies. He added he had no criticism of the President's motive, which he described as pure as the "driven snow," although he said snow is rare in Georgia.

"I want to help—I want to see real recovery," he declared. "It is my duty to speak out on these subjects. It is the duty of every other governor in the United States. I want to see every one wanting to support the government rather than having the government support them."

Six Others Praise Policies.

Gov. Talmadge was out voted by six other governors who accompanied him to pay their respects to the President. The governors of North and South Carolina, Virginia, Florida, Alabama, and Tennessee voiced praise of the administration. They declared their states were on the road to recovery as a result of the New Deal, and had no complaints to present.

The President in his conference with the governors suggested a closer liaison between federal government and state in working out mutual problems. He discussed particularly unemployment insurance and relief. Although he said the federal programs for relief and unemployment insurance have not yet been developed, he promised to take them up with the governors individually upon completion. He pleaded for state follow through unemployment insurance legislation to augment that which may be passed by congress.

CONTROLER BARS CASH FOR FERA HOUSING PLANS

Finds Relief Not of an 'Emergency' Nature.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—Controler General John R. McCarl ruled today that there is no foundation in law for the type of housing being carried on by Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins in the rural-industrial program. The FERA already has under way a program of "rehabilitating" 80,000 farm families in homes and on land to be sold to them by the government.

The controler general turned down an initial check of $393,484 from Administrator Hopkins to the officials of the District of Columbia, which was to have started work on a three unit housing development to cost about 7 million 800 thousand dollars. Mr. McCarl held that the federal emergency relief act, providing for the granting of funds for various relief purposes, could not apply to the acquisition of real estate and the construction of homes. This type of activity, he said, would be of a permanent and not an emergency nature, and the act was adopted to meet emergencies.

Hopkins, for almost a year, has been acquiring land, chiefly in the south, and building houses on it for destitute farmers. The families are permitted to lease the houses until the end of next year, at which time they may buy them from the government. Enough cash is advanced to enable the farmer to buy a work animal and such tools as he needs, and he is expected to pay this back, together with rent or instalments on his farm, from products that he furnishes to relief centers, such as canned goods and vegetables.

In addition to the individual farm rehabilitation scheme, the FERA has a program of developing rural-industrial communities of 150 to 500 families. The government buys the land and builds the houses. The families rent them and receive options to purchase later. Each family is allotted a few acres of ground to cultivate. Three such projects have already been completed and President Roosevelt has heartily approved the type of work.

PWA Has Similar Plans.

This provision referred to by Mr. McCarl is that part of the NIRA creating the public works administrations and its low cost housing subdivision. Under this provision PWA Administrator Harold L. Ickes is carrying out a 150 million dollar housing program and has said that he could use a billion and a half or 2 billion dollars.

This type of housing is in cities, while Hopkins' program involves rural areas. He hopes that small industries will develop around his federal communities and provide an opportunity for the householders to earn part of their subsistence in this manner.

HUSBAND CHARGES WIFE SIGNALS LOVER BY SNORES; SHE SUES

Spokane, Wash., Nov. 20.—(AP)—Telegraphic messages transmitted by a wife to "someone outside" by means of snores was charged in a Superior court divorce case here today.

Mrs. Lloyd B. Copley, a telegraph operator, was suing. She said her husband accused her not only of flagrant snoring, but of communicating with outsiders.

"I know I snore," Mrs. Copley testified, "but when I was sleeping my husband thought I was snoring in Morse code to signal someone outside."

Then, she testified, "he pounced on me with all fours, blackened my eyes and otherwise beat me."

OWNER OF BOATS USED IN $427,000 ROBBERY IS HELD

New York, Nov. 20.—[Special.]—Thomas Quinn, described as a former west side rum runner, who admits ownership of the two speed boats used in the $427,000 robbery of an armored truck in Brooklyn last August, was held today as a material witness.

Police admitted that the case had been "broken" and that the roundup of the gang of bandits who staged the robbery with unprecedented daring and skill would be only a matter of days.

Quinn, whose name had been mentioned frequently during the police investigation, disappeared three days after the robbery. Later he was found and placed under surveillance, and on Friday he was detained for questioning.

Today he was arraigned before County Judge Alonzo G. McLaughlin in Brooklyn as a material witness and was held in $50,000 bail after admitting in court he owned the boats. The police informed the court that he had given them "valuable information."

EXPECT REVENUE OF CITY TO DROP NEARLY MILLION

Officials at the city hall yesterday estimated that the revenue for the city government would be $871,000 less for 1935 than it was this year. The tentative budget will be turned over to the council finance committee by City Controler Upham by Dec. 3.

A reduced valuation for 1933, which has not yet been announced, is expected to shrink the city's resources. Working on the basis of a $2,400,000,000 valuation, officials calculated that the taxes for 1935 would be $27,864,000 in contrast with $28,735,000 for 1934.

INDUSTRY TAKES UP NEW STEPS TO BACK ROOSEVELT

Chamber Ready with Long Time Land Program.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—The widely heralded new cooperation between the Roosevelt administration and the business interests was again to the fore in the events of today in Washington.

Harmonious relations were reestablished between the federal reserve board and its advisory council of big bankers, which last month comprehensively condemned the financial and economic policies of the administration as unsound.

At the same time, following up its announcement of coöperation with the President, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States made public today proposals for "a long time national land policy," which coincides essentially with the Roosevelt program.

Not Reserve Board's Business.

The banking harmony was reëstablished with a bludgeon wielded by the new governor of the reserve board, Marriner S. Eccles. He gave the members of the advisory council to understand in no uncertain terms that, in his view, the balancing of the budget, stabilization of the dollar, and other matters on which they condemned the administration in their October statement are wholly outside the jurisdiction of the reserve board and hence not proper subjects of advice by the advisory council.

Mr. Eccles also objected to the action of the council in making public the critical statement before submitting it to the board. From talks with the members of the council he satisfied himself that annoyance to the administration will not occur again. It was said he gained his point by the use of much forceful language but without resort to threats of such discipline as is within the power of the administration through the control of numerous large banks by the RFC.

But They Keep to Opinion.

As to the members of the council it appears that while they made peace with the new governor they have not recanted their views that the financial and economic foundations of the New Deal are unsound.

Taxed with the reports of the use of strong arm methods, Mr. Eccles evaded a direct answer.

"The federal advisory council," he said, "has been meeting here for the last two days in accordance with its custom of meeting ever so often. In their conferences with the board we discussed questions of general business and of banking conditions. The meetings of the two bodies were held in a spirit of complete harmony and coöperation.

"The press and the public have raised the question of coöperation between the board and this council. As far as the new governor is concerned he feels that he has the support and confidence of this council. I am sure the board feels the same way. I have got off to that sort of a start anyway."

Adopts a "Resolution."

The council adopted only one resolution, a brief one setting forth in very general terms the council's views on the board's forthcoming regulation of bank loans secured by stocks and bonds. One official said the council's resolution was so general as to be "meaningless."

The Chamber of Commerce put forward these three general proposals to bring about an adjustment of agricultural production to demand:

"International negotiations to stimulate exports on a sound basis should give adequate consideration to agricultural products.

"Research in the field of industrial uses of farm and forest crops should have adequate federal and state support.

"The federal government and the states, in coöperation with private owners, should develop a program for removing from agricultural use as much as is feasible of the land on which the production of crops is ordinarily unprofitable and for discouraging the expansion of agricultural land beyond the effective demand for the production therefrom."

Holds States Should Aid.

The removal of submarginal land from cultivation is a major tenet of the Roosevelt land policy. While indorsing this project in principle, the chamber takes the position that it should not be exclusively a federal undertaking. It also calls for greater coöperation between federal and state governments and private owners in soil erosion prevention and other land utilization activities.

The 25 million dollars the President allocated to the withdrawal of submarginal lands from cultivation is being expended by Secretary of the Interior Ickes and Relief Administrator Harry Hopkins. The chamber thinks it would be better to place these and other land utilization activities all under the department of agriculture.

PARDON MOONEY AS BLOW TO REDS, IS MOLEY'S PLEA

New York, Nov. 20.—[Special.]—A pardon for Tom Mooney in order to destroy his "martyr" value and to deprive radicals and communists of the issue of "a serious charge of injustice" is urged by Raymond Moley, editor of Today, in an open letter to Gov. Frank F. Merriam of California.

Asserting that liberals throughout the country are gratified at the defeat of "the dangerous doctrines of Upton Sinclair," Mr. Moley says that consideration of the Mooney case by Gov. Merriam, in accordance with his promise during the campaign, "would further advance the cause of liberalism."

"Certainly it would be a blow to radicalism," he writes. He believes Mooney's trial was tainted with perjury.

"I am quite familiar with the reasons that lie beneath the vast legal technicalities which, up to this time, have kept Mooney a prisoner." He writes. "These reasons were reduced to the barest terms by a lawyer . . . who told me that even though the trial of Mooney for the bombings in July 22, 1916, might have been a miscarriage of justice, the real fact was that Mooney was a menace to the peace and order of the state—a bad man—that it was the part of wisdom to keep such a man out of mischief.

"I am not disputing this estimate of Mooney. I have no illusions about his past views or actions, and I am not moved by sympathy for him as an individual. But it is not the function of our courts to convict men because of their generalized opinions or activities, and the trial and conviction of Mooney for a specific crime were unjust."

COUGHLIN UNION TO BE FRANKLY A LOBBY, HE SAYS

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 20.—(AP)—The Rev. Father Charles E. Coughlin asserted flatly at a press conference this morning that his National Union for Social Justice, which, he said, now has "well over 100,000 members," will be "a direct, up and aboveboard lobby" in Washington.

By the time congress convenes, he said, the membership will have been segregated by congressional districts. The union's lobbyists, he said, will approach individual members of congress and say "we want this and here are the names of the persons who support this program."

Father Coughlin also disclosed that he and Senator Elmer Thomas [Dem., Okla.], a leading inflationist, conferred yesterday and would go together tomorrow to Washington. They announced last night they would work for "further expansion of the currency" and for ultimate stabilization of the dollar at 100 cents, which they said was the 1926 level.

He also said that one of the principal reasons for formation of his "union" was his belief that results of the November elections carried a threat to representative government and that he feared "the beginning of a dictatorship."

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 20.—(AP)—A 25 per cent salary cut for city employés here was in effect today. The reduction was expected to extend from Nov. 15 to April 30, and was decided upon last night by the city council.

FACT DISTORTION BY U. S. CHARGED IN INSULL TRIAL

Court Will Sit Tonight to Speed Case.

to almost cyclonic proportions and finally his stanch vessel begins to leak. But it is only at the last moment that he abandons the ship.

"The public hears of the loss of the vessel, and having a great personal interest in its cargo is terribly upset and demands an investigation. It overlooks the fact that hundreds of other craft have perished in the storm and concentrates only upon the fact that its dollars have disappeared.

"A search is made for a person to make the investigation and a young man is selected who once took a correspondence course in navigation and whose practical experience has been limited to rowing a boat up and down Lincoln park lagoon. He is given a crew of boys who have painted rowboats and they start out. This young investigator for the first time beholds the sea.

A Postmortem on a Wave.

"The day is calm and he and his boat painters row out to the treacherous rocks, which spelled the death of the once proud ship. And sitting out there on the calm sea, the sun shining beautifully overhead, the sea gulls wheeling about in the clear air, he draws a chart to show that this was not really rough and that if there had been a wave the captain should have gotten off the boat and pushed it right around the wave. He draws a picture of his wave upon his chart. When asked later about the other waves that constituted this terrific storm, the fog, the unseen rocks, the loss of other craft, he shrugs his shoulders and with a smirk replies: 'They had absolutely nothing to do with this wave I had in mind'."

The crux of the whole case, the defense attorney argued, is the difference in accounting principles as expounded by Mr. Huling and the principles used by the certified public accountants in the Insull company.

A Question of Bookkeeping.

"Ask yourselves," he suggested, "whether you would put such men as these [indicating the rows of defendants, including Stanley Field, Harold and Charles B. Stuart]—these men that you have seen for weeks—in a federal prison because their accounting methods do not agree with Prof. Huling?"

Mr. Salter arose with an objection to any argument on punishment.

"The jury has nothing to do with the punishment. That is for the court," Judge Wilkerson agreed.

Mr. Lounsbury was polite to the government prosecutors, preferring to regard them as well meaning but misinformed men who were just doing their job, but he sought to leave the impression with the jurors that the government had been extremely unfair in this case. In one instance he used the term "mentally dishonest." He launched into another argument in which the financial acts of the Franklin D. Roosevelt administration were summarized.

Cites Policies of U. S.

"When you are considering a question of intent," he said, "which is all controling in a case like this, I want you to consider that in times of panic and depression it is necessary to do many things which would not ordinarily be done.

"No one would have the temerity to accuse our government itself of doing things calculated to deceive, even though individuals in the employ of that government may overstep and misuse their brief authority. And our government itself during these troublous times has done much to meet the crisis, acting, of course, in the best of faith. Among those things which it has done are: First, it has refused to be bound by its promise to pay its own obligations in gold. Second, it has refused to be bound by its own contracts defining the amount of gold or its equivalent payable under its obligations. Third, it has repudiated outstanding safekeeping receipts, as represented by the gold certificates, formerly used for money, which stated on their face that upon the demand of the bearer the fixed quantity of gold held in safekeeping would be delivered against the surrender of the gold certificates. Fourth, it has manipulated the price of gold without disclosing what ultimate gold value might be attached to the dollar, for the express purpose of influencing all prices quoted in dollars.

Acts Done Under Compulsion.

"And it is a fact, of course, that persons affected by these changes understood that such things could not be done.

"These defendants, too, were forced by identical circumstances to reacquire their stocks—to pledge collateral with banks—in a vain but honest effort to save their stockholders. Fraud cannot be based or predicated upon acts compelled by circumstances, either against government officials acting for us all or against these defendants who acted for all stockholders."

In behalf of his particular clients, the two Stuarts, C. T. MacNeille and Frank K. Shrader, Mr. Lounsbury said it was a peculiar scheme to defraud into which men put their own money and refused to take profits that came along. He cited the refusal of the Stuarts to make $12,000,000 when they might have unloaded stock at this profit. Another time, he said, they might have made $15,000,000 instead of taking $3,500,000.

Finds None Who Profited.

He told of the sums these men had invested, Mr. MacNeille, $375,000; H. L. Stuart, $75,000; C. B. Stuart, $700,000; Mr. Shrader, $450,000. It was all lost, all went down with the Insull ship, he said.

"If this was a scheme to defraud, wouldn't you think that somewhere along the line they would find at least one man who made a dollar?"

CLOSE U. S. SUMMATION

In closing the government's summation, which had begun Monday afternoon, Forest A. Harness, special assistant to the United States attorney general, enumerated the pars which he alleged the individual defendants played in the putative scheme to defraud.

"We have shown that Samuel Insull and his son, Samuel Jr., the two Stuarts, Shrader, MacNeille, Clarence W. Sills, and John F. O'Keefe were officers or directors of Corporation Securities from the beginning, Harness asserted. "Philip J. McEnroe, Stanley Field, and Edward J. Doyle joined as officers or directors shortly after the organization. Waldo F. Tobey was connected with the scheme from the beginning, acting as counsel for some of the defandants, approving consolidations and circulars, and attending meetings of the executive committee of Corporation Securities and the directors of Utility Investments.

"Charles R. Whitworth was the auditor who certified to the financial statements and annual reports of the company for 1929 and 1930. Fred H. Scheel, Robert W. Waite, Frank R. Evers, and George A. Kemp were officers of Utilities Securities [marketing concern for Corporation Securities] and made it possible for their associates to carry out this gigantic scheme to defraud the public.

Charges Proved, He Declares.

"It is possible that some of these defendants did not know just what the others were doing in furthering the scheme, but each had his part to play and each played it. The court will instruct you jurors that under the law and the charges of the indictment the United States is required to prove only that a scheme was devised and intended to defraud the public and that the mail was used in the furtherance of that scheme.

"But we have gone further than that and proved that these defendants not only devised the scheme to defraud but that they actually carried it out and defrauded the public of more than $114,000,000.

"By your verdict you can say to the public that men such as Stanley Field and Edward J. Doyle, two outstanding financiers in the company, who were held in the highest esteem, cannot lend their names and their support to a corporation that is engaged in the execution of a fraudulent scheme by becoming members of the board of directors or mere figureheads or window dressers, and say they did not know what was going on.

Demands Protection for Public.

"We have proved a case against all the defendants. It is time that such practices as they engaged in should be stopped and the public be protected."

Earlier, Prosecutor Harness had talked on the specific evidence presented by the government in relation to the 25 counts of the indictment. He said that Corporation Securities had falsely represented its earnings and the contents of its portfolio in order to sell its stock to the public. He touched again on a chart introduced in evidence by the government to show, according to its theory, that the Insull companies "pyramided" a $10 stock dividend to $518.

"The defendants," he said, "rigged the market by wash sales in order to sell the stock to the small fellow. There was nothing honorable, nothing decent, nothing fair about such a practice. Late in 1931 when the public was buying at the market price the stock was worthless. The company was insolvent.

"In 1930 Arthur Young & Co., accountants, had written Insull on the proper manner of auditing his books. He did not follow their recommendations and the accountants turned about in his favor. He had his mind made up—it was a case of the master overruling."

MAY AVOID RENEWED LITIGATION ABOUT GLORIA VANDERBILT

New York, Nov. 20.—[Special.]—Supreme Court Justice John F. Carew arrived at his chambers an hour early today to study the two custody orders in which opposing counsel have sought to outline the pattern of 10 year old Gloria Vanderbilt's future life. It was said his ruling would attempt a clause to prevent further litigation over the child.

Justice Carew disclosed he had signed a preliminary order formally making George W. Wickersham and Thomas B. Gilchrist, co-guardians of Gloria's $3,000,000 estate, parties to the current proceedings "for the better enforcement of the decree to be entered."

Although the justice insisted that this was a routine order there was talk that it presaged an effort by the guardians to get a reduction in the allowance of $1,000 a month that now goes to Mrs. Vanderbilt.

U. S. WILL SEND WAR DEBT NOTES TO 12 NATIONS

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—(AP)—The United States today went through its formal but idle semi-annual practice of drafting "please remit" notes to European war debtors—a gesture that will bring in only a fraction of 1 per cent of the 13 billion dollars owed.

Formal communications will be dispatched soon to ambassadors and ministers of 12 European nations, notifying them that Dec. 15 they will owe the United States treasury $630,122,354.35. Of that total $154,729,976 is in principal and interest payments becoming due on that date, and the remainder represents unpaid arrears.

Debtors are to be dunned as follows: Great Britain, $379,461,776; France $163,616,843; Italy, $30,570,196; Poland, $22,972,909; Belgium, $21,628,360; Czechoslovakia, $6,118,514; Rumania, $2,346,250; Latvia, $642,028; Lithuania, $490,501; Estonia, $1,844,185; Hungary, $202,249, and Finland, $228,538.

ROB STORE EMPLOYES OF $543.

Abram Zarek, 4609 North Kimball avenue, and Lawrence Swanson, 3442 Seminary avenue, employes of the Blue department store, 1055 Belmont avenue, were halted at 1125 Barry avenue yesterday by three gunmen who robbed them of $543 they had just drawn from a bank.

HALTS PUBLICATION OF JERSEY NEWSPAPER IN EDITORIAL STRIKE

Newark, N. J., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—The Newark Ledger will not be published tomorrow, L. T. Russel, publisher, announced tonight. Editorial members of the Ledger staf who are members of the Newark Newspaper guild have been on strike since Saturday, and Mr. Russell declined to accept terms of a contract offered by the guild as the settlement basis.

Mr. Russell said he would not deal directly with guild representatives any longer, "because we are as far apart as the poles," but that he would accept any board of arbitration suggested by the guild. He charged that the guild flatly had refused to arbitrate.

"We can get out a newspaper, but we are voluntarily withholding publication," he said. "Heywood Broun is coming here tonight to address a meeting of newsdealers to urge them to join the guild in striking against the Ledger. That, together with the strikers' activities, is causing us not to publish tonight."

HIGH SCHOOL BOY HELD AS SLUGGER OF NINE CO-EDS

Boulder, Colo., Nov. 20.—(AP)—Chief of Police R. C. Prater said tonight an 18 year old Boulder High school student, held in the city jail, has been named as the "fantom slugger" who attacked co-eds of the University of Colorado here last month.

The youth, Jack Churches, was arrested yesterday for investigation in connection with the theft of a radio. Prater said he fitted the descriptions of the assailant. Nine girls were beaten by the mysterious slugger on or near the campus between Oct. 12 and Oct. 27.

Prater said the youth admitted the sluggings, saying he derived pleasure from "hearing the girls squeal."

Attorney Reports Theft of Bag Valued at $1,200

Attorney B. I. Salinger reported to the police yesterday that a mesh bag valued at $1,200 had been stolen from his room at the Ambassador hotel, 1300 North State street. Salinger said the bag was intrusted to him by a friend, Mrs. Sylvia Beck, who asked him to sell it in New York.

STUDENTS ROUT POLICE IN RIOT AT N. Y. COLLEGE

Strikers Burn School Head in Effigy.

New York, Nov. 20.—[Special.]—A band of shrill voiced undergraduates on "strike" at City college today burned President Frederick B. Robinson in effigy, routed a score of police, stormed the flagpole for a forbidden meeting, and raised merry Ned for more than three hours.

They demonstrated against Mussolini and Dr. Robinson, heaping scorn on the former and demanding that the college head be "ousted" for expelling twenty-one students after an anti-Mussolini outburst last Oct. 9.

Banner Shatters Peace.

The college peace was shattered early in the day with the discovery that an impudent blue banner, bearing the device "Strike" in white letters, had been raised during the night to the 50 foot peak of the flagstaf.

With Dr. Robinson ill in bed at Mount Sinai hospital, the faculty proved no more effective against the organized remonstrance than the police, who, uncertain of their status, and forbidden nightsticks, retreated before outnumbering hosts and the tumultuous chant:

"No cops on the campus!"

Eight undergraduates, arms locked about a lamp post outside the administration building, sounded the tocsin that inaugurated the push on the police. Fists flew. Police shoved, students shoved. The police retreated.

Threaten Repeated Riots.

This was soon after 11 o'clock. An hour and a half later, after a parade that disturbed classes and the whole neighborhood, the mob hoisted Dr. Robinson's effigy to a fence and touched a match to it. The effigy had two heads and four arms.

The demonstration broke up for today—its managers declaring they would repeat it daily until Dr. Robinson departs his office—with the call by fifteen Columbia undergraduates upon Dean Morton Gottschall.

MUST HAVE BEEN SIX OTHER GUYS IN 7TH HEAVEN

But Harry Can't Keep the Pace They Set.

Rockford, Ill., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—When Harry La Parr, thirteen months ago, became the seventh husband of Mrs. Hilda Nelson Johnson Klingstrom Johnson [he repeated] Pyzos Paulpaulos Ek, 42, he thought he was in seventh heaven.

Something must have happened.

For today Harry filed an answer and cross bill charging cruelty to a divorce bill of Mrs. Hilda Larson, [nee] Nelson [Axel], Johnson [Emil], Klingstrom [Ed], Johnson [he's in again], Pyzos [S.], Paulpaulos [Paul], Ek [Frank], also specifying cruelty. He denied her charges but didn't spend much time on it. He hastened to his own.

The sort of cruelty Harry alleged was mostly of the mental kind, although he admitted being chased out of the house a couple of times. Translated freely from the legal verbiage of his cross bill into the vernacular, his story was something like this:

The honeymoon quickly waned when Harry found he was being paced by his half dozen predecessors. It was definitly over when he found he couldn't stand the pace. The combined virtues of Nos. 1 to 6 [inclusive] were set up as a mark for him to shoot at.

Obviously being human, the six who had come and gone must have had faults, especially as five of them went via the divorce courts.

Thought He Did Pretty Well.

Harry runs a garage. Times being what they've been, Harry thought he did pretty well. A lot of folks were trying to keep the old buses going and that made work for a garage man. In fact Harry would have been well satisfied with his ability as a provider if it hadn't been for the money earning record set up by—well let's say Paulpaulos.

Now take bridge. You'd not expect a garage man to be a shark at contract, but Harry, the boys will tell you, would do in any but the fastest company. Held his own at the Elks club after lunch. But Klingstrom, or Ek maybe, he was the bridge player. Always bidding slams and making them. Never criticizing his wife's bidding.

Harry has an ear for music. Plays the harmonica and when younger sang a little top tenor when the boys felt like tuning up. Of course a fellow who socks his fingers with a strap wrench under a car or skins his knuckles changing a balky tire can't be a violin virtuoso. But Nelson, or was it Johnson?—how he could play, and Paulpaulos, no probably it was Klingstrom, had a voice like an angel.

He's Far Outclassed.

Harry could go on. Anyway it seems from his bill, still translated into the vernacular, that no matter in what Harry thought he excelled, or was pretty good, or anyway not so bad, either No. 1, or 2, or 3, or 4, or 5, or 6 had it all over him.

Then he was sued for divorce. Charged with cruelty by a woman who is six feet tall and weighs 240 pounds, while he is only a little over five feet in height and weighs 119.

And his wife's bill averred and related, as the lawyers say, that she was always a "true, dutiful, chaste, and affectionate" wife.

Is Alice Brady Kidnaped? No, She's Only Taking Rest

Hollywood, Cal., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—Alice Brady, actress of Broadway and Hollywood, appeared here for a brief moment today. Then she disappeared again, dispelling rumors of a possible kidnaping. Her business manager said: "She is home in bed, too ill to appear at the studio." At the studio it was said she had reported and it was thought "she'd be well enough to be back at work tomorrow." The film colony has decided Alice hasn't been kidnaped.

U. of C. Adopts Song Written by Donald Richberg

"Flag of the Maroons," composed by Donald Richberg, director of the NRA, when he was a student in 1904, yesterday was selected by the University of Chicago as their official song. It supplants "Wave the Flag for Old Chicago," abandoned when Alonzo Stagg left the university, and the "Chicago Loyalty Song," which was found to be "unsatisfactory." Richberg was a prominent "activity" man while a student.

WIDESPREAD RAIN SOAKS MIDWEST; COLD HERE TODAY

Ravages of the summer drouth have been alleviated to some extent by the widespread intermittent rainfall of the last three days which is expected to end here this morning with a few light showers and a sharp drop in temperature later in the day. Effects of the rain, varying from more than three inches in some sections to less than an inch elsewhere, were summarized yesterday by Meteorologist C. A. Donnel, after perusal of reports from all parts of the country.

"While with few exceptions the rain was not of sufficient potency to penetrate more than a few inches into the parched subsoil," Mr. Donnel declared, "the precipitation succeeded in moistening the upper surface of the earth to a depth of five or six inches. This has benefited fall plowing, but unless heavy rains lasting weeks or even months occur the more important area below the 8 or 10 inch level will remain as dust."

Coupled with the rain, above normal temperatures have prevailed for the same period in every state except California, Nevada, Utah, and Arizona. Southerly winds equaled Chicago's all time mean for Nov. 19 with a high of 64 Monday, but they will move around to the northwest this afternoon and the temperature will drop accordingly. Yesterday's highest temperature was a point less, but New York, like most of the eastern seaboard, enjoyed summer weather. It was 73 at New York, shattering the high record for the date by three degrees. Such temperatures usually prevail no later than the middle of September, Mr. Donnel said.

The "Radiotrician," a 60 foot cruiser, docked in shallow water on the north side of the Navy Pier, sank yesterday afternoon, apparently after a heavy swell dashed it against the dock and crushed one of its sides. No one was aboard. A stiff southeast wind was blowing at the time.

JUROR BLAMES CHAIR FOR ODD GYRATIONS BUT GETS TEN DAYS

It was really the fault of his chair, a highly unprincipled article of furniture, opined Frank Alexander, 40 years old, of Steger, Ill. Mr. Alexander, himself, was firmly convinced of this, but Judge W. H. Hunter of the Will county Circuit court does not subscribe to a belief in animism.

Mr. Alexander appeared in Judge Hunter's court yesterday eager and willing for jury service. Listing heavily to port, Mr. Alexander tacked and luffed to the jury box, then with an airy wave of his hand sat skipperlike to deliberate on the case in point. That at least was the course Mr. Alexander had charted.

But the chair held a different view. It bucked, it wobbled, it heaved, it made all manner of strange gyrations, but Mr. Alexander stuck to it like a sailor in a storm. At length the antics of the chair [and Mr. Alexander] drew the attention of Judge Hunter.

"Ten days in the brig," said the judge, "for arriving in a state of open intoxication in contempt of this court." The chair was let off with a reprimand.

MICHAEL HAYES NEW CAPTAIN OF SO. PARK POLICE

The Chicago Park District board yesterday named Lieut. Michael C. Hayes acting captain of the south park police department to succeed Capt. Timothy J. Howard, who died Monday following a heart attack.

MICHAEL C. HAYES.

Acting Captain Hayes, in charge of the south park force much of the time during the last year while Capt. Howard was confined to his home by illness, is the second oldest employé in Chicago park service. He joined the south park teaming division fifty-two years ago, and five years later became a member of the south park police force.

The board yesterday instructed its attorney, James Slattery, to draft a resolution of condolence to Capt. Howard's family, and announced that members of the South park police department will represent the district at the funeral tomorrow.

The park board yesterday called in $89,000 of 1931 and 1932 Lincoln park tax warants and announced it would pay $7,201 in interest. Payments are to be made Dec. 15 and 24. The board granted the public school system the use of Soldier's field Nov. 24 for a Chicago public school championship football game between Lindblom and Fenger high schools. The winner will play the champion Catholic high school team at Soldier's field on Dec. 1.

PRAISE CUSTOMS OFFICE HERE FOR WORK AT FAIR

MINNEAPOLIS CHICAGO ST. PAUL

Throughout the hours of adulation and of splendor the central figure of the day bore himself as the kindly friend and devoted shepherd whom this community has known and has held in high regard since he came among us 18 years ago.

"This celebration," he said in the address of thanksgiving which he read from the marble pulpit of the cathedral, "comes in the late afternoon of my life, but you have all helped to make it something that the little children who have been with us today will remember and talk about in years to come. For me, cogitavi dies antiquos, et annos aeternos in mente habui." [I have thought upon the days of old and kept in mind the everlasting years.]

Expresses His Gratitude.

He said that in looking back upon the "dies antiquos" he found abundant reasons to be "exceedingly grateful to Almighty God."

Above all else he prized God's gift to him of "co-workers loyal, generous, and inspired." Remembering that gift with special fervor on his jubilee day, he uttered, humbly and gently, the Latin words, "Non nobis, Domine, non nobis sed nomini tuo da gloriam." [Not to us, O Lord, but to thy name give the glory.]

The clergy of the archdiocese he described as "men esteemed as citizens, loved as priests, cherished as zealous pastors of souls by their spiritual children, and devoted sons of whom their archbishop is exceedingly proud." Of them he, like Paul of old, would say, "Corona mea, spes ecclesiae" [My crown, and the hope of the church.]

The People of His Diocese.

With an outspokenness characteristic of him, and not incompatible with his gentleness, the cardinal spoke of the Catholic laity of the archdiocese not as 100 per cent all that he would have them be, but certainly as 85 per cent. He thought that they had shown the true spirit of devotion and sincerity because they had gone through, during his year of jubilee, "the exercises of a holy and purifying mission in their parish churches and approached the tribunal of penance and the Eucharistic table of the Lord."

In a happy phrase Cardinal Mundelein described his boyhood friend and schoolmate, Cardinal Hayes, as "the cardinal of charity."

That prelate, in extending to his old friend the felicitations of the American hierarchy and of the college of cardinals, also spoke from the pulpit.

Educator and Builder.

Using the august phrases which, in the ancient ceremonial interchange of the Roman Catholic church, never grow old and are never outdated, he addressed Archbishop Mundelein as "My Lord Cardinal."

Cardinal Hayes spoke of his friend as builder and as educator, saying:

"You, my lord cardinal, are not parochial or diocesan. You have looked with prophetic eyes on the church in America, doing in a magnificent and monumental way all you can to spread the kingdom of Christ in our beloved land. You have glorified Christ on our altars by the seminary you have built. What a priesthood it will give to Chicago!

"You have been, too, a prince bishop to your people. How you have loved them and how they have responded to your call! May the church in Chicago flourish as a bay tree beside the living waters and may you grow as a cedar of Lebanon."

Message from the Pope.

The climax of the day's felicitations was the message from the pope, which was read from the pulpit first in Latin and then in English by Msgr. J. Gerald Kealy, rector of St. Mary of the Lake seminary at Mundelein. [Printed elsewhere in this paper.]

"To our beloved son," it began, and it conveyed the papal authorization to bless in the pope's name all Roman Catholics who were present at the jubilee and to "proclaim to them a plenary indulgence to be gained according to the prescriptions of holy mother church."

The setting for the messages of the sovereign pontiff and of the prelates, and for the votive mass that was the supreme expression of Cardinal Mundelein's gratitude, possessed that mystical loveliness which once caused the learned Father Faber to describe a mass as "the most beautiful thing this side of heaven."

The outlines of the high altar of the cathedral were nearly hidden by ferns and red roses. Clusters of white chrysanthemums flanked the altar. Behind it hung a dossal, or drapery, of silver cloth which covered the rear wall of the sanctuary to the height of the altar.

Above the western and southern entrances of the exterior of the church were massed flags of the United States and the papal colors of white and gold. In the center of those decorations gleamed Cardinal Mundelein's arms.

Pageantry in the Cathedral.

Within the cathedral glorious pageantry unfolded for nearly three hours. In the choir loft at the western end of the church were a symphony orchestra of 40 pieces and 225 male singers in white surplices from St. Mary of the Lake choir and from the Cathedral choristers.

Amid much splendor and exultant melody there was the simple human touch of endearing sentiment, for the Te Deum by Jacovacci, performed by chorus and orchestra, was a composition especially dear to the cardinal when he was a student at the College of the Propaganda.

The cardinal was the celebrant of the mass. It was, in the words of liturgical scholars, "a votive mass in honor of the Holy Ghost."

"Whenever," they added, "a votive mass is said, it is consecrated to some saint, to some mystery of our Lord, or to the Trinity."

In the cardinal's votive mass, which was consecrated to the Holy Ghost, were inserted prayers set aside by the church as thanksgivings for blessings.

Spirit of Service Shown.

The spirit of the thanksgiving service is briefly conveyed by this passage from it:

"Even as the fragrance of this sacrifice, so may our thanksgiving be grateful to thee, O Lord: thou hast graciously listened to our prayers and hast preserved us from harm; be with us in the future likewise, keeping us from evil, and making us to grow in love of thee and in zeal for thy service."

"Amen! Amen!" softly murmured the throng of clergy and laity who knelt with Cardinal Mundelein before the high altar, and little children in remote parishes echoed the spirit of that petition in the prayers they uttered when night had closed the day.

MUNDELEIN GIVES THANKS FOR HIS CO-WORKERS' AID

Expresses Gratitude to Clergy and Laity.

Cardinal Mundelein in his address yesterday at Holy Name cathedral expressed his gratitude to God and to his co-workers for his 25 year career as a bishop. He said:

"When I look back on the past 25 years I find I have reason to be exceedingly grateful to Almighty God. He has blessed me with uniformly good health, He has given me temperament not readily disturbed, He has watched over and guided my footsteps at all times. He has given me, moreover, splendid material to work with, coworkers loyal, generous, and inspired, and a purpose and goal in life the most noble intrusted to man.

"I have lived in times of stress and change, when history was made in days, rather than in years, when war, pestilence, and famine followed on each other's heels, and yet He has not forsaken us. He has guided us right, me His disciple and those who follow me. It is no idle expression or passing word for me to say I have reason to be grateful to God for the past 25 years. I can assure you, no one has better reason to say this day: Non nobis Domine, non nobis sed nomini tuo da gloriam.

A Promise Renewed.

"When on the actual day of my anniversary some weeks ago I knelt before the chair of Peter, that symbol of infallible teaching authority left to us by Christ in His place, I repeated again the Profession of Faith I made a quarter century before, even as the spouses repeat their pledge of love, honor, and obey at the golden wedding mass.

"I, too, renewed my promise to love, honor, and obey the sovereign pontiff, for to all of them I have known I have been indebted exceedingly for the honors they have conferred on me, the confidence they have placed in me, the dignity to which they elevated me. Pius X., who made me a bishop; Benedict XV., who sent me to you, and Pius XI., who has honored me with his friendship and given me a place in the senate of the church.

Praise for Chicago Priests.

"On that day I prayed at the tomb of the apostles, as I have for nearly twenty years now before my own altar at home, for the loyal priests of the archdiocese of Chicago. No bishop has ever been blessed with more loyal, obedient, and self-sacrificing priests than have been intrusted to me. Their constant endeavor has been to make light my burden and my mission successful.

"Together we have accomplished in difficult times and under often adverse conditions what to others seemed impossible to accomplish. Today the priests of Chicago are acknowledged everywhere a body of men esteemed as citizens, loved as priests, cherished as zealous pastors of souls by their spiritual children, devoted sons of whom their archbishop is exceedingly proud, of whom like St. Paul he can say: Corona mea, spes ecclesiae.

"Three years ago a careful and minute census was taken in every parish, and practically every man, woman, and child was counted. Even then allowance was made for some who might have escaped notice. And during the past year of jubilee, by actual and official count, 85 per cent of that number went through the exercises of a holy and purifying mission in their parish churches and approached the tribunal of penance and the Eucharistic table of the Lord.

Pope Impressed by Record.

"Believe me, this made a profound impression abroad, and the holy father himself asked for and kept the figures I had.

"He was impressed and profoundly moved by the very large number of men who had made the mission, for no one knows better than he that where the men are attached to their church, where they are practical Catholics, there the church is alive, there it leaves its imprint on the life of a city, of a diocese, of a nation.

"No wonder then that in the generous outburst of his paternal appreciation and pleasure he granted to all of you who had participated in this great and true spiritual revival the papal blessing, omnibus et singulis, he added, to each and every one. And, likewise, he authorized me, at this ceremony, which formally commemorates and closes the silver episcopal jubilee of your archbishop, to give his apostolic blessing to those present here, even as though he himself were giving it.

Gratitude for Commemoration.

"Finally, my heartfelt thanks go out to all those who helped to make this commemoration today such a glorious, such an outstanding, such an unforgettable event in my life. No man could look about this sanctuary and into this church, finding himself the center of it all, and not be proud and grateful, no matter how full his life may have been.

"My heart goes out in gratitude to the companion of my youth, the friend of my priestly career, the partner of my joys in the episcopate, and the one with whom I walked in the great aisle of St. Peter's in the historical American consistory of more than ten years ago. No one had a greater right or more valid claim to be speaker of today than the cardinal of charity, the great archbishop of New York, Cardinal Hayes. Of all the preachers and speakers on my consecration day 25 years ago, he and I, alone, are alive today.

Honor from Apostolic Delegate.

"The apostolic delegate, our holy father's representative, who has so often given us proof of his friendship and good will, comes to honor us, you and me, on this our day of joy and festivity.

"And with him come my brethren, the bishops of the United States. They have come a hundred strong, from every corner of this land and its dependencies, in greater number than for any function, celebration or ceremony in the history of the church in the United States. No gift of gold, silver or jewels, no matter how great its value, could ever equal the tribute of their coming and their presence here today.

"I want to assure them that the memory of this picture of their gathering in this sanctuary on this morning will be with me until I pass from here into eternity.

Credit to Faithful Priests.

"And last, but not least, I must not forget my faithful priests, who labored unceasingly to make this day a historic one, who kept all the preparations secret from me, and if success has crowned their efforts, to them alone belongs the credit and the glory.

"Nothing more can be added; this day comes in the late afternoon of my life, but you have all helped to make it something those now in their teens will remember and talk about in years to come. For me, cogitavi dies antiquos, et annos aeternos in mente habui."

POPE PIUS PRAISES CARDINAL

In Cardinal Mundelein's silver jubilee service of thanksgiving at Holy Name cathedral yesterday the Most Rev. Msgr. J. Gerald Kealy, rector of St. Mary of the Lake seminary at Mundelein, read a message of congratulation from Pope Pius XI. to the cardinal. The message said:

"To our beloved son, George Cardinal Mundelein, cardinal priest of the Holy Roman church under the title of Saint Mary of the People, and Archbishop of Chicago. Pius XI. to our beloved son, health and apostolic benediction.

"In the first days of autumn when you had successfully completed twenty-five years of the pastoral office, you considered it fitting to recall in deepest joy of soul so happy an event by offering the holy sacrifice of the mass at the tomb of St. Peter in Rome. On that memorable occasion it was a source of happiness to us to welcome you in audience at our residence at Castel Gondolfo to extend personally to you our paternal congratulations and to share in your happiness.

Cardinal's Works Praised.

"And now, when solemn testimonials of loyalty and affection are in preparation to celebrate publicly in your archdiocese within the course of the next month the jubilee of its pastor, we can no longer delay in renewing and in making open declaration of the feelings of our heart toward you.

"It is evident to all with what ability and zeal you have fulfilled the diversified duties of the pastoral office, and the feelings of attachment and devotion you have unceasingly cherished toward this apostolic see and sought to foster in others. Most evident, too, are the monuments of your generosity and religious zeal.

"Among these stand preëminent the Seminary of St. Mary of the Lake with you as its founder and protector, so splendidly constructed and equipped with all things needful, and the churches, buildings, and parochial schools everywhere established in the extensive territory confided to your jurisdiction.

Propagation of the Faith.

"Equally known to all is the great impetus you have given to those associations and institutions which have as their particular object the propagation of the faith. The solicitude you have shown that the faithful progress daily in Christian discipline may be likewise inferred from the plan recently inaugurated by you whereby in each of the 400 parishes of your jurisdiction the faithful prepare themselves by means of holy missions or other spiritual exercises to celebrate the solemnities of your jubilee.

"So, too, through your initiative and encouragement were brought to completion the many purposes of the renowned Eucharistic congress celebrated eight years ago in the city of Chicago, the radiant glory of which shall never pass away.

"In conclusion we have before our eyes the paternal care with which you seek to alleviate the present distress and needs of the people through most diligent direction of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul.

Power of Papal Blessing.

"When we joyfully recall to mind all these things we are eager indeed not only to add to the approaching solemnities of your happy jubilee by our word of congratulation but also to make them more fruitful by the testimony of our authority.

"Meanwhile we earnestly beseech Almighty God to grant you yet many years filled with merit and the blessings of heaven. As a token of which and as a pledge of our particular affaction we lovingly impart the apostolic blessing to you our beloved son, to your auxiliary bishops, and to all the clergy and the faithful.

"Given at Rome at St. Peter's, on the eighteenth day of October, on the feast of St. Luke the Evangelist, in the year of Our Lord 1934, in the thirteenth year of our pontificate.

"PIUS XI., POPE."

Delays Alimony Contempt Case Against Judge Hayes

A contempt citation against Municipal Judge Howard Hayes, growing out of $400 alimony allegedly owed to his former wife, Mrs. Grace Houston, 1400 Lake Shore drive, was continued yesterday by Circuit Judge Philip J. Finnegan until Nov. 30. Mrs. Houston's attorney, William H. Leigh, said Judge Hayes had paid "a substantial part" of the back alimony and had made arrangements to pay the balance.

"Doctors asked for more and more of it—

DR. R. E. LEE

(Director of Fleischmann Health Research)

Dr. Lee says, "It's a new, stronger 'strain' of yeast discovered by a noted American medical scientist connected with a leading university."

It's not surprising that this new yeast has given such quick, sure benefits in 25 clinics which tested it on hundreds of patients. "A wonderful discovery!" comment the doctors.

Constipation, Poor Digestion, and related Skin Disorders and Lack of Energy corrected twice as fast. (New Vitamin "A" combats colds!)

SO MUCH QUICKER ACTING that doctors who tested it asked for more and more . . . even before it was offered for sale! If you haven't heard all about "XR" Yeast, read these questions:—

Why does this new "XR" Yeast act so much quicker?

Because it's a much stronger "strain" or variety of yeast. As it works more vigorously in the body, it benefits you faster!

How does it benefit you?

Most cases of constipation, indigestion and associated ailments come from a slowing of digestive juices and muscles. "XR" Yeast contains substances (like "hormones") which speed these juices and muscles astonishingly.

Then . . . Constipation and Indigestion stop sooner than before?

Much sooner! As your digestive juices flow fast, and muscles work harder inside you, your food is better "churned"—digested . . . passes through and out of you quicker. You lose that "stuffed" feeling—bloating—indigestion—after meals. Constipation usually disappears very quickly, too.

Does it clear the Skin Faster?

Nearly always! As Fleischmann's "XR" Yeast checks bowel poisons, your blood absorbs pure nourishment—feeds it to your skin. Your skin gains "tone," resistance—becomes much healthier and fresher looking. Eruptions such as pimples and boils usually clear up in much shorter time!

● "I wouldn't have believed yeast could work so fast," writes Mrs. Elizabeth Bro, Westfield, N. J. "I'd been eating irregular meals—often felt terribly tired—had bad headaches. Then my skin broke out! . . . 'XR' Yeast ended my sluggishness. The pimples left!—also the headaches and tiredness. It's amazingly fast."

Are Headaches and "Run-down" Condition corrected Quicker?

Yes. Headaches, doctors know, are oftenest caused by poisons in the blood, or pressure on abdominal nerves from unexpelled wastes. This great cause of headaches is relieved by "XR" Yeast quite promptly.

You gain energy and appetite, too—as "XR" Yeast cleanses you and helps you get more "good" from your food. People over 40 need Fleischmann's "XR" Yeast to offset the slowing of digestive secretions occurring especially after that age . . . to keep feeling and looking younger.

Are Colds less frequent?

Yes! "XR" Yeast not only strengthens your resistance to colds by purifying your system, but by supplying the newly added Vitamin A or "anti-infective" vitamin. And this food also gives you Vitamins B, D and G—so vital to health. Four vitamins!

DON'T NEGLECT TO GET a supply of Fleischmann's "XR" Yeast today or tomorrow—then eat 3 cakes daily—plain, or dissolved in one-third glass of water—preferably half an hour before meals. If you're taking cathartics, discontinue them gradually. Keep on with "XR" Yeast after you've noted quick results—until you feel 100% well! Start now.

(As good as ever for baking!)

MAYORS CONVENE HERE TOMORROW; TO STUDY RELIEF

Have Plan Ready; 110 Cities Represented.

Problems of relief, finance, and law enforcement, with particular emphasis on the part to be played by the federal government, will be discussed at the annual mayors' conference, opening tomorrow at the Congress hotel. Chief executives of one hundred and ten principal American cities will be in attendance, with federal officials and economists among the speakers at the three day session.

Harry L. Hopkins, federal relief administrator; Mayor La Guardia, and City Chamberlain A. A. Berle of New York, and Mayor T. Semmes Walmsley of New Orleans, will make addresses. Other prominent speakers will include Joseph B. Keenan, assistant attorney general of the United States in charge of law enforcement, and Prof. Charles E. Merriam of the University of Chicago.

Suggestions to Be Offered.

The most pressing question to date is that dealing with relief, and it is expected that the most intensive session will be that of Friday when Administrator Hopkins will address the executives on "Relief from the National Viewpoint." It is at that session that the mayors' committee will offer its suggestions.

"It is time to admit frankly that relief is a long term problem, and to develop a long term program to meet it," Paul V. Betters of Chicago, executive director, said: "The mayors have a definite program to offer."

Seek Expanded Public Works.

It is understood that the mayors' program will be presented by Mayor Walmsley and that it will consider long term relief programs with the federal government playing an important part in the finances. The program divides relief into two classifications—aid for those who are unable to work, and those who will work and support themselves if employment is offered. A greatly expanded public works program, with particular emphasis to housing, grade crossing elimination and self-liquidating public works, will be advocated.

Several of the mayors had arrived yesterday. Mayor Walmsley has been in Chicago for several days getting the program in order, and Mayor Charles L. Smith of Seattle, who gained prominence during the recent longshoremen's strike by ousting the chief of police and personally directing the fight, arrived last night aboard a United Air Lines plane.

SARGENT TO TALK ON ANNIVERSARY OF RAIL TO ELGIN

Fred W. Sargent, president of the Chicago and North Western railway, will speak before industrial leaders of Elgin tonight in their Union League club to mark the 85th anniversary of the arrival in Elgin of the first train over the Northwestern line.

Elgin's growth to a city of 37,000 is considered by its leaders to be largely due to the influence of the railroad. For this reason The Elgin Association of Commerce, through its secretary, H. G. Lawrance, has been negotiating for several weeks to persuade Mr. Sargent to attend the celebration.

The inquest into the death of Carl Adamovich, 45 years old, 915 North Damen avenue, who was shot at his child's christening party Nov. 11, was continued yesterday until Dec. 7 to enable police to find more witnesses.

SUPPORT PAYMENTS LAG; HE MUST SETTLE OR SERVE SIX MONTHS

Unless Fred Fahlstrom, owner of a plumbing shop at 2422 West 34th place, can pay immediately at least part of $2,100 support money he owes he faces a six months' term in "alimony row" in the county jail. He was sentenced yesterday by Circuit Judge Philip J. Finnegan, but was released later in custody of his attorney on promise he would try to raise the money at once. He is to reappear in court today.

Fahlstrom appeared in court on a writ of ne exeat, obtained Saturday by his divorced wife, Ruby, 8755 Harper avenue. His attorney, Ernest Stout, asked that the writ be quashed and his $1,000 bond returned.

Under questioning of Mrs. Fahlstrom's lawyer, Norman Becker, Fahlstrom admitted that he had paid only $20 for the support of his daughter Jean, now 15 years old, since a court order for $10 weekly payments was issued in 1930, three years after Mrs. Fahlstrom obtained a divorce on grounds of infidelity. Fahlstrom also admitted he had purchased and licensed an automobile under an assumed name.

Judge Finnegan quashed the ne exeat writ but ordered Fahlstrom to jail for contempt of court.

COURTNEY ROILED BY CRIME GAINS; OFFICER SHIFTED

Prosecutor's Visit to Station Told.

A recent night visit of State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney to the Gresham police station at 8501 South Green street and the benching later of the police captain were brought to light yesterday. The prosecutor was incensed over an increase in robberies and burglaries in the Gresham district, where he makes his home at 80th and Green streets.

The captain who was shelved was William J. O'Brien. In a general order issued Saturday by Police Commissioner Allman, O'Brien was sent to headquarters for miscellaneous duties and Capt. Dennis M. Malloy was transferred from headquarters to the command of the Gresham station.

Courtney Denies Part.

It was said that Prosecutor Courtney entered the police station and upbraided several officers for the crime wave in his neighborhood. The state's attorney admitted that he had made the visit, but insisted that he had nothing to do with the transfer of captains.

Prosecutor Courtney declared that some policemen thought that if auto thefts were cleared up he would be satisfied. Other crimes must be solved as well as auto thievery, the prosecutor said, and he had told policemen from Gresham and several other stations that robberies and burglaries must cease.

O'Brien Defends Policy.

Capt. O'Brien admitted that there were numerous robberies and burglaries in the Gresham district and asserted that he and his men had done everything possible to combat the situation. He said that he wanted to cooperate with the state's attorney in any way he could.

The Gresham district covers 9½ square miles, stretching between 75th and 103d streets and from State street to Western avenue, according to Capt. O'Brien. He said that normally 105 men work out of this station and that in recent months 35 members of the force were detailed to service in the bus strike and others were used in coal strikes. The result was a crippling of law enforcement within the area, O'Brien said.

U. S. IMPOUNDS BANK DEPOSITS OF HAUPTMANNS

Says They Failed to File Under Income Tax.

New York, Nov. 20.—[Special.]—All bank accounts and securities of Bruno Richard Hauptmann, now in Flemington, N. J., jail awaiting trial for the kidnaping and murder of the Lindbergh baby, were tied up today by the income tax bureau.

The move followed apparently authentic reports received by the federal authorities that Hauptmann's attorneys were about to start an action to obtain some of the suspect's money for defense purposes.

Revenue Officers Back In.

The action, which was in the form of a jeopardy assessment order putting liens on savings and brokerage accounts, marked the return of Frank J. Wilson and other operatives of the intelligence unit of the internal revenue bureau to the case after an absence of several months, during which time the federal part of the investigation was handled by the department of justice.

Wilson and Arthur Madden, who is in charge of the Chicago unit of the bureau, joined the investigation on March 3, three days after the kidnaping. On the passage of the so-called "Lindbergh law" their part of the investigation together with a great mass of information they had gathered was turned over to the department of justice.

Federal Men to Testify.

Wilson and perhaps Madden are expected to testify for the state at the trial and meanwhile Wilson will assist the state in preparing its case.

Guy Helvering, commissioner of internal revenue, forwarded the jeopardy assessment to Collector William B. Riley of the Bronx for income tax claimed for the years 1932 and 1933 to the total amount of $9,678.30. How this specific figure was reached was not made known.

A police investigation disclosed assets of the Hauptmann family amounting to $15,481 a few days after the arrest. This amount included two mortgages of $7,000, savings accounts, and securities.

WEALTHY WIDOW SUES 3; CHARGES $222,000 FRAUD

Suit for $272,350 was filed in the Circuit court yesterday by Mrs. Grace M. Forschner, wealthy Palos township widow, against John Donald [Don Champagne] Walker, 34 years old, 615 North Lockwood avenue; J. Henry Jonassen, 48 years old, owner of the Wetzel Iron Works, 3345 West Grand avenue, and Mrs. Louise M. Ranger, 5637 Kimbark avenue.

The bill, drawn by the law firm of Bennett & Colbach, alleges that the three defrauded Mrs. Forschner out of $222,350, and it asks $50,000 additional as punitive damages.

Walker, serving a 1 to 14 year sentence in the Joliet penitentiary, was paroled to Jonassen May 15, 1933, largely through the widow's efforts. Mrs. Ranger is named in the bill as the "contact" between Mrs. Forschner and the two men.

On Aug. 22, 1933, Walker borrowed $5,750 from the widow to pay debts, the bill relates. At various other times during the ensuing year Walker and the others borrowed other sums ranging from $1,400 up to $17,200, but none of the loans has been repaid, according to the bill.

Walker is held for grand jury action on charges of forgery and obtaining money under false pretenses, in lieu of $35,000 bonds.

LUNCHEON IS GIVEN FOR CARDINAL AFTER CATHEDRAL SERVICE

At the close of the jubilee ceremonies for Cardinal Mundelein yesterday in Holy Name cathedral the ecclesiastics went to the Drake hotel for a luncheon given in the cardinal's honor. To this festivity outsiders were not invited and, except the names of the speakers, no record of it was vouchsafed the press.

Those speakers were William D. O'Brien, auxiliary bishop of Chicago; Archbishop Cicognani, apostolic delegate to the United States; John T. McNicholas, archbishop of Cincinnati; John B. Morris, bishop of Little Rock; Thomas F. Egan, pastor of St. Sabina church, Chicago; Aloysius J. Wycislo, assistant pastor of St. Michael church and chancellor of St. Mary of the Lake seminary; and Bernard J. Sheil.

A traditional toast from the festival ceremonial of ancient European universities was given in Latin to the guest of honor, the clergy all rising as they uttered it. "Ad multos annos vivat!—ad multos annos vivat!—ad multos annos—plurimosque annos! Vivat, vivat, vivat!" it runs and it may be freely translated by Rip Van Winkle's words, "May you live long and prosper."

TRADE GROUPS OPPOSE BOOST IN RAIL RATES

Opposition against certain proposed increases in railroad freight rates was voiced yesterday by the Chicago Association of Commerce and the National Industrial Traffic league in the hearing before Clyde B. Atchison of the interstate commerce commission in the Hotel Sherman.

The Chicago group, while indicating it was not against proper rate increase for the carriers, said it was against the rates proposed locally. It pointed out that until the carriers increase their intrastate rates to the level of interstate rates there can be little hope for increased revenue. Lack of uniform railroad pickup and delivery service which in recent years has been given several competing markets, was set forth as a discrimination against Chicago.

U. S. WILL START "CRACKDOWN" ON CODE VIOLATORS

Majority Wage Bargaining Court Case Ready.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—The government today decided to ask the courts to force on industry the controversial doctrine of majority rule in labor relations. This stey, which has been advocated by organized labor over the protest of industry, is regarded as opening the long-heralded "crackdown" which the New Dealers have been seeking to launch against alleged code violators.

The decision to start court action on the majority rule question came when Francis Biddle, newly appointed chairman of the national labor relations board, and G. W. Bell of the justice department, announced jointly that the government's case against the Houde Engineering company of Buffalo, N. Y., is now definitly slated to go to trial.

Quick Action Promised.

"The department is going to take very quick action," Biddle disclosed after a conference late today with justice department officials. "We have what we feel is adequate evidence."

In addition to getting action on the Houde case, Chairman Biddle obtained a promise from Attorney General Homer S. Cummings that one special justice department official would soon be singled out to handle nothing but labor board cases. In the meantime Cummings placed the full resources of the justice department's research and trial staffs at Biddle's disposal.

The Houde case was the first NRA dispute to focus the spotlight on the majority rule question. In ruling on the dispute, the labor board adopted the majority rule doctrine completely. It declared that under the NRA employers may bargain collectively only with the union representing a majority of its workers.

Decision of Bond Deficit.

Regarded as highly favorable to the American Federation of Labor, the board's decision was openly defied by the Houde company, the National Manufacturers' association and other business groups. The labor board asked Attorney General Homer S. Cummings to enforce the decision through court action. Rumors, however, indicated that Cummings had no desire to press the case. They were dispelled by Biddle's announcement today.

Securing of definite action on the Houde case was Biddle's first achievement as head of the national labor board. His appointment by President Roosevelt on Friday was regarded as placing another cog in the machine which the New Deal is fashioning for the purpose of cracking down on alleged NRA violators.

Biddle Tells Program.

Biddle today left no doubt about his intentions when he held his first press conference. Enforcement of the New Deal labor differences against industry is item number one and he takes over the post of chief labor arbitrator. He declared that he wanted action on the Houde case "because it is law and it will be sustained" in the courts.

Within the next week he expects to clear up the labor board's power over uncoded industries. He wants the Supreme court to promptly define the NRA and labor board power over intrastate business.

FIANCEE PICKS TWO IN KILLING OF FAIR VISITOR

Two of a gang of five alleged south side bandits were tentatively identified yesterday as the slayers of George Mayes, 31 years old, of Mount Vernon, Ill., who was shot to death Oct. 27 in the presence of his sweetheart, with whom he had come to Chicago to see the World's Fair.

Those named are David Fulford and Arthur Breiter, both 19 years old and both of 6309 Woodlawn avenue.

Miss Alta Eicher, fiancée of the slain Mayes, and her sister, Irma, stated that the men resembled the slayers, but were reluctant about swearing to the identification and did not swear out warants charging murder.

The two prisoners admitted robbing motorists on the south side, but denied implication in the slaying of Mayes. Those arrested and said to be accomplices are Joe Seco, 17 years old, of 7006 South Honoré street; Earl Suchy, 16 years old, of 5020 South Marshfield avenue, and Joe Balestri, 19 years old, of 6753 Indiana avenue.

ASK QUICK ACTION ON CALUMET-SAG WATERWAY LINK

Plan Congress Appeal Through Dern.

A plea that the war department recommend to congress the immediate completion of the Calumet-Sag channel link of the Lakes-to-Gulf waterway was presented to Lieut. Col. Donald H. Connolly, army district engineer, by Chicago, Illinois, and Indiana officials and civic leaders in a public hearing held at the postoffice building yesterday.

To hasten favorable congressional action on the project, representatives at the hearing abandoned previous requests for a 250 foot channel along the Calumet river and the Sag from the Chicago Drainage and Ship canal to Lake Calumet and urged a 160 foot channel with a nine foot depth constructed with a view of a possible increase to fourteen feet later.

Plans Report to Dern.

Following the hearing Col. Connally declared that he would submit a report to Secretary of War Dern embracing the 160 foot recommendation, and that estimates of cost would be made on that channel width. His report will be completed before the end of December in time for war department approval and congressional action at the next session, he said.

The hearing was called after the house committee on rivers and harbors failed to act on a proposal for a 250 foot channel and submitted the project to the war department for review. The proposed link would include the widening of the Calumet-Sag channel from the drainage and ship canal near the juncture of Archer avenue and the Chicago and Alton tracks to the Little Calumet river at Ashland avenue in Blue Island and other projects.

Estimate Cost at 21 Million.

The estimated cost of the project is $21,525,750 and representatives contended that this outlay would be easily justified by the fact that lakes-to-gulf barges would avoid the congested area serviced by the Chicago river, saving $1,000,000 annually on present tonnage, that it would open the Calumet industrial area to the Mississippi valley market, and that it would eliminate movable bridge replacement on the Chicago river at a saving of $43,000,000 to the city of Chicago in ten years.

The Chicago position on the Calumet-Sag development was outlined by Maj. Rufus W. Putnam of the Chicago regional port commission, who urged a 160 foot channel, the development of the waterway in the Calumet region, across the state line into Indiana, and at least 25 foot clearance on all bridges over the route.

CITY EMPLOYE TO FACE GIRLS' CHARGES TODAY

When Frank L. Aramano, 45 years old, 6125 North Meade avenue, employed on a city ash wagon, is arraigned in the Jury court before Municipal Judge Frank M. Padden today on a charge of indecent conduct toward children he will find all the prosecuting witnesses present to testify.

William E. Smith, 6129 North Meade avenue, father of two young girls, who caused Aramano's arrest on Sept. 8, said yesterday that the continuances and delays granted the city employé will not deter him in prosecuting the case to the end.

"This will be the fourth time that the witnesses have been compelled to go to court in prosecuting the case and each time the court grants a delay children are kept from their classes," he said.

LIBERTY LEAGUE TO ACCOUNT FOR FINANCES TO U. S.

New York, Nov. 20.—(AP)—The American Liberty league will make periodic accounting of its finances to congress, said Jouett Shouse, president, today in answer to Representative Elect Frank E. Hook [Dem., Mich.], who declared the American people were entitled to know who is financing it.

Hook said his first bill in congress would propose the league should be placed under the federal corrupt practices act. Shouse replied the league is already under the act and will file its financial statement whenever it is requested by congress.

SHOUSE ASSAILS 'REGIMENTATION' UNDER NEW DEAL

Liberty League Head Hits Back at President.

New York, Nov. 20.—[Special.]—Denouncing "regimentation" undertaken by the New Deal, Jouett Shouse, president of the American Liberty league, struck back today at President Roosevelt's hint that the league places property rights above human rights.

Shouse expressed "regret" that congress will be composed of overwhelming majorities and very small minorities.

"The best government," he said in an address prepared for delivery to the Bond club, "is achieved when the balance of power between is as nearly equal as possible."

Hints League's Course.

Although Shouse said he was giving only his personal opinions, his address was regarded as pointing the future course of this organization, formed by such men as Alfred E. Smith, James W. Wadsworth, John W. Davis, and Irene du Pont to assess trends in government and fight those brands harmful.

Declaring again that the league is not partisan or anti-administration and that "it will hope to work with the administration toward objectives beneficial to the country," Shouse said:

"It will not fail to uphold fundamental Americanism against subversive theories and alien doctrines."

Terms Codes Rediculous.

Declaring that "in many regards" NRA has served a useful purpose and that he would not "ruthlessly sacrifice everything" connected with it, he said:

"That the NRA has indulged in unwaranted excesses of attempted regulation there can be no doubt. That its policy of price fixing is detrimental to the best interests of the great mass of the people is my firm belief. That its attempt to write codes for every little business of the country was absurd and ridiculous there is small question."

My dear Mr. McMahon:

On Thursday, November 1, O'Connor & Goldberg ran their first run-of-paper 3-color page in the Chicago Tribune. We featured an unusual value in genuine baby alligator shoes at $6.85. On the strength of our confidence in this page, we made a heavy purchase of baby alligator skins to be made into these shoes.

The Tribune came through with flying colors. At the end of the day, the entire line of these shoes was completely broken in sizes and sold down to very few pairs. Since then, we have had to make more shoes because the calls are still pouring in steadily. We also received mail orders from all over the country.

We thought you would like to know that it was a great success, and one of the outstanding promotions in this business.

Sincerely yours,

JUDGE ORDERS DIVORCE ACTION IN SUPPORT SUIT

Favors "Broad View" of Marital Tangles.

Superior Judge Joseph B. David yesterday took action to have a separate maintenance suit changed to a divorce action when it appeared that an outright divorce was justified.

The case was that of Mrs. Anna P. Hench, 46 years old, 523 Deming place, who was suing her husband, Norman P., 62, a civil engineer for the Illinois Steel company, for separate maintenance. At his suggestion Mrs. Hench promised to amend her suit to one for divorce, after efforts at reconciliation had failed.

Charges $23,000 Due.

The Henches were married July 17, 1930, and separated two years later. Mrs. Hench sued for separate maintenance on grounds of cruelty and nonsupport. She charged her husband with having failed to repay $23,000 he had borrowed to buy stocks.

Hench, in a cross bill for divorce, denied the cruelty and nonsupport allegations and charged his wife with desertion. He said that the $23,000 in question had been a joint business venture that failed. He set forth that he had paid his wife $4,000 alimony in 180 monthly payments.

Judge David suggested that the couple might compose their differences, but Hench strenuously denied this.

Favors "Broad View."

"Then divorce is the proper remedy," the court said. "If two people can't agree well enough to live together, their union should be severed legally. The courts should take a broad view of such cases, and should not be too technical. If a judge is satisfied that two people have disagreed hopelessly, he can exercise his power of discretion."

The judge indicated that if Mrs. Hench would amend her bill to one for divorce he would grant it. Mrs. Hench assented, but insisted that her husband be compelled to return the $23,000. Judge David referred the money matter to his master in chancery, Fred Bernstein. Mrs. Hench's attorney, Willis Melville, promised to amend his client's suit when the money question is satisfactorily adjusted.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 20.—(AP)—Ben B. Lindsey, former Denver Juvenile court judge, today won a court tilt challenging his right to mount the Los Angeles Superior court bench to which he was elected Nov. 6. Judge Emmet H. Judge Wilson held the statute unconstitutional.

MAYBE DEALER IN LIGHTNING RODS SHOULD SEE HIM

Kenneth H. King, 711 Forest avenue, Wilmette, doubts the old adage that lightning never strikes twice in the same place. He even believes that lightning may follow a person around with malicious intent.

Two years ago Mr. King, while spending a few days at Wawasee, Ind., saw ball lightning roll across the surface of the lake, explode with a roar, and split a tree near the King party.

Last Sunday night Mr. King was driving to his home in a thunderstorm. In Lake avenue, just west of Ridge road, lightning struck the radiator cap of his car and traveled through the radiator.

"Lightning traveling at approximately 186,000 miles a second does not give one time for contemplation," Mr. King said. "I saw a streak of light and heard a roar. When I reached home the only apparent effect was the boiling water in the radiator."

Bigamy Suspect Talks; 2 Seized in Robbery

Seized when a friend who had been arrested on a charge of bigamy informed against them, David Silverman, 3420 West Roosevelt road, and Edward Katsovitz, 1133 South Spaulding avenue, both 20 years old, yesterday were held to the grand jury in bonds of $7,500 each for robbery of a tavern. Both are at liberty pending trial for assault to kill William Kersten, 60 years old, in Washington square several weeks ago. The friend who informed on them is Lawrence Jones, 36 years old, 4454 Oakenwald avenue.

ATTENTIVE CLASS OF 5,000 ENJOYS COOKING SCHOOL

Sophie Tucker to Attend at Aragon Today.

Women from the Gold Coast and from the far north shore mingled with women from the tenement areas in the friendly atmosphere which attended the disclosure of cooking secrets by Mrs. Ida M. Chitwood, home economics expert.

Mrs. Chitwood prepared ten dishes for the edification of her huge but interested class.

Concentrating on "inexpensive nutritiousness," she prepared three "key" dishes in a "round the clock with Mrs. Chitwood" demonstration. Each dish, she explained, is sufficient for a complete meal for six persons, and no dish costs more than 45 cents.

Meals in a Single Dish.

For breakfast, she prepared bacon and egg rings, in which she introduced the unusual combination of grated raw potatoes and sliced apple. For lunch she prepared scalloped tomatoes and cheese, into which she inserted sausage. For dinner she demonstrated the making of creamed ham in a rice border.

Between the lectures appeared entertainers, introduced by Phil Maxwell, master of ceremonies. These included Roy Cropper of the Empire room of the Palmer house, the "original Student Prince"; John Burdette, Negro baritone, and his "Cotton Pickers" ensemble; George Olsen and Ethel Shutta of the Hotel Sherman College Inn; Bob Forsans, W-G-N tenor; Robert Stapp, tenor; dancers from the Betty Jones School of Dancing; Tim Healy of the Ivory Stamp Club of the Air; Carl Craven, who led the women in community singing, and Leon Benditzky, pianist.

Special Attractions Today.

Rhea Seeger, THE TRIBUNE's fashion editor, and Eleanor Page, assistant society editor, made short talks.

Today two events are in store for the women. One is the appearance of Sophie Tucker. The other will be the preparation by Mrs. Chitwood of buckwheat cakes, made in answer to the "Cry of Distress" of "L. J. K.," who, writing in THE TRIBUNE's Voice of the People on Nov. 15, said:

"I want buckwheat cakes. I require buckwheat cakes. I must have buckwheat cakes! Where can I get them?"

To "L. J. K." Mrs. Chitwood has extended an invitation to sit on the Aragon stage today while she prepares the desired buckwheat cakes by her own incomparable recipe.

"What's more," she promises, "I'll let him be official queen's taster."

KILLED BY FALL IN HOME.

HOLIDAY DEMAND SPURS ACTIVITIES OF CHICKEN THIEF

Holiday demand for chickens apparently is increasing night raids of thieves who travel in trucks and automobiles from farm to farm in the Chicago area, filling coops, and selling the birds in local and central markets. Chicken thieves have shifted their activities somewhat from highways to the barnyard, influenced, apparently, by low prices.

A decline has been noted in the operations of the thief whose methods involve big scale hijacking of poultry trucks en route to central markets, but the old-fashioned sneak who raids the farmers' poultry houses apparently is becoming more active.

Poultry experts say that a relatively small volume of stolen chickens reach Chicago, where approximately 60,000,000 pounds of poultry come to the market in a single year. The effect on the market price of selling stolen poultry is a matter of speculation. Students of the problem point out that thieves are not likely to haggle over prices. Stolen birds enter the trade unidentified and soon seek the price level that governs the sale of legitimate birds against which they compete for sale.

A few farmers keep watchdogs to protect their flocks or have alarms installed in their poultry houses. In some communities farmers use a poultry tattoo system. In each county the farmers are given individual numbers and these are registered with the sheriff. The web of the bird's wing is tattooed, making it possible to identify stolen birds in packing plants or on merchants' counters.

200,000 Motor-Minded Men

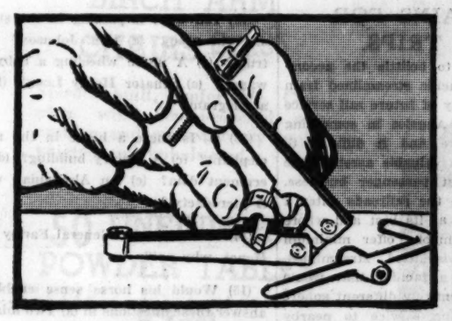
See Why Germ Processed Oil Cuts Motor Wear and Saves You Money!

AFTER seeing the demonstration of oiliness and film strength pictured below, at least 200,000 motor-minded men have been convinced that "Any oil would be better oil if Germ Processed!"

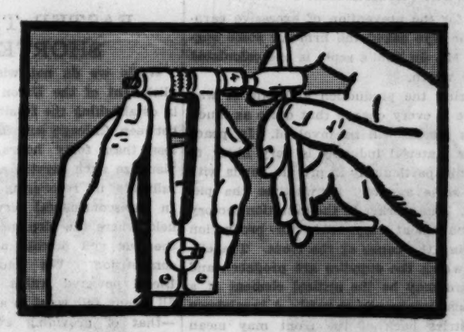
Every well-known motor oil in America has been tried in this instrument. The addition of a drop of Germ Essence to every oil used gave an increase in film strength and oiliness that could be felt, seen and heard!

That's proof that New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil—the only oil made by the patented Germ Process—has greater film strength and more oiliness than any mineral oil. Proof that it will give you greater motor protection and lower oil consumption.

Change at any of the 18,000 Conoco Red Triangle stations and ride with the comfortable feeling that you have the safest, finest motor oil ever made.



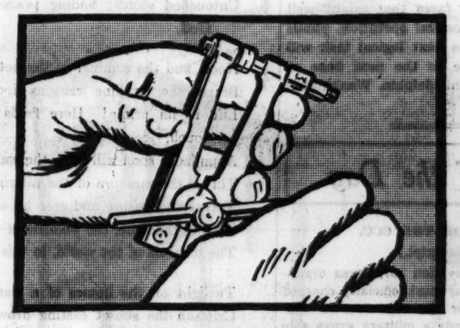
1 Assembling the instrument: Split bearings and shaft, lubricated with competitive oil, are clamped between "jaws" of instrument.



2 Shaft is turned to distribute oil evenly: Set-screw is tightened until bearing and shaft are under extreme pressure.

3 Crank is used to turn shaft: Oil film ruptures and bearings "seize." Shaft extremely hard to turn: You can even hear the metal-to-metal contact!

4 Drop of patented Germ Essence is added to oil in bearing: Same extreme pressure is applied: Original oil has now been Germ Processed.



5 Shaft can now be turned easily: Smooth, quiet movement—no seizing—no sound: Proof that Germ Processing increases oiliness and film strength of any oil!

SCIENCE IMPROVES ON NATURE

By combining other elements with iron, science produced alloy steels of special strength and durability. Many of these alloy steels are used in your car: By adding Germ Essence to fine mineral oil, Continental scientists produced Conoco Germ Processed Oil, which has greater film strength and stability. Drive in at the Conoco Red Triangle to get greater motor protection and lower oil consumption!

WAR PROFITS.

Lammot du Pont has made some recommendations to Senator Nye's committee which is investigating the munitions industry. Mr. du Pont says his firm joins in the opinion that excessive war profits should be eliminated and that the country's material resources must be mobilized in case of war for the prevention of excessive earnings. Senator Nye asked the firm for some suggestions and Mr. du Pont's reply is one calculated to turn away wrath.

In considering the production and sale of war supplies there is every chance that quite as much sentiment as reason will be involved. In peace time the war material industry is very likely to appear demonic, particularly in private hands with enterprising sales agents. In wartime the picture changes. The worker in the munition factory and the management responsible for production are then saving the cause at the front. The efficiency with which the supplies are produced and moved forward may be the critical element at a time of national emergency or peril. A breakdown in the industries back of the front may mean the destruction of the front, but what is to be inspired to greater and greater efforts in emergency is under a cloud when the emergency does not exist.

Legend would like to make the international munition makers into war makers. It is to be questioned whether the historical finger could be put on the spot at which an American armament or munition maker became responsible for any war in which the United States was ever engaged. It is, however, true that every American war has found agents of the United States government feverishly trying to get production of supplies started at home and buying in every open market in the world to fill out domestic deficiencies. When this happens money becomes no object and price unimportant. Inferior material becomes expensive and men are improperly equipped. There is necessarily a great deal of tragedy in this, but a peaceful nation is inclined to take the chance because it naturally tends to think its latest war was its last one.

When war produces great demands, prices rise and profits are made. That is as true of wheat as it is of steel and explosives. Although there may later be a penalty, producers both on the farm and in the factory feel the boom of prosperity.

We can all remember what happened in American material production in the world war when suddenly the United States needed a million things it didn't have. The scandal of the airplanes is memorable and there was another almost as tragic in the making of guns.

Great private fortunes were made and lost in supplying the military needs of the United States government. There was some equalization at least by taxation, but the country will always have to deal with the sentiment that it is sinful for some citizens to be gaining money because other citizens are giving up their lives. This sentiment may lose sight of the fact that there is nothing a country needs so much when it needs it as war material, and nothing so costly as not to have it. So long as large profits pay large taxes there is at least the beginning of a compensation to the nation at large for the great national expenditures. In searching for other compensations it is well to go slow. Hatred of war and its devices would be a sounder counselor if that hatred could be relied upon to prevent war. If it doesn't prevent that but does produce a panic of unsupplied military needs it has not been a very wise counselor.

VARIOUS FAIRY TALES.

The President, speaking at Tupelo, Miss., said:

"I cite certain figures for the benefit of the gentlemen of the press who have come hither from many climes. I am told that from March of this year, when you started using TVA power, the consumption of power for residential purposes has risen from 41,000 kilowatts to 89,000 kilowatts, an increase of 126 per cent. I understand that from the financial point of view, in spite of various fairy tales that have been spread in other parts of the country, your system is still paying taxes to the municipality."

Perhaps the reference to "various fairy tales" was to a recent brochure entitled "Debunking the TVA," which was published by Appalachian Coals, Inc., the marketing agency for 250 southern coal mines. The discussion of the Tupelo situation in that brochure reads as follows:

"A small community in Mississippi is acquiring national advertisment. It is the municipality of Tupelo [population 5,000]—first beneficiary of TVA's 'cheap' electricity. The citizens of Tupelo are enjoying new low rates. Their light bills are greatly reduced. Their consumption of electricity, previously subnormal, shows a large increase. Tupelo's municipal electric light company claims to be showing a profit. Tupelo becomes TVA's exhibit A and is cited as a practical demonstration of TVA's ability to reduce rates, double consumption and operate at a profit.

"The facts are that Tupelo's municipal electric system is no new venture. Tupelo always has had municipal plant operation, and its electric rates, now so drastically reduced, were not private company rates but the municipality's own rates and Tupelo was charging its domestic consumers from one and a half to twice as high as rates charged in adjacent areas by private utilities.

"What has transpired at Tupelo is: [1] TVA is now selling power wholesale to the municipal plant at a rate of 5.5 mills or about ½ cent per kilowatt hour lower than formerly charged by the private utility that had been furnishing the wholesale energy to the city and its industrial consumers; [2] TVA has required Tupelo to drastically reduce its own retail rates; and [3] TVA is applying high pressure promotion to stimulate Tupelo's consumption of electricity.

"Tupelo's experience does not demonstrate that TVA's wholesale electric rate is a profitable rate to TVA nor does it prove that TVA's own electric power business is on a self-sustaining basis."

THE PRIMROSE PATH.

Moral conventions are seldom arbitrary restrictions on personal conduct even if they do show modifications from age to age and generation to generation. Basically they represent for any given people the proof of experience and are adjustments of life to afford peace of mind, provide security and avoid injury to others. The sum total is virtue, which realistically is expedient and spiritually is self-compensating.

Several recent tragedies of overwrought emotions bringing death to young women who had sought happiness in irregularities and unconventional life point the lesson that experience is against them. The equalitarianism which women can assume or assert, which in much of modern life they can enjoy, has not swept across the boards. The boy stepping aside has chances against him but more with him than the girl. Suffrage laws and the new opportunities for women to support themselves have not changed the conventions based on the experience and choice of people in this social and economic structure, in this climate and with these traditions.

Youth may think the penalties are so remote and impalpable as not to be expected in the train of events, but the wanton road is away from security, tranquility and happiness. The undisciplined victim of delusions must pay the toll.

FASTER TRAINS FOR SHORTER TRIPS.

While we do not wish to belittle the accomplishment of the Union Pacific streamlined train in establishing the feasibility of future rail service between Chicago and Los Angeles in something less than forty hours, we find it difficult to visualize such service as a valuable asset to the railways in recovering lost passenger business. In transcontinental service the railroads enter a field where the airplane is at its best and where the bus and private automobile offer minimum competition. We had visualized streamlined, Diesel powered trains as a facility that would fill a long felt want in an entirely different sphere—that of providing evening service to nearby points that now are reached by overnight schedules.

We have become accustomed to overnight service to such cities as Detroit, Toledo, Cleveland, Indianapolis, St. Louis, and the Twin Cities, not because we enjoy a ride on a sleeper, but rather because the daylight schedules consume so many valuable hours. With the general acceleration of rail passenger speeds that is now possible, the situation becomes complicated because either time of departure is too late, the time of arrival too early, or both. A suggestion that speed be limited to remove this awkwardness would not meet with public approval.

Sleeper service has been a great boon to the business world, but only as a time saver. No matter how perfect the roadbed, a berth on a moving train appeals to few as ideal quarters for a good night's rest. Add cramped accommodations for clothing, abbreviated morning ablutions in a crowded washroom and the traveler starts his day's work jaded and possibly somewhat wrinkled. Through the medium of these new units the railways should be able to offer to these nearby points train departures in the late afternoon to provide arrivals before midnight. With some adjustment in fares that might well result from the more economical operation, public patronage will follow. The next logical task will be to reduce the schedule to the next zone of destinations—New York, Philadelphia, Washington—to overnight service.

Editorial of the Day

DISCIPLINE FOR THE CCC.

[Peoria Transcript.]

When the Civilian Conservation corps was organized a year ago war department officials, charged with furnishing officers for the organization, suggested that the corps be made a military group subject to the articles of war and military discipline.

These suggestions brought forth a storm of protest. This newspaper was among those that saw a danger in making the CCC a body of "storm troops," which it probably would have amounted to under military organization, inasmuch as it might have been commanded by reserve officers selected for political leanings rather than military knowledge.

But perhaps we were wrong. The attack of CCC workers in Massachusetts on their officers and CCC disturbances in other parts of the country indicate that the corps needs greater discipline than civil authority puts in the hands of officers.

The riot in New England was caused by the fact that the government ordered the removal of youths from their native state to the south for the winter months to save expense. The CCC workers did not want to be separated from their families and attacked the officers so viciously that several had to be taken to hospitals.

Such an offense clearly requires more severe punishment than that provided by the civil law for assault and battery. A term in a federal prison would follow summarily if the youths were under military discipline.

A youth who attacks an army officer who is carrying out government orders for that youth's own welfare deserves the most severe penalty that military law can impose.

THAT HORSE-SENSE PICTURE.

In a civil service examination in Washington the candidates studied a picture for five minutes. Then the picture was taken away from them and they had to answer a lot of questions regarding it. You've no doubt seen the picture, so you will now be given thirty minutes to reply to the questions and show whether you've got horse sense or not. If you haven't seen the picture you get only ten minutes to answer the questions, because that makes it easier.

(2) Which man looks like the dome on the capitol?

(3) This being a room in Washington, to what political party do the four men belong?

(4) One of the men in the picture is drinking ice water. Would that mean he was a stranger in Washington or that he was broke?

(5) Something hangs in a frame on the wall. Is it a picture of Thomas Jefferson or a list of new jobs about to be given out by NRA?

(6) Is the object in the corner a congressman or a rubber stamp?

(7) There is something on the table. Would that be easy money or just something that the cat brought in?

(8) The door is closed. Who is outside the door and about to come in? (a) A brain truster? (b) A U. S. senator? (c) A bootlegger? (d) A horse and wagon? (e) A freight train? or (f) A small child carrying a woolly dog?

(9) One man in the picture is pouring something from a pint bottle into a glass he holds in the other hand. Is he pouring (a) hair oil? (b) Kerosene? (c) Molasses? (d) Sarsaparilla? (c) Soothing sirup?

(10) Three of the men have their hats on. Does this mean they have just been given jobs and haven't had time to take them off, or that they expect to be fired any minute and are all ready to go?

(11) There is a ridge along the floor showing something has been plowed under. What is it? (a) Little pigs? (b) Cotton? (c) Corn? (d) The Republican party?

(12) Tell what is passing in the street just outside the room. (a) Gen. Johnson? (b) The brain trust? (c) A nurse wheeling a baby? (d) An ice wagon? (e) Senator Hooey Long? (f) A boy with a telegram?

(13) (a) Is there a horse in the room? (b) An elephant? (c) A factory building? (d) A new government dam? (c) An Abyssinian wart hog? (f) A pterodactyl?

(14) Is Postmaster General Farley in the room? If not, why not?

(15) Would his horse sense enable a horse to answer these questions in (a) Two minutes? (b) Ten minutes? (c) Two years?

HE SEEKS A COUNTRY NEW, AFAR.

Something, the scent of blossoms near, maybe
The mellow magic of a harvest moon,
Brings back the vision of the years to me,
A father reading from the Word; the swoon
Of pregnant dreams and hopes; a faith austere;
He seeks a country, new, afar . . . the pioneer.

Morn on the prairies of the untrailed west,
Rosy the promise of the beckoning day,
Young hearts a-climb! From stone-scarred mountain crest
To lush grassed vale, the white-topped wagons sway.
This is the pilgrim, leaving coddling hearths,
Daring want and cold, breaking virgin sod,
Wresting food with naked hands from hard earth's Untouched stores; finding peace and keeping God.

Noon, and the summer in the hot heat's clutch,
Brazen the sunshine wantons ripening grains,
Abundance soon will heap the waiting wains.
This is the measure of the pilgrim's brawn.
Travel and leisure and ease he wants not,
He sees the stars, the wonders of the dawn,

Crimson the sunset casting drowsy rays.
Reaping in its time! Gold and purple dressed
Indian summer croons her songs of praise.
This is the fruitage of the pilgrim's toil,
Finer the rugged faith that tills the soil
Than that of popes, to me, remembering—

It is the scent of blossoms here, laid low
To ease the starkness of fresh spaded ground,
It is the harvest moon whose waning glow
In silver teardrops trembles on a mound.
Life . . . Life . . . a name the ages will revere,
He seeks a country new, afar—the pioneer.

ROBERTA ROBERTSON.

SENATOR BORAH proclaims that much of the expenditure of the federal relief administration is naught but "shameful waste." QUINSY SORE THROAT.

ALTHOUGH abscess in the tonsil is known by a number of jaw breaking names, it is popularly called quinsy. It is a painful and potentially dangerous condition and must be managed with great care. The disease is fairly common and not infrequently causes more discomfort and disability than any other type of throat infection.

In an earlier article the tonsil crypts were described. These are indentations or canals that lead from the surface into the substance of the gland. Bacteria usually gain entrance through a break in or injury to the thin crypt lining and thus penetrate the tonsil tissue. If the crypts are normal and open, allowing free drainage, and if the tonsil is not otherwise diseased, abscesses will not form. Infection, however, that fastens itself deep within the tonsil, fairly close to the thick, fibrous tissue at the back of the gland, will usually find a favorable spot where bacteria can grow rapidly and set up inflammation with the formation of pus.

The onset of the disease is usually characterized by two or three days of considerable pain, swelling, and soreness on one side of the throat. The pain is usually aggravated by swallowing and frequently radiates to the ear. There may be no real stiffness of the neck, but the head is usually held rigidly. The patient can open his mouth only with great difficulty, and the breath has a foul odor.

If the abscess is small, and if the resistance of the patient is high, recovery may occur without opening the abscess. The pus gradually absorbs and firm scar tissue takes the place of the destroyed tonsil substance. Now and then the abscess may break of its own accord. The pus may burrow to the surface of the tonsil and an opening occur either during the act of swallowing or of gargling.

In all throat infections a culture for diphtheria should be made. This is a necessary precaution, as occasionally diphtheria may complicate other throat infections or may simulate tonsilitis or even quinsy.

Much relief may be secured through the use of warm salt or alkaline gargles, followed by dusting powdered aspirin [acetyl-salicylic acid] over the swollen area. The patient should be kept in bed and an ice bag applied to the throat. Sometimes the abscess is so superficial that a slight incision will bring about an evacuation of the pus. More often it will require three or more days for the abscess to form, so as to insure adequate drainage when the opening is made.

Though as little surgery as possible should be employed in the presence of infection, it is nevertheless necessary to empty the abscess in order to avoid many of the complications that unfortunately now and then occur, such as middle ear disease, mastoid disease, and secondary infection of the kidney.

One of the most comforting procedures is to allow the patient to lean over the side of the bed, the head lower than the body. In this position hot normal salt solution from an irrigator is allowed to flow over the swollen area. As the fluid leaves the mouth it is caught in a basin. The heat serves to stimulate a local concentration of leucocytes, gives great relief from pain, and cleanses the throat of accumulated toxins.

During the progress of the disease as well as during the period of convalescence, which by the way must not be hurried, everything possible should be done to build the resistance of the patient. Large quantities of liquid should be given, including orange juice. Salicylates will help relieve pain; the bowels must be kept functioning, and the blood destruction which nearly always accompanies the condition will need to be restored by appropriate iron tonics.

One of the potent arguments for early removal of infected tonsils is that this distressing and painful affliction will not be encountered by those who have parted with these disease harboring glands.

MAY BE ANEMIA.

J. G. E. writes: I am troubled with sharp pains in the fleshy parts of my arms and hands when moving them in certain directions, as putting on coat, etc. The joints are never affected and there is no soreness to the touch. I have a small hard bunch on one finger which is never painful. I am 73 years old and take iron constantly to fight a tendency toward anemia. I am apparently well in other respects.

REPLY.

It is possible that the pains are caused by temporary anemia of the muscles. The condition is quite common, but appears in the legs more frequently than in the arms and hands. No doubt changes have occurred that have narrowed the blood vessels somewhat. It is coupled with a slowing down of circulation and may mean a deficient supply of blood to the muscles that are called upon to function. You may have felt the same sharp pain in the muscles of the thigh after sitting in one position for some time. On first attempting to move the leg this pain is felt. Massage and heat will help relieve the condition.

PSORIASIS.

G. W. writes: In connection with your article on psoriasis won't you please go further into the subject and tell us whether any medical treatment has been found that will neutralize or eliminate the excess of blood fat that is suspected of causing this disease?

REPLY.

Dr. Grutz's nonfat diet is given as follows: Soups with little fat [fat content skimmed off after cooling], white of egg, lean beef [roast or boiled], lean veal, lean game, lean fish [pike, perch, shell fish], sugar, malt, honey, fruit and berry juices, rice, grits, potatoes, macaroni, noodles, all vegetables [prepared without fat], zwieback, bread, and rolls [made without shortening]. Several weeks on this diet will be required to reduce blood fat.

GARNISHMENT.

Chicago, Nov. 17.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. How is a wage garnishment issued, and by whom? 2. How much can the wages of a married man be garnisheed? 3. Can the wages of a married man making $15 a week be garnisheed? I am a married man and five years ago bought jewelry on credit. I paid all but $6 on a $130 credit. I had some repair work done on my wife's ring by the same firm and called to make the $6 payment and at the same time get and pay for my wife's ring. My wife was on the road with a vaudeville act at the time, but gave me a letter to them signed by the same name on the credit contract, which name was her stage name. They refused to accept the letter, disregarding the signatures and the fact we had been in the store together on many occasions. I refused to pay the remaining $6 on my credit until the ring was released. I was gone for four years and in the meantime the jewelry firm sold the ring and are now trying to collect [4] $11 from me. A. V. S.

1. The garnishment summons is like a summons in a new suit. It is served after the judgment has been taken by the creditor against the debtor.

2. The exemption is $20 per week.

3. Not if he is living with his wife so that he is head of a family.

4. You do not state what interest you agreed to pay. The mere fact that you tendered payment of the principal sum would not release you from liability for the principal sum, although it would release you from liability for subsequent interest if you could satisfy a court that the tender was a proper one.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

MORTGAGE DEFAULT.

Chicago, Nov. 14.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—We have been unable to make any payments on either interest or principal on a first mortgage on the home in which we lived for the last year and a half. There is also a second mortgage. A receiver was appointed and last week his agent called and informed us that we owed him rent for the months of October and November, which we are unable to pay. We have been told that without further notice they can put our furniture out in the street. Will you please advise us? E. J. B.

If you make no resistance in the foreclosure proceedings the receiver can put you out. We suggest that you have a personal interview with an attorney to discuss the possibility of having some occupancy allowed.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

MORTGAGES.

Galena, Ill., Nov. 14.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A first mortgage against a residence was dated March 27 and filed March 29, 1930. Second mortgage was dated June 10 and filed June 14, 1930. When the first mortgage was released, $500, [1] the note and interest were paid and the mortgage released. 2. The canceled note was promised in a few days, but not turned in. On June 3 a claim for nonpayment of note was dated and [3] filed June 4, 1932. 4. Does the one filing the claim for nonpayment of note have any equity before the [5] other two mortgages, or would it be a lien inferior only to the first and second mortgages? W. S.

1. Ordinarily the party who had the mortgage in his possession in order to release it would also have the notes. Your facts seem peculiar.

2. The debtor on a negotiable instrument should always insist that the instrument be canceled and surrendered at the time of final payment.

3. We do not understand what you mean by saying that a claim was filed.

4. A person making a payment to a party who has no right to collect it must look for recovery to the party to whom he has made the erroneous payment. You give us no facts as to whether the holder of the note had by his conduct or otherwise acquiesced the payments to the party with whom you deal, or had otherwise authorized the payments.

5. It is not clear what "other two" mortgages you refer to.

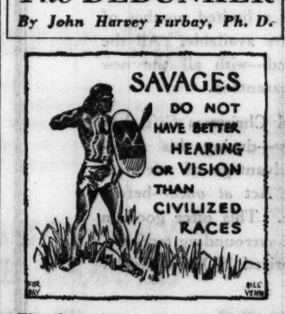
The DEBUNKER

By John Harvey Furbay, Ph. D.



The fact that savages hear slight sounds and see delicate footprints in the sand, while these are unnoticed by most civilized people, does not prove that their sense of hearing or sight is better. It merely indicates that the savage has trained his senses to recognize these things. On the other hand, civilized man sees many things that the savage does not. There is probably no difference in their abilities, scientists say.

THE A B C OF MOVIE CENSORSHIP.

Chicago, Nov. 17.—I agree:

1. That admittance of minors to movies should be carefully regulated.

2. That adults should be entitled to know in advance the moral character of exhibitions, and be thus protected from involuntarily witnessing what might be offensive to them.

I deny:

1. That any police or other censor [whom I consider my intellectual inferior] should have the right to prescribe what pictures I, an adult, should or should not see.

[b] Having them classify those withheld from minors into two groups—i, e., [1] those pictures to which no reasonable adult could object, and [2] others.

[c] Requiring the censors' classification to be displayed by exhibitors. No adult could then complain of having seen a production objectionable to him on moral grounds. He would have been warned in advance and had the privilege of staying away.

Under the present paternalistic system, staying away from the current crop of insipidities is no privilege, but an intellectual necessity. What kind of people are we to let a group of politically appointed censors tell us what entertainment we can and can't have, and charge us for it in the bargain? ANTI-CENSOR.

GEORGE ROGERS CLARK'S GRAVE.

Danville, Ill., Nov. 16.—In an editorial in THE TRIBUNE anent Harrodsburg and George Rogers Clark, the erudite gentleman who instructs the illiterate states that "Clark's monument in St. Louis is overshadowed by those of relatives." George Rogers Clark is buried in Louisville. He was a Virginian and his troops for the expedition were mainly mobilized near Redstone, Pa.

The farsightedness of Patrick Henry was not the power behind the enterprise, but Thomas Jefferson, who was a friend and a former neighbor of the sandy haired expansionist. William Clark of the Lewis-Clark expedition was a younger brother. The writer of the editorial is correct in his statement that for many years the public overlooked his achievements. Clark for many years endeavored to get the government to pay back money he had spent in winning what is now five states for the Union. In other words, the dear people of that day were "against the bonus." Yankee thrift, my dear editorial writer, is the backbone of our nation.

"G" never paid him the money and he died in poverty. Congress did award him a nicely engraved new sword, which was presented amid a flow of fervid oratory by a congressional committee. The tradition of that country says that he cussed out the committee and broke the sword. Viva Clark!

CHARLES M. CRAYTON.

THE NEWFOUNDLAND MARKET.

HARBOR GRACE, Newfoundland, Nov. 5.—If imitation is the sincerest form of flattery, and it is, then the Newfoundland Industries association has administered a liberal dose, for in large display advertisments in all the local papers advertising a fortnight's "fair and exhibition of locally made goods" it proclaims it "A Century of Progress" in Newfoundland.

That small Newfoundland should look to big United States in general and to Chicago in particular for inspiration is as it should be and emphasizes a state of mind existing whereby the ideas and ideals of the American people are more nearly those of Newfoundlanders than are the ones of the people of Great Britain.

Why not advertise "The Great Wembley of Newfoundland" or "Newfoundland's White City"? Simply because it would not mean a thing to 90 per cent of the people. Our proximity to the United States, a steady inpouring of United States newspapers and magazines, and the daily touch through the radio have engendered and fostered a liking for things and materials from that land and a desire to emulate and copy them in their best and noteworthy endeavors.

This condition of mind is one that American manufacturers should know of and keep before them when considering their export trade, a department in which of late they appear to be under a narcotic, and the usual American push and initiative are conspicuous by their absence. Newfoundland's trade with the United States is normally about 12 million dollars' worth of imports therefrom. This will be largely food products, feeds, meats, etc., but there is, nevertheless, nice business in general commodities, electric goods, boots and shoes, cotton piece goods, converted goods, ready mades, rubber boots, etc.

While it is true that Great Britain has been and is now our fairy godmother, having come forward with help of money and sent some of her best brains to assist us when we were near down, and the new custom tarif to come into effect on Jan. 1 will somewhat be as a show of appreciation, giving as it does practically a 10 per cent preference to Great Britain, yet the wishes and buying preference of the public will be for American goods, to which they are used, and they will get them only so far as the American business man and exporting firms are not found asleep at the switch and a large bulk of nice business goes flying away at a tangent and very likely lost for all time.

America has much of the goods Newfoundlanders are desirous of buying, and Newfoundlanders have the desire and inclination to purchase American products and manufactures, and some one will have blundered if artificial barriers and handicaps keep this desire from fulfilment.

In the larger consideration of export trade by American firms and business men let Newfoundland find a niche. Small it may be, but "every mickle makes a muckle." S. L. SHEPPARD.

SALES TAX FIGHT IN ASSEMBLY LED BY REPUBLICANS

Merchants' Lobby Aids in Battle.

BY PERCY WOOD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—Republicans built fires in both houses of the legislature today in hopes of destroying Gov. Horner's permanent sales tax bill. They had strong support from spokesmen for thousands of merchants in Illinois who are the agency for the state in the collection of a 2 per cent levy on all retail sales.

Opposition had not developed to such a point however, as to prevent the bill's advancement to third reading. This action was taken late in the day after attempts to amend it had been defeated in each chamber. The house roll call will be the most interesting tomorrow and if the bill is passed, then it will be sent to the senate and the smaller body will be kept here to pass it Friday. Then the session will adjourn.

The Republican minorities are counting on a few Democrats from the border counties to give them something near formidable strength. Groundwork called for united action among the Republicans in each chamber and this was attempted today with moderate success.

Republicans Hold Caucus.

Actual discussion of the merits of the sales tax came late in the day. Preceding the joint session which debated the contention of the merchants that the bill is "unjust, unfair, and discriminatory," house Republicans went into secret session and decided to bind their members to the caucus rule of voting as a unit, while the senate Republicans took their action openly to the floor of their chamber.

Under the sponsorship of Senator Simon E. Lantz [Rep., Congerville], a resolution was introduced accusing the governor of dictatorial action and "un-Americanism." His call for the the special session "afforded no opportunity for the members to use their best judgment" in considering the future of the sales tax. A flat "yes" or "no" is about the only action a member can take in this session, Lantz and his colleagues believe.

Senator Francis J. Loughran [Dem., Chicago], who is handling the bill for the governor, moved to table the resolution and upon this motion the roll was called. Tabling was voted 27 to 8, with a few instances of fence jumping being recorded.

The roll showed Senators Richard J. Barr of Joliet, Republican floor leader, and James J. Barbour [Rep., Evanston], voting with the Democrats to kill Lantz's resolution, while Senator James O. Monroe [Dem., Collinsville], an anti-Horner member, cast his lot with the Republicans. The bills need 26 votes for passage and if today's roll was a test, it seemed in good position to win approval, perhaps tomorrow.

Approve Caucus Rule.

The house picture is a little different. The Republican conference went on record, with only two members dissenting, as approving application of the caucus rule of the minority being bound by majority in the future attitude toward the tax.

In less technical language, it was explained that the Republicans will caucus again at 9 a. m. tomorrow, and all those who attend will agree to be bound by the vote of the majority. So, if most of the Republicans vote to oppose the tax, all those for supporting it will waive their convictions and stand with the opposition.

About 50 Republicans attended the caucus today. It was reported that those voting against application of the majority rule were R. V. Libonati of Chicago and R. G. Soderstrom of Streator, president of the Illinois Federation of Labor.

The senate chamber was chosen for the joint session to hear the formal protests of the merchants and they were presented by J. T. Meek of Chicago, director of the mercantile division of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce.

Tells Retailers' Complaint.

Meek said that he spoke for more than 96,000 retailers who had had great difficulty in absorbing the tax during the fifteen months of its operation. They have sought means of passing it on to the consumer, he said, but have encountered great difficulty in finding an equitable system, particularly where small sales are involved. Opposing reënactment of the tax in its present form, the retailers want a provision which would make mandatory the passing on of the tax to the purchaser.

This matter was much discussed last session and it was decided that such a provision would make the bill unconstitutional.

O. L. Wilson, superintendent of the legislative division of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce, told the members that Meek spoke for the following organizations: Chicago Retail Druggists' association, Illinois Retail Grocers' and Food Dealers' association, Chicago-Cook County Retail Grocers' association, Illinois Retail Meat Dealers' association, Illinois Retail Hardware association, Chicago Retail Hardware association, Retail Furniture Association, Illinois Multiple Stores association, Illinois Implement Dealers' association, Independent Retail Dry Goods association, Chicago Restaurant association, and the Illinois Pharmaceutical association.

ORDERS VERDICT OF NOT GUILTY IN ARREST SUIT

Circuit Judge Harry M. Fisher yesterday directed a jury to return a verdict of not guilty in the $250,000 false arrest suit brought by Samuel Friedman, former Chicago clothing merchant and now a resident of Ottumwa, Ia., against Dr. Charles R. Read, superintendent of the state hospital for the insane at Elgin, nine other physicians, two policemen, and a clerk of the Pyschopathic court.

Friedman charged he had been confined in the hospital in 1927 and 1928 against his will. The directed verdict came after Assistant State's Attorney William T. Crimy, representing one of the defendants, argued that Friedman had been committed to the hospital by a court order.

RELIEF ECONOMY TO BE OBJECT OF MEETINGS HERE

Hopkins to Tell 1935 Plans for Midwest.

Harry Hopkins, chief of the Federal Emergency Relief administration, to to speak on Friday and Saturday in the Stevens hotel to conferences convoked to tighten up on the procedure of relief administration in thirteen states of the central west.

Besides instituting economy measures, Mr. Hopkins will sketch the government's plans for relief in this area during 1935, according to Howard O. Hunter, regional representative of the FERA.

In the conferences will sit administrators, chief auditors and chief statisticians of relief organizations in Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota and Kansas.

While in Chicago, Mr. Hopkins is to discuss relief before the United States conference of mayors, now in session here.

Mr. Hunter, who had just returned from the Washington headquarters of the FERA, was asked what he thought about the Illinois Emergency Relief commission's order to dismiss one fourth of the 5,200 staf employés in its Cook county division. In his jurisdiction are seven states.

"It's all right," he said emphatically. "It seems to me they can afford to make the cut."

Mr. Hunted repeated, in answer to another question, that the relations between the FERA and Illinois are "harmonious." This state is awaiting word from the FERA on its request for $12,061,388 additional federal funds to help meet December relief needs.

Wilfred S. Reynolds, executive secretary of the Illinois commission, yesterday advised Otto F. Aken, Cook county superintendent of schools, that his request for a grant of funds to carry on classes in forty-three rural schools will "receive consideration." Mr. Reynolds pointed out, however, that last year's federal program for such a purpose has not been extended to the current school year. Nor has it been indicated that the program will be resumed.

Mr. Aken estimated that $150,000 would be necessary to meet the needs to the county's financially dependent school districts if normal educational facilities are to be continued to the end of the present school term.

Jury Returns Open Verdict on Woman's Fall to Death

A coroner's jury yesterday was unable to determine the circumstances under which Mrs. Theresa Ryan, 63 years old, 144 North Pine avenue, came to her death Monday in a fall from the window of an eighteenth floor room at the Stevens hotel. An open verdict was returned after two sons, John and Kevin, testified their mother had been subject to fainting spells and expressed the opinion that the fall was accidental. Mrs. Ryan was the wife of Thomas J. Ryan, a retired police sergeant.

JAPAN'S MIKADO SEES LAUNCHING OF NEW CRUISER

YOKOSUKA, Japan, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Japan's new 8,500 ton cruiser, Suzuya, was launched today in the presence of Emperor Hirohito and a crowd of 125,000 persons.

Simultaneously at Kure, the navy's other principal shipyard, the keel of a 10,000 ton aircraft carrier was laid. It is the first of two such projected vessels, to be completed in 1937 and 1938, at an estimated cost of 42,000,000 yen [$12,200,000] each. White robed priests conducted Shinto rites of purification as the first rivets were driven.

The Suzuya, laid down at the navy's own dockyard here last December, is the third of a new type of warship figuring prominently in present American-Japanese discussions.

It is to be one of six 8,500 ton cruisers which the Japanese hope to have completed before the end of 1937 and, despite its classification as "light," will be one of the most heavily armed fighting ships afloat, excepting capital ships.

Two older sisters of the Suzuya, the Mogami and the Mikuma, were launched in May and should be completed during 1936. The fourth, the Kumano, was laid down a few months ago. Two others are to follow their completion scheduled for 1937.

The main armament consists in each case of fifteen guns of 155 millimeters, the absolute limit permitted their class and the latest word in naval gun designs, arrayed in five triple turrets. They also carry eight 5 inch anti-aircraft guns, six machine guns, and twelve torpedo tubes.

Daughter of British Air Chief to Wed Instructor

LONDON, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Notice was given in the London register office today of the forthcoming marriage of Lady Margaret Stewart to her flying instructor, Alan Muntz. Lady Margaret's father is the marquess of Londonderry, British minister of aviation. The marriage was understood to be in opposition to his wishes.

JAPANESE CLOSE DOOR TO HOPE FOR NAVY AGREEMENT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 20.—The Japanese delegates to the preliminary naval conversations are maintaining an uncompromising attitude in their battle for armaments equality. The official Japanese spokesman tonight said his government cannot change its fundamental naval principles, thus all but closing the door to prospects for an agreement.

The Japanese government, the spokesman said, does not desire to enter a naval building race, but if the naval talks fail it intends to build what ships it chooses and of whatever type, size, and strength it thinks fit.

Verbal assurances given a fortnight ago that Japan would not build up to parity with the United States and Great Britain if the right were conceded in principle was repudiated in official Japanese circles, where this was blandly termed a "misconception."

FRANCE MAY SEND HEAD OF ARMY ON MISSION TO NAZIS

Gen. Weygand Mentioned for Post in Berlin.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Nov. 20.—With French opinion wavering between continuance of the policy of encircling Germany with a ring of steel and acceptance of Chancellor Hitler's latest offer for a direct understanding between the two countries, a rumor was launched today that Gen. Maxime Weygand, head of the French army, will shortly be sent to Berlin as an extraordinary ambassador.

GEN. MAXIME WEYGAND.

Gen. Weygand will be forced to retire from active direction of the army in January when he reaches the age limit fixed by law. According to the new afternoon newspaper La Presse, which seems to have Fascist leanings, the government is planning to ask the distinguished soldier to continue to serve his country by accepting an important diplomatic post.

Post in London Ruled Out.

La Presse says London was considered as a diplomatic post for the general, but this his appointment to the post is unlikely because the Quai d'Orsay does not want to displace the present ambassador, Charles Corbin.

In Berlin, says the paper, the situation is different. It recalls the Premier Pierre-Etienne Flandin frequently clashed with André François-Poncet, now ambassador to Berlin, who was undersecretary of state when Flandin was minister of finance in the cabinet of former Premier Pierre Laval in 1932. François-Poncet is closely allied with the Comite des Forges de France steel trust, which exercises a heavy influence on national affairs, and La Presse suggests that his policy as ambassador is not entirely approved by the present government.

The La Presse story has the appearance of a trial balloon, but it serves to call attention to the conflict over foreign policy which is raging in France.

Campaign for German Pact.

An important section of the press, including the influential newspaper Matin, and the financial organ Information, have long been campaigning for a Franco-German accord. Now, to the general surprise, the eminently orthodox radical organ l'Oeuvre has joined the band wagon, declaring that no opportunity for peace should be overlooked.

The rightist press, which is linked with heavy industry, and particularly the steel trust, is waging a violent campaign of warning to Premier Flandin and Foreign Minister Laval not to fall into the German snare. Chancellor Hitler's conciliatory offers, these papers insist, are merely intended to gain votes in the Saar and to isolate France from its allies.

Where the government stands is not yet clear. Foreign Minister Laval is known to be personally sympathetic to direct negotiations with Germany. When he was premier he went to Berlin with the late Aristide Briand and inaugurated an era of Franco-German harmony which quickly faded before the rise of the Nazis and the pressure at home from French nationalists.

IRELAND CRACKS DOWN ON PAPER FOR NEWS ON ROYAL WEDDING

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, Nov. 20.—The government information bureau announced tonight that the Irish Independent group of newspapers are debarred from receiving government advertisments or news facilities. The action is a sequel to the publication of allegedly false news.

The Independent, leading Dublin newspaper with the largest circulation, announced Sunday that Gov. Gen. Donal Buckley had received an invitation to the forthcoming royal wedding in London and had replied stating his inability to attend. Yesterday the information bureau issued a denial, characterizing the statement as "entirely false."

Today the Independent published the official denial, but added that it is "in a position to state that an invitation to attend the royal wedding was received by the governor general." It was this statement that evoked the drastic punishment.

U. of C. Senior Fined $10 for Distributing Propaganda

Augustus Kelley, 21 years old, a senior at the University of Chicago, was fined $10 and costs yesterday by Judge Harold R. O'Connell in the Stockyards court for illegal distribution of advertising matter at 43d street and South Parkway, Oct. 16. Kelley was arrested for passing out application blanks in the Young Communist league to Negroes.

CHARGE PRICES WE SET OR GO TO JAIL! NAZIS ORDER

Dissatisfaction Over High Cost of Living Grows.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Nov. 20.—Dr. Karl Goerdeler, price dictator of Germany, was empowered today to fine, and in some cases to put in jail, whoever fails to adhere to the prices set by him. In all trades and industries Dr. Goerdeler will dictate prices. His powers are so sweeping that even the German press, which is weary when it comes to speaking of dictators, takes considerable notice.

Dissatisfaction is rampant among the population over the steadily increasing prices. Several Nazi party leaders, aware of this dissatisfaction, have started books in which citizens are allowed to inscribe their complaints. Dr. Goerdeler ordered all districts to appoint a Nazi official to collect these complaints and in each district his appointees will work out a price scale for all necessities of life adapted to conditions of the market.

64 Cents a Pound for Butter.

Punishment for violation of the price of butter will be specially drastic. The price dictator ruled today that good butter should cost 64 cents a pound—double the price in Chicago and three times more than that charged in most countries surrounding Germany. Violations will be punished with fines of up to $4,000 and jail sentences.

The police have been endeavoring to keep prices under control in recent months as evidenced at Dortmund, where a draper was fined $4,000 and his entire working capital was confiscated because he charged high prices. A similar sentence was imposed on a firm in Bochum. Both firms are Jewish.

In south Germany persons charging more than the permissible prices are being arrested and placed in concentration camps.

"Crack Down" on Paper.

The organ of the labor front, Der Deutsche, which has been active denouncing firms that "exploit workers" and creating an atmosphere of class tension, incurred the displeasure of the chiefs of the Nazi party.

In printing circles it is understood that the owners of Der Deutsche will be compelled to sell the paper by Jan. 1 and that the publishing house of Franz Eher, which issues most of the Nazi organs as well as Chancellor Hitler's books, will publish two pages on labor questions to be inserted in the newspaper Voelkischer Beobachter, which the Nazis hope will become the main organ of all Germans.

Galena Gazette, 100 Yrs. Tomorrow; Files Complete

Galena, Ill., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—The Galena Gazette celebrates its hundredth anniversary tomorrow. A complete set of files for the century is one of that paper's chief possessions. It has not missed an issue in that time, except on holidays and Sundays.

HULL IS MENTIONED AS POSSIBLE WINNER OF NOBEL PEACE PRIZE

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Reports here today said Secretary of State Cordell Hull of the United States was a possible candidate for the Nobel peace prize, to be awarded Dec. 10 by the Norwegian parliament.

Secretary Hull, it was reported, has been strongly recommended by certain groups in America.

John R. Mott of New York, noted for his Y. M. C. A. work and for his writings on world religion, was also regarded as a possible choice for the prize.

AUSTRIA'S RIVAL PRIVATE ARMIES CLASH AT RALLY

INNSBRUCK, Austria, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Heavily armed police vigilantly patroled the streets of Innsbruck today to keep peace between members of Austria's rival "private armies" who came to blows here last night.

Heimwehrmen—members of the Italian sponsored Fascist "home guard"—threatened to revenge themselves on Catholic storm troopers for booing their leader, Prince Starhemberg, the vice chancellor.

Rubber clubs wielded by police were used to restore order last night. The occasion was a planned meeting of the armed Catholic "freiheitsbund" [freedom organization] which supports Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg.

While marching 800 strong to the meeting hall they encountered a large detachment of home guards. The long prevailing tension between the two factions flared from catcalling into fistfighting. After police separated the rioters, they reformed ranks for another encounter. Police reinforcements arrived, however, and took charge of the streets.

Newspapers were forbidden to tell about the disturbances in view of the frequently asserted "unity" between the auxiliary forces. The Fascist home guard and the Catholic organization have been the principal support of the present Austrian government ever since Nazis assissinated Chancellor Dollfuss in an abortive attempt to seize control.

Dollfuss had used the home guard to help suppress the Socialist revolt in Vienna last year. Appreciating the value of a private army, he had Schuschnigg, then minister of justice and education in the cabinet, recruit and arm members of the Catholic fighting organization to make it as strong as the home guard Fascists.

FEELS URGE FOR RIDE AND GETS IT—IN PATROL WAGON

Joseph Maina, 30 years old, 949 West Madison street, described by the police as a West Madison street peripatetic, admitted yesterday that his trouble started when after a tour of taverns he became possessed with an urge to go for an automobile ride. Walking along Madison street near Crawford avenue he spied an automobile with the engine running and no one in the car.

He climbed into the car, drove east to Damen avenue and turned north to Warren boulevard. He crossed Warren boulevard as speeding motorists swerved and jammed on brakes to avoid colliding with him.

Then, in whimsical exhilaration, he stopped the car and put it into reverse, and crossed the boulevard again backward. He backed into a parked automobile, knocked down a mail box, and damaged a signal light post at the intersection. Then he climbed out of the wrecked car and into the car of Frank Aldrich, 615 West Washington boulevard, Oak Park.

Policeman John Wheadon of the Warren avenue station appeared at this point and Joseph finished his motoring in a patrol wagon. He was locked up on charges of stealing an automobile, driving while intoxicated, damaging park property, and going through a signal light.

Suppose some mischievous fairy should decide to play a prank on Chicago, early tomorrow morning, while people were asleep . . . suppose it should gather up all the street cars on the Chicago Surface Lines, and dump them into Lake Michigan. Imagine the tumult a few hours later!

Two million people stranded on street car intersections . . . two million people crowding into every automobile and truck . . . two million people frantically hurrying to and from work on foot.

Not only are street cars convenient but the 7 cent fare, with free transfers, is cheaper than any other form of local transportation.

U. S. PROPOSES WORLD CONTROL OF ARMS TRAFIC

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

GENEVA, Nov. 20.—The United States today proposed international control of arms trafic and full publicity to throttle secret arming of nations. Hugh R. Wilson, United States minister to Switzerland, revealed the plan to the session of the disarmament conference, and the details will be studied by committees in January. The plan is regarded as the most complete submitted in three years.

In contrast, little Austria, one of the nations disarmed by post-war treaties, demanded equality in arms—a similar demand preceded the withdrawal of Germany a year ago. Austria declared her independence is menaced by the armaments race of neighboring European nations. Italy, Austria's patron, chimed in that the conference needs the presence of Germany to continue.

Gains Quick Support.

Russia, Sweden, and Spain immediately rallied to the United States' proposals. Great Britain and France were favorable in a reserved manner. Italy was cool. Maxim Litvinov, Russia's foreign commissar and perennial proponent of complete disarmament, proposed that the disarmament conference be transformed into a permanent peace conference, but he did not press the point.

By the American plan each government would license its manufacturers of munitions for five year periods. No reserve stocks would be allowed and manufacturers would be required to present bona fide orders before receiving a license. Details of war vessels built for other nations would have to be reported. Reports of licenses and orders would be turned over to a central committee at Geneva and made a matter of public record. A permanent commission, including a member from each signatory nation, would be empowered to investigate transactions.

Follows President's Appeal.

The proposal grows out of President Roosevelt's appeal for stringent control of arms. Such a control treaty "would tend to lessen between states that constantly increasing fear of the unknown," Minister Wilson said, "a fear which is one of the most profound causes of anxiety and distrust between nations.

"The United States firmly believes that without disarmament there is no sound basis for peace. The United States has never wavered from that conviction and it will work earnestly for the final success of this conference."

Arthur Henderson, Briton who is president of the conference, read a letter from a group of international societies recommending "action as never before in the determination to get this perilous trade checked and controled."

Fits Modern Times.

The United States' proposal is an amendment of the 1925 convention against trafic in arms so as to fit modern circumstances. The plan bears heavily on war materials, less strongly on those that might be used for war in case of emergency, and lightly on those in commercial use which in an emergency might serve for war purposes.

Striking at private armies and "Balkan terrorism," the American plan would deal with rifles, machine guns, grenades, bombs, torpedoes, mines, warships, airplanes, and ammunition.

For the United States, Wilson indicated that President Roosevelt is willing to seek legislation to restrict manufacture of arms and prohibit all trade not permitted by an arms treaty. Moreover, the United States would allow investigation on its own soil by the Geneva commission to satisfy complaints.

HEAD OF REVOLT IN AUSTRIA TALKS IN CHICAGO TODAY

Dr. Julius Deutsch, leader of the ill fated February revolt in Austria as commander in chief of the Social-Democratic Schutzbund, will speak today at the noon luncheon meeting of the Chicago Bar association at 160 North La Salle street. His subject will be "The True Story of the Austrian Revolt."

Dr. Deutsch also will speak tonight at Orchestra hall, a meeting sponsored by the Chicago committee. Gerhardt Seger, Social-Democratic member of the reichstag, also will appear on the platform at the night meeting.

Dr. Deutsch was the commander of the Schutzbund Republican guard, which furnished the last ditch fight against the Dollfuss dictatorship in Austria last February. He is a veteran of the world war and was minister of war in the Austrian cabinet from 1918 to 1920.

PARLIAMENT IS OPENED BY KING WITH PEACE PLEA

Says Great Britain Still Has Faith in League.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 20.—Fog today spoiled one of the pageants which London enjoys watching. It was the royal procession in which King George and Queen Mary of England ride in the golden state coach for the formal opening of parliament. At the last moment the king canceled the formal procession and decided to ride in an automobile.

Though Londoners were robbed of their pageantry, the ceremony in the house of lords was as colorful as ever. The king, wearing his robes and the imperial crown, and accompanied by Queen Mary, who wore the great Kohinoor diamond, read a speech from the throne in which he pleaded for the maintenance of world peace.

Supports League of Nations.

"The British government," he said, "will continue to make support and extension of the authority of the league of nations a cardinal point of its policy.

"The government earnestly trusts that the general work of the disarmament conference may be actively resumed in an atmosphere more favorable to the attainment of definite results.

"In the meantime strenuous efforts will be made to secure international agreements in such matters as are capable of separate treatment.

"It is my earnest hope that the coming year will be marked by a continuance of the spirit of confidence and enterprise which enabled this country to take the lead in world recovery."

Outlines Issues to Be Settled.

The king then outlined domestic issues which will come before parliament. These include the task of deciding the future government of India, assistance to tramp shipping, improving housing conditions, assisting depressed areas, developing and accelerating imperial air communications, and aiding agriculture.

Debate on the king's speech began tonight. Prime Minister MacDonald, opening the debate, expressed hope that a useful agreement may be achieved at the disarmament conference. He said the disarmament situation is "certainly not despairing, but not too hopeful."

"At the beginning of next year," he said, "we are going to Geneva determined to try again to get something done. Meanwhile, Great Britain has to consider means of defense. If our armaments have to be strengthened, it will be on account of the defensive needs of the nation."

Twenty-five per cent declared they would not support the dominion government in any war.

MACHADO SAILS TODAY TO MAKE HOME IN ITALY

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Former President Gerardo Machado of Cuba, who has been here in exile for several months, will sail today or tomorrow aboard a German steamship to establish his home in Italy. He is practically recovered from the attack of indigestion which sent him to a hospital two weeks ago.

Gen. Machado fled from Cuba Aug. 12, 1933, in the face of a revolution which ended his many years of rule as dictator of the Cuban republic. For several months he lived in Canada and the United States while succeeding Cuban governments attempted to get him back for trial on murder charges.

His friends said that he constantly was menaced by plotters who sought his life, and one version of his illness in Santo Domingo, to which he went from New York several weeks ago, was that he had been poisoned. This version was denied, however. In the Dominican Republic he was granted refuge by President Rafael Trujillo, long a friend of Machado.

MEXICAN REBELS CUT WIRES, BURN RAILWAY BRIDGES

Revolt Follows Drive Against Church.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 20.—Mexican rebels cut telephone wires and burned two railroad bridges between Laredo and Monterey today in what appeared to be a revolutionary outbreak sponsored by Gen. Antonio Villarreal, twice defeated candidate for the presidency of Mexico.

Propaganda bearing the signature of Gen. Villarreal, who has been in hiding from government troops, was recently circulated in northern Mexico calling for a revolt to begin today, which is the anniversary of the Madero rebellion of 1910. The proclamation urged the establishment of a government with genuine revolutionary tenets.

Troops Pursue Rebels.

Federal troops from Monterey went in pursuit of the rebels who are believed to have come from Lampazos, the home town of Gen. Villarreal, near which the two bridges were destroyed. The war office announced that telephone service has been restored and that the bridges are being rebuilt. Otherwise the country is quiet, the government communique said.

The nation has been tense for some time as a result of the campaign by the federal government and the states against the Roman Catholic church. Several states have ousted Catholic clergymen and closed all churches. Others have limited the number of churches and priests.

Gets Ready for Revolt.

The government, coincident with this anti-religious activity, has adopted precautionary measures to prevent dissident churchmen from organizing a revolt. It was feared that the Cristero outbreak of 1926, which was sponsored by religious leaders, might be repeated.

Catholic leaders, however, while protesting vigorously abuse of the church, have denied charges of the government that they are planning revolutionary activities.

In the language of the laboratory, they are calorimeters. They are part of the equipment of the research and testing department of The Peoples Gas Light and Coke Company, safeguarding the quality of the fuel which is used in 796,000 Chicago homes.

ARREST WEALTHY ELGIN MAN'S SON AS CAR KILLS BOY

Driver Posts $5,000 Bond and Is Released.

Daniel Collingbourne, 26 years old, 320 Watch street, Elgin, son of a wealthy Elgin thread manufacturer, was arrested and later released in $5,000 bonds yesterday after his automobile struck and fatally injured a cyclist in Addison, four miles west of Elmhurst, in Du Page county. It was the second fatal accident in which young Collingbourne has figured in three months.

The victim of yesterday's mishap was Erwin Papenbrock, 18 years old, of Addison, a newsboy, struck by Collingbourne's automobile while he was riding his bicycle across state route 5, in front of the Addison police station. The driver was booked on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon on orders of Deputy Coroner H. H. Robillard of Du Page county.

Collingbourne's automobile last Aug. 23 struck and fatally injured Amalia Glissman, 2 years old, 274 Dundee avenue, Elgin, as she was walking in the street near her home. He failed to stop, was arrested later, but was subsequently exonerated by a coroner's jury. He is the son of A. B. Collingbourne, head of the Collingbourne Mills, Inc., Elgin.

Dies in Freak Crash.

Arthur Kelter, 37 years old, of 231 East 75th street, was killed and four persons were injured in a freak accident on the Harlem avenue bridge over the sanitary district canal, about 4900 south on Harlem avenue.

Kelter's car, in which he was riding with his son Edward, was being towed by the machine of George Clausen, 6428 South Aberdeen street. At the bridge the incline seemed too great to allow for towing and Kelter got out to push his car. At that moment he was struck by the passing machine of Warren Stinson, 22 years old, of 216 South East avenue, Oak Park.

Stinson, in a vain attempt to avoid the accident, swerved his car into the northbound machine of Mrs. Albert Pitek, 306 South 25th avenue, Bellwood. The injured included Stinson, Mrs. Pitek, Robert S. De Herder of Oak Park, passenger with Stinson, and Mrs. Sophie Mills of Melrose Park, a passenger in Mrs. Pitek's car. Stinson is to be held for the inquest.

Street Car Motorman Killed.

In another accident, James Ford, 17 years old, 140 West 66th street, was arrested last night ten minutes after his automobile had struck and fatally injured a street car motorman in front of the Vincennes avenue barns at West 78th street.

The victim was James Dalton, 57 years old, 8011 Princeton avenue. He died at Auburn Park hospital. Ford's automobile, without license plates or city vehicle tag, attracted the attention of Policemen John Ryan and Lawrence Smaley at 66th street and Wentworth avenue, where they curbed it. Ford said he fled after the accident because his car lacked the proper license plates. He was held for the inquest.

Two men were fatally injured when their automobile ran over the curb at 51st avenue and Roosevelt road, Cicero, crashed into a building, and overturned. They were John Zdybicki, 30 years old, 2000 South May street, driver of the car, and Stanley Szepelak, 25 years old, of Joliet.

The deaths of Kelter, Dalton, Zdybicki, Szepelak, and four others in Cook county brought the year's motor fatalities to 1,110. The other victims:

Antonio Chamaglio, 54 years old, of 4863 St. Paul avenue. Died at St. Anne's hospital of injuries incurred Nov. 17.

James Roccosamito, 9 years old, 1533 Grand avenue. Fatally injured when he was struck by an automobile while crossing Armour street near his home.

Fred Kripner, 19 years old, 1615 South Karlov avenue. Died at the County hospital of injuries incurred on Nov. 15 when the motorcycle he was riding collided with an auto at Fullerton avenue and Rockwell street.

Thomas Fisher, 50 years old, 7057 Wentworth avenue. Died in the County hospital of injuries incurred Sunday when he was struck by an automobile in front of 7138 Vincennes avenue.

Fred Blair, 38 years old, 5256 South Wells street, injured Aug. 12 in an auto accident in Michigan City, Ind., died last night in the Garfield Park hospital.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: It's in the Bag

THOMAS J. WEBB, HEAD OF COFFEE COMPANY, DEAD AT AGE OF 76

Funeral services for Thomas J. Webb, president of the coffee company bearing his name, will be held at 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning at St. Ita's church, Catalpa avenue and Broadway. Burial will be in Calvary cemetery.

THOMAS J. WEBB.

Mr. Webb died early yesterday morning in his home at 5256 Sheridan road after a long illness. He was 76 years old. His wife, Mrs. Mary Frances Webb, and his daughter, Mrs. Thomas G. Sexton, surviving members of the family, were at the bedside at the time of his death.

Mr. Webb came to Chicago with his parents in 1866 from a Lake county farm. He left school at the age of 11 to sell newspaper, and subsequently worked as elevator operator for a religious publication and as a traveling salesman before starting in the coffee business at the age of 25.

Mr. Webb was active in politics in Chicago during middle life. He served as trustee of the sanitary district from 1900 to 1905, and in 1910 was elected a member of the county board of review for a term of six years. He was the first Democrat ever to hold a position on this body.

He also held the position of United States jury commissioner, and in 1919 was mentioned as a possible candidate for mayor. Mr. Webb was a member of the Iroquois and Edgewater Golf clubs.

He had just finished a conversation with a friend, Dr. Frederick K. Branon of the geography department, and was on his way to his office when the fatal attack came. Dr. James Graybeal, who has an office near by, was summoned and pronounced the educator dead.

BOY, 11, KILLED BY BROTHER IN COWBOY GAME

Frederick Ferrara, 11 years old, 4646 Federal street, was shot and killed by his brother, Edward, 12 years old, while the two were playing "cowboy and Indian" in their home yesterday.

The boys, sons of Vito Ferrara, were playing together. In various other parts of the home were four sisters, Marie, 15 years old; Theresa, 14; Elsie, 13, and Helen, 8. Edward, as a "cowboy," was chasing Frederick, playing the part of an Indian.

As the chase grew more exciting, Edward seized his father's shotgun from a closet and pursued his younger brother into a bedroom, shouting "You're an Indian!" He pulled the trigger and the younger boy was killed by the charge of shot.

Benefit for Infants' Home

Select Society Folk to Model at Big Benefit

Arrange Fashion Night for Merry-Go-Round.

BY JUDITH CASS.

IN spite of the fact that the professionals seemed to have been victorious in the recent controversy between them and amateur society models, it will be socialites who will model in the fashion show that will be the feature of the evening of Dec. 3 at the Christmas Merry-Go-Round that the woman's board of the Chicago Lying-In hospital is staging as a benefit the first week in December at the Hotel Sherman.

They have been chosen to display the 1925 and 1935 fashions for Paul du Pont, who is arranging the show. He said he preferred the society women for models. They receive no pay, of course, for this affair.

Those whom Mr. du Pont has chosen as models are Mrs. Winston Elting, Mrs. Malcolm S. Henderson, Mrs. Cornelius Crane, Mrs. Philip Maher, Miss Helen Bell, Mrs. Ernest Byfield, Mrs. Donald La Chance, Miss Peggy Hambleton, Mrs. William K. Myers, Miss Jean Hyman, Miss Eleanor Holden, Mrs. Suzanne Noble, Mrs. Shreve Badger, Mrs. Walter Paepcke, Miss Francise Clow, Mrs. George Senseney, Miss Nancy Avery, and Miss Maroushka Anisfeld.

Knee-Length Dresses to Be Amusing Contrast.

The knee-length dresses that were fashionable in 1925 will furnish an amusing contrast to those that Mr. du Pont has designed for wear in 1935. Mrs. Potter Palmer, Mrs. Charles H. Swift, Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank, Miss Janet Fairbank, Mrs. Howard Linn, Mrs. Paepcke, Mrs. La Chance and Mrs. John R. Winterbotham Jr. are among those who have dug into their storage trunks and unearthed frocks of the vintage of '25. Mr. Winterbotham is to be master of ceremonies that night.

Mrs. Robert Hall McCormick is chairman of the fashion show, which is only one of the special evening features planned for the giant gift and toy exhibit and sale that the Merry-Go-Round is to be. The opening night, Saturday, Dec. 1, will be theatrical night with Mrs. Byfield and Mrs. Frank Bering in charge. Tuesday night will be sports night under the direction of Mrs. James Weber Linn, who hasn't announced any definite program yet.

Mrs. Frederic Woodward is chairman for Wednesday night, which is to be review night, and Mrs. Ernest R. Graham is chairman for the next night, which is to be opera night. Harold F. McCormick, by the way, will join the song birds that night and will whistle as his contribution to the Lying-In. Mrs. Helen Walton is planning a children's carnival for Friday night, and on the final night, Saturday, the 8th, there will be an auction. Mrs. Charles King Corsant, Mrs. Morris L. Johnston and Mrs. William B. Hale are co-chairmen of the general committee for the huge benefit.

Woman's Exchange Hires Professionals.

The women of the board of the Woman's exchange differ with Mr. du Pont's opinion, however, for they have engaged professional models to display the beauties of their negligees at their annual Christmas sale Friday.

Mrs. Harry E. Talbott of Dayton, O., who spent the summer here during the first Century of Progress Exposition and who for years has been a good friend and a customer of the Chicago Woman's Exchange, is to open her residence in Dayton for an exchange sale on Dec. 3.

The great auditorium she has had built for concerts by the Westminster choir, of which she is the good angel, is to be the setting for the sale and for a tea Mrs. Talbott will give that afternoon. Mrs. Philip H. Withington is sponsoring sales in Cleveland on Dec. 6 and 7.

Dinner to Precede Assembly Ball.

The young women who made their debuts last winter and who have been invited to the Assembly this year will dine at the Casino before the ball as the guests of Miss Louise Forgan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James B.

PATRONS gathered about the bar at the taproom in the Brevoort were amused the other day when a young woman and her escort approached the bar in search of a package that had been left there a little earlier.

The young woman turned scarlet, according to Scout Gladys Wolford. The package was found and it did contain roller skates.

BY EDWARD MOORE.

The Chicago Grand Opera company is in the pleasant position of being able to deal as faithfully with the operas of spectacle and song as it is with those where song is the more important element. It proved what it could do with spectacle and song when it opened with "Turandot"; it has had several winsome examples of lyric operas since then; last night it returned to the oldest and perhaps the finest, certainly the most famous of spectacle and song works, Verdi's "Aïda"

What had been accomplished in the way of presenting works to fill both ear and eye was duplicated last night. "Aïda" is one of the company's marked successes. This performance had splendid singing and it had color, processional, ballet, and pictorial glamor. It is possible that when the votes are counted Mr. Martinelli and Mr. Baromeo will be found to lead the list of singers in tone, impressiveness, and generally fine vocal projection. At that, Miss Somigli gave the best performance of her Chicago career so far.

It is also more than possible that the triumph scene of the second act will be found to lead all the others as a striking picture. This is as it should be, of course. It was pageant, spectacle, dance, and lovely singing all in one.

Here it was that Miss Page, director of ballet for the company, led the dance scene and demonstrated some new ideas on how to formulate an interesting ballet. You would not have recognized her or any of her associates, for all wore masks surmounted by heavily emphasized Egyptian head dresses. The effect was striking, though it may not seem so in the telling. But there was something about the blankness of expression in this group of masked faces that put a special stress on the dance scene itself.

The guarantors of the present opera season, whose generosity has made the season possible, will be entertained at dinner tonight at the Electric club high up in the opera building, George I. Haight, chairman of the guarantors' fund, will present each with a certificate of "Award of Civic Interest."

Guild Admires Pictures Made by Needlework

BY INDIA MOFFETT.

The annual meeting of the Needlework and Textile guild of the Art institute, held yesterday in the Allerton wing of the institute, served as a preview of a very interesting exhibit of needlework pictures made by Mrs. Georgiana Brown Harbeson of New York.

The exhibition, which is to be shown for the next month, is a fascinating one and the members of the guild, who must be needlewomen else they couldn't be members, were enthusiastic in their comments about the twenty-eight pictures.

"They really are simple stitches," remarked Mrs. Harry H. Shearson, who with Mrs. Chauncey B. Borland and Mrs. Barrett Wendell were reelected to the board of directors earlier in the afternoon. But many who are not as expert with the needle as she disagreed with her and were sure that they would not find the stitches simple enough to make it possible for them to produce such exquisite pictures. She probably is right, however, for on close inspection it is apparent that it is in the drawing of the design and its treatment that the charm and distinction of Mrs. Harbeson's work lie, rather than in the intricacy of the stitches.

With bold, long stitches she has achieved much the same effect that a modern painter achieves and her "Garden of Eden" reminded more than one who saw it yesterday of one of Rousseau's paintings. Using white velvet as backgrounds Mrs. Harbeson has made some charming snow scenes, and her samplers, which illustrate all sorts of modern activities of women, are delightful. The portrait of Mme. Galli-Curci was admired greatly also.

Usually at the annual meeting of the guild there is an exhibition of members' work, but that will be held this year a bit later in the season. We predict, however, that if next year there is a showing of members' work there will be some pictures inspired by Mrs. Harbeson's exhibition.

Presiding at the tea table, which was laid with an exquisite lace cloth and on which shone the handsome English silver that Robert Allerton presented to the institute, were Frederick T. Haskell and Mrs. Borland.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

It's rather remarkable that in the face of a good deal of adverse criticism a short time back the public still clamors for eyelash dyeing. And many of the good shops are giving it to them.

Maybe the barrage of criticism was a good thing. Because of it the formulas of the dyes have been made much safer—and also because of it the public realizes that it's a branch of beauty work that requires intelligence and skill, which never come cheap. Having the lashes dyed properly and safely won't come at a quarter a throw.

We up and had it done the other day just to find out what it's like.

Two kinds of dye can be used—a coating or a penetrative type. The latter takes longer. First of all the operator sterilizes her hands and then your eyes. Then comes a protective oil coating around the lids to keep the dye from staining the flesh. Then moist cotton pads on each lid, with the lashes flopping over them. You have to relax the eyes, of course, and keep them closed but not in a strained fashion. The dye is applied with a cotton wrapped orangewood stick and, depending on the type used, left on for from three to nine minutes. Then the eyes are cleansed again and your lashes are the shade you want.

BUT—the dye used must be one that won't damage your eyes if a bit does get in; you must have no sensitivity to dyes and the operator must have consummate skill—and a conscience. If she thinks, because of an obvious or a suspected sensitivity, that the dyeing operation would be the least bit risky or uncomfortable for you she should send you on your way.

The risk, now that the dyes have been improved and a greater understanding of the work is widespread, is no longer what it once was. Under the most perfect circumstances it's practically nonexistent. But changing the color of your lashes is still something that will bear thinking about. Above all consider the reputation and the skill of the operator.

Neatness One Quality Shown in Handwriting

Your Handwriting Analyzed

Know your assets, handicaps, talents, and emotions. Obtain a personal graphology chart. Here are the rules:
1. Clip this coupon, attach a sample of handwriting, and mail to Muriel Stafford, box 1539, Chicago Tribune.
2. Enclose 10 cents (wrapped carefully) for each sample of handwriting you wish analyzed.
3. Enclose a self-addressed STAMPED envelope, folded once.

BY MURIEL STAFFORD.

[Copyright: 1934: By Muriel Stafford.]

Are you neat and orderly? Extremely orderly persons show the trait very plainly in their writing. The letters are carefully made and exactly placed as you would expect. Every t is crossed with a short precise bar. The stem of the t has just as much of the bar on one side as on the other, as in the specimen below. Whenever you find this in a handwriting, the writer is careful and painstaking.

The writing is usually small, clear-cut and plain if the orderliness of the writer is extreme. All the i dots are placed exactly over the i's, showing a love of detail, precision and so on. All the small letters are about the same height, although the small letter r sometimes rises a bit higher than the others. When it does, the writer is very observant, too.

The margins of the extremely orderly person are neat and in perfect proportion to the size of the paper.

Decide upon the most methodical housewife you know or the neatest most exact person of your acquaintance. Study the handwriting. You will find many of the indications I have mentioned if the writer's mind is as ordered as you think.

Dear Miss Stafford
Please analyze my handwriting.

Today's specimen, taken from the daily mail, shows the type of person who keeps things right in order. She is sympathetic and affectionate, as you can see from the slant of her writing. Unselfishness is shown, too. This young lady will make a wonderful wife. Her love of order doesn't make her too restrained.

Notice especially how carefully the t bars are crossed and the i's dotted. Notice that the r's are carefully made. Notice that the whole effect of the writing is neat and balanced.

Women of Rotary.

The annual card party of the Women of the Rotary club of Chicago is being held at noon today in the English room of Marshall Field's. There will be a luncheon and fashion show and the proceeds will go to the Crippled Children's hospital.

John L. Davies Sees World on Middle Road

The lecture on "The Next Ten Years of Civilization" that members of the Woman's Athletic club and their guests heard yesterday was a topic of conversation at many a dinner table last night we'll wager, for every woman of the several hundred who heard John Langdon Davies was impressed with his point of view and opinions.

An Englishman of wide experience and travel, his opinions about conditions in this country struck a happy medium between radicalism and conservatism and so pleased every one. He gave a feeling of optimism to some who live in the past to such an extent that they can see no good in the ever changing present and he sounded a warning note to those who want more rapid changes. He was enthusiastic about the New Deal in this country for he feels that it will keep us from something more drastic. He advised his hearers to be constructive and not obstructive, else social values cannot be rearranged to keep democracy alive.

Mr. Davies, who is well known as an author, especially as the writer of "Man and His Universe" and "A Short History of Women," said that it was the times that call forth a man like Hitler, not that Hitler molds the times. He predicted that there would be even a greater adjustment of wealth in the next ten years than there has been recently and that the maladjustment of wealth that has existed, gradually will be improved.

After the lecture this charming Englishman, who is "youngish" and has a delightful manner of speaking, had luncheon with some of the directors of the club, among them Mrs. William N. Pelouze, Mrs. Frank P. Graves, Mrs. Newton Hudson, Mrs. Alfred Tyler, and Mrs. Henry Bartholomay.

DAZZLING GOWNS

As dazzling as "Aïda" were many of the gowns and wraps seen in the audience. Mrs. Bertha Baur, wearing a trailing black and gold gown, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. James Scott Kemper, whose box guests also included Mr. and Mrs. Horace Armstrong and Edwin Hooper from Philadelphia. Mrs. Kemper was charming in a period gown of blue taffeta with forget-me-nots at the shoulder and Mrs. Armstrong wore white lamé.

Mrs. Charles B. Goodspeed, whose black velvet, caught with a diamond clip at the back, was one of the most distinctive gowns seen last night, had as her guest Louis Marcoussis, Parisian artist whose exhibition has opened at the Arts club; Miss Alice Rouiller, and John Storrs.

Mr. and Mrs. George Rossetter had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Brown and Mr. and Mrs. N. W. MacChesney. Mrs. MacChesney's brilliant coral velvet was in direct contrast to Mrs. Rossetter's black crêpe with soft net shoulder ruffles. Mrs. Brown chose to wear deep royal blue satin.

Bangles Make Style Noise in New Bracelets

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Bangle bracelets are making all the fashion noise these days, together with the same sort of an idea in clips. The clips are slick things with a flock of small round metal discs dangling from the ends of three inch long fine metal chains. The smooth surface of the small discs are used for initials, favorite code words, and other equally mystifying signs. The same cluster of discs hang from metal bracelets and can likewise be inscribed with whatever pleases your fancy.

Charm bracelets are going strong, nice romantic gold affairs to wear with these old-fashioned new-fashioned evening gowns. You can collect your own charms to hang from a bracelet or try good "gimme" tactics on relatives, friends and the gentlemen who keep your telephone ringing. These charms are witty, the tiniest trifles you ever collected and the selection is practically limitless. Anything and everything you ever wanted from wee ants to golden xylophones, animals, signs of the zodiac, tiny trains, all the drinking paraphernalia, cups, goblets, jugs, and barrels, miniature playing cards, golden dice, and other chancy items all ready to hang from the thin wrist chain.

Something new in feathers, the evening bandeaux of ostrich tips, in black, white, and colors. You can have them in half hoops that reach from ear to ear, or the side hoops, that is the tufts of feathers fastened half way around the hoop and the metal showing the other half. And the separate tufts of ostrich perched on the end of hairpins and small combs in all colors and black and white.

Fashion photograph . . . one of the newest braided hats, in two colors of velvet. Rows and rows of the braid climb to an open peak to be tied with a narrow bow at the side. It can be had in satin, in silk, as well as the velvet. Found in the French salon of a Chicago shop.

The Forgotten Honeymoon

BY ROY VICKERS

SYNOPSIS.

Rhoda Cornboise's engagement to Maj. Ralph Stornack is arranged by her ambitious mother. Rhoda is in love with Colin Briarley, who is in jail for the murder of a Canadian solicitor in a London night club. Colin was alone at the table with the Canadian when the lights went out and he was struck in the throat by a tableknife. Chief witness against Colin was Maj. Stornack, who was the solicitor's host. Rhoda met Stornack when he called to express his regret for the testimony he had to give at her lover's trial. Jack Caermaen, an old pal of Colin's, is his warder. He plots Colin's escape by taking Colin's place as prisoner, allowing Colin to use his week's vacation. Nobody looks closely at prisoners, he explains, and warders are frequently changed. Rhoda elopes with Colin on the eve of her marriage to Stornack. They spend a brief honeymoon in Wales. Then Colin returns to prison. Rhoda returns home and feigns a lapse of memory. Her mother besieges her to marry Stornack, who is still willing. He and his confederates know she has inherited the fortune of a Canadian relative. The solicitor had come to London to tell her of it. Stornack calls on Caermaen and they quarrel. Jack suspects Stornack of the crime for which Colin was convicted. Rhoda, who is expecting a baby, leaves home and stays with friends of Caermaen's, the Rawlings, in London. Her mother follows with a court order, placing Rhoda under her charge. Caermaen and his solicitor plan to investigate Stornack. Mrs. Cornboise takes Rhoda to France, where her son is born. Her mother sends the baby away. Rhoda arranges to see him and have him properly cared for. She and her mother return to London. Caermaen arranges to get Colin out of prison again for a few days to have him identify a confederate of Stornack's. Thinking Rhoda is still in France he plans to fly there. Rhoda, with her mother, calls on Mrs. Rawlings. Colin had just left there for the aerodrome. Mrs. Rawlings gets word secretly to Rhoda, who evades her mother and taxies to the aerodrome in time to meet Colin. Her mother learns from the taxi driver where she had gone. Rhoda flies with Colin to see their son.

INSTALMENT XXVII.

A MISSING UNCLE.

Five minutes later, when Rhoda had taken her baby from his cot and handed him to his father, the latter was guilty of the most brazen inconsistency.

"By Jove, yes! He's ours right enough. I could have picked him out myself out of thousands." He did not even ask to see the "mother mark."

For an hour these two attained forgetful happiness. For an hour they lived in an enchanted world, which was nothing else than the utterly commonplace business of parenthood. Like all young fathers, Colin made all the startling discoveries that permit a woman to smile indulgently at man's incredible ignorance of his own species. This marvelous baby, it appeared, could grip with his hands and even make noises with his voice.

He had the drawback, in the circumstances, of keeping very early hours. Before the afternoon was well over his parents were advised to relinquish him in his own interests.

"We can put in a long day here tomorrow," said Colin as they drove back to Paris. "And we could just slip over the morning after to say good-by. Jack and I change over again at midnight on Saturday. Isn't it marvelous to think that today is still only Thursday. And now let's put Paris on its mettle."

"O, Colin! It will be like Wales."

"Yes, rather!" he agreed. "But with a difference. There's been a ray of hope in the meantime. Nothing much, and for heaven's sake don't build any castles on it."

"I haven't the least idea what it all amounts to," he finished. "But Jack seemed to think it was fearfully important."

Jack Caermaen had not mentioned to Colin his suspicions of Stornack. He knew too well there is always the risk of a a man in Colin's position getting hysterical or delirious and blurting out what had better be kept secret.

"And look here, my French is rotten. You tell the driver to find the Hotel Matarasse. It was arranged that I should put up there—in case Jarroman should wish to communicate with me."

Jarroman did wish to communicate with them. He traveled by the night boat and caught them just as they were leaving the hotel on the following morning.

For Rhoda, meeting him as "Mrs. Smith," there was a certain amount of awkwardness. But, whatever Jarroman knew or had guessed of the truth, he proceeded to put them at once at their ease.

"I understand that you and Colin were secretly married before his trouble," said Jarroman when they were all together in a private sitting room. He hurried on: "Now I expect he has told you what we did yesterday and I hope you aren't building too much on it. It amounts to very little."

"I came over chiefly in order to see—er—Mrs.—er—— "

"Rhoda!" said Colin.

"—— to see Rhoda, if she doesn't mind. I gather it is somewhat difficult to see her in England—that is, without Mrs. Cornboise, who I feel would not be very helpful."

"But what can I do?" asked Rhoda.

"That will depend very largely on your memory. Now I want you to forget Paris and Colin and concentrate hard on your own childhood. Do you remember anything about your mother's brother—Peter Shepworth?"

"It doesn't need any concentration for that!" returned Rhoda. "I must have been eight or nine when I last saw Uncle Peter. Then he went away—to Canada or somewhere like that. Is he in trouble? Mother never speaks of him. I remember now —— "

As she stopped Jarroman prompted her.

"Yes, Rhoda? You remember—what? Anything that you can remember may be of great importance to Colin. Just tell me all you can about this Uncle Peter of yours."

"It'll all amount to nothing," said Rhoda despondently. "He was just—a jolly sort of uncle. He used to turn up suddenly from nowhere and bring me funny sorts of presents. Of course my memory is a childish memory. He used to be good at inventing games. And he used to take me for long walks. And then —— "

"And then, Rhoda?"

"The last time he turned up—suddenly as usual—he didn't stay. I think he must have had some kind of quarrel with my parents. I remember his snatching up his hat and stumping out of the hall. And I ran after him and caught him in the drive. And I think I said: 'Uncle Peter, you aren't going away without speaking to me, are you?' He was looking rather fierce and I believe I was a bit frightened. And I think he said: 'Would you care if I went away without speaking to you, Rhoda?' I suppose I cried then and took his hand or something." Rhoda smiled. "I'm afraid I was rather an emotional child. . . . I wanted to go with him to the station, but he sent me back when we had gone a little way from the house. And he said something just as we parted—I forget what it was now—does it matter?"

"It might matter. Have a cigaret and—and try and think what it was."

"O—I don't need a cigaret! I remember!" cried Rhoda. "But you'll be disappointed, for it's quite silly." He said: 'You're the only friend I've got in this country. Some day my ship will come home and then I'll make you captain of it'—that can't be of any help to you, can it?"

"It doesn't exactly help, but it points in the right direction," answered Jarroman. "Did he ever write to you after that?"

"O yes—quite a lot for the first year or so! Then only at Christmas and on my birthday. And for the last two years he hasn't written at all. Has something awful happened to him? You don't mean that he really killed—— "

"No. No. Nothing of the kind! You say you wrote back to him?"

"Yes—but it was rather a business. Mother didn't approve. And the letter had to be put into an envelope addressed to some one else."

Then, with an elaborate pose of unconcern, Jarroman asked the critical, vital question.

"D'you remember the name on the envelope?"

"Yes—because it was such a funny name. It was always addressed 'Mr. Merryweather,' care of a bank in Montreal."

In the practice of his profession Jarroman was calm to the point of coldbloodedness. But in the presence of these tragic lovers he lost his head. He jumped up and seized Rhoda by both hands.

"You've done it!" he cried. "I was so nervous—I scarcely dared ask you that question. Colin, old man, give me a drink, for heaven's sake!"

Colin moved to the sideboard.

"Here's luck, Fred! but what's it all about? Are we winning?"

"We haven't won yet," said the solicitor. "I've never behaved so disgracefully in my life. I ought to have kept grave and professional and secretive. But you two are so brave, when you ought to be down in the mouth, that you've thrown me off my balance."

"The thing is, my dear," he went on to Rhoda; "you've enabled me to trace your uncle."

Electrical Board Enables 500 Fans to See Bridge Game

More than 500 contract bridge enthusiasts were able to watch the bidding and play in the intercity contract bridge contest held yesterday at the Fair store between a team from Milwaukee and a team of Chicagoans. The cards held by each player were shown on a large electrical board and the bidding and play could be followed by the spectators as though they were behind the contestants.

An announcer stood behind the players and through a telephone informed the operator of the board, known as the telebridge, of the progress of the game. By operating a series of switches the operator would flesh on the board each bid and card played.

The Chicago team consisting of E. M. Lagron, Arthur Glatt, C. W. Rilling, and Ralph Kempner defeated the Milwaukee team of Robert Reich, Earle Morse, James Gielfuss, and Joseph Huebsch by 860 points. Mrs. Catherine Lewis, bridge expert, explained the bidding and play.

BY MARY MEADE.

It sounds sillier than anything you've heard, but those dry, seeded raisins you buy at the store actually have been turned inside out and had their seeds sprayed on the outsides of them!

In the magazine Food Industries the story comes out. The lowly raisin seed, it seems, is the proud possessor of a fine, shining oil which is extracted from the cured and crushed seed. This is sprayed over the seeded raisins to keep them from sticking together, or to the packages which cover them. Or this same raisin seed oil may be combined with olive oil for salad making, go into the pot for frying doughnuts and potato chips, turn up in the paint industry, or find itself used as a lubricant.

But the clever lads who work with raisins don't even let it go at that. Before the seeds are turned into oil the raisin pulp which clings to them is washed off into clear, warm water, then distilled, turning the grape sugar into alcohol. From this source come brandy sirup and grape alcohol, which is sold to the manufacturers of sweet wines.

Even the proverbial "squeal of the pig" has a cousin in the raisin seed. For there's still residue left after the crushing process. This mass of hardish particles is used as stock feed, as fertilizer, and as fuel. And thus ends the honorable but little known career of the versatile raisin seed.

Which quite naturally brings us to the matter of football luncheons—or does it? At all events, it's a subject we should be considering, for with a game or two still to be shivered through, the business of luncheon before the kickoff is highly important if we're not to curl up and expire from the excitement and the north wind.

Everybody's in a hurry and nobody wants to eat. Make it so good that they can't help themselves. But make it snappy. Hot soup in cups, cold cuts or a steaming casserole dish, mixed vegetable salad, rolls, a dessert which will stick to the ribs, and spanking hot coffee should score a touchdown with all comers.

Go into a huddle with yourself the night before and concoct a novel, short cut dessert which will sit snugly in the refrigerator until called for. No interference and about 60 yards of family affection may be gained from

3 tablespoons lemon juice
½ cup ground peanut brittle
18 graham crackers

Stir the condensed milk and lemon juice together until the mixture thickens. Do not use the unsweetened, evaporated milk in this recipe—it's great for scores of things, but it just won't work in this. Now put the peanut brittle through a food chopper, using the coarse cutter. Fold the ground peanut brittle into the thickened milk. Line a square or oblong pan with waxed paper. Make a floor of graham crackers. Spread a layer of the peanut brittle mixture over this and add another layer of crackers. Continue until the ingredients all have been used, topping with a layer of crackers. Let this loaf ripen in the refrigerator for 12 hours or longer. To serve, unmold, slice, and garnish with whipped cream. This will satisfy from 6 to 8 hungry football fans.

Buckingham Palace Gets Good Dusting; Ready for Marina

LONDON, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Scrubbing brushes and whisk brooms were busy in Buckingham palace today in a last minute sprucing up for the arrival of Princess Marina of Greece, her parents, and the other royal wedding guests who will attend the marriage of the Duke of Kent and Marina, a week from next Thursday.

Queen Mary, who prides herself in her housekeeping ability, saw to it personally that the three room suite her future daughter-in-law will occupy is shipshape.

THE STAGE

"Singing Steel," a Negro folk play by Zora Neale Hurston, will be staged in the Chicago Woman's club theater next Friday and Saturday. It deals with the daily life of a Negro railroad worker, and contains many traditional songs of the southern railroad labor camps. Miss Hurston has made a career of research into the anthropology and folk lore of the American Negro. The production is sponsored by the South Park way Y. W. C. A.

The little theater association of De Paul university will open its season of productions tonight with Oscar Wilde's "Lady Windermere's Fan." Performances will also be given tomorrow and Friday nights. This playhouse is located at 64 East Lake street. C. C.

Husbands Who Wander Aren't Won by Tears

BY DORIS BLAKE.

We hear of a woman married to a man who, evening after evening, dresses and goes out. Where, the woman does not know. If it is to another woman, she has no clew to that woman's identity.

The wife pleads with the man to take her with him. Once in a long time he does. Then, and then only, it appears, are her eyes not red from weeping. His family regrets the man's attitude. They try to make up in many little kindnesses, but the weeping is getting on their nerves now, too.

It's not quite the way of a modern woman with a man. The weeps just don't work any more on men. Without holding any brief for the male, the wonder is that he puts in an appearance at all.

We'd urge drying those eyes for once and all. Instead of weighting the lids with tears, we'd try a little eyeshadow on them. We'd get fighting mad inside, but keep the fight inside. Decorate the exterior as beautifully as possible, and never plead to be taken out. Look, rather, as if he didn't take you, you could get some one else to act as escort. All this without a whine or tear.

Club Presidents Consider Program for Big Conference

More than forty presidents and representatives of the largest federations, fraternal organizations, and clubs of the city and state, met yesterday at the Palmer house to discuss the program and speakers for the second annual conference on current problems, to be held next Feb. 26 and 27 at the same hotel under auspices of THE TRIBUNE. It was the consensus that the time is past when two sides of a controversial topic cannot be presented on the same program.

Club groups today not only tolerate but welcome expressions of opinion from divergent viewpoints, various executives declared in presenting their ideas and suggestions on the forthcoming event, to which clubs in five states—Michigan, Wisconsin, Indiana, Iowa, and Illinois, will receive invitations.

Prominent speakers from various fields will be heard during the two day sessions of the conference, each discussing some phase of problems affecting the average citizen and his income, his daily activities and opinions. Kathleen McLaughlin, women's editor of THE TRIBUNE, who is in charge of arrangements, presided at the meeting.

Unique Quilt Has Origin in Ohio During Fifties

THE FARMER'S DAUGHTER.
BY NANCY CABOT.

The John T. McCutcheons and Mrs. George R. Nichols are among others who will entertain at dinner before the Assembly.

Sad news for smart young married people is that the Chauncey McKeevers are moving to California. Mr. McKeever and his bride of a few months, the former Jeanne Wingfield, are leaving by motor Monday for San Francisco, where they will live.

Mrs. McKeever has many friends in San Francisco, because she lived there for ten years. Her mother, Mrs. Paul D. Hamlin, is giving a large farewell luncheon for her and Mr. McKeever at the Saddle and Cycle club Sunday, and there are numerous other smaller parties to occupy the McKeevers' time until their departure.

Victor Elting, president; Sir George and Lady Schuster, and the British consul general, Lewis Bernays, and Mrs. Bernays will receive this afternoon at the reception the English Speaking union will give at 3:30 o'clock at the Tavern for Sir George and Lady Schuster. Mrs. Malcolm S. Henderson, whose husband is the British vice consul, and Mrs. Chauncey B. Borland will pour.

Cards were received yesterday by many of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCormick Adams for a cocktail party from 5 to 7 o'clock on Thanksgiving eve.

Miss Barbara Shaffer, a debutante of last season, is giving a luncheon tomorrow at the Woman's Athletic club for Miss Mildred Starck and Miss Medora Pelouze, two debutantes of the current season. Miss Starck will bow at a tea and dinner-dance at the home of her parents, the Philip T. Starcks, on Wellington avenue on Dec. 7, and Miss Pelouze, Col. and Mrs. William N. Erect Gigantic Sets to Film Dickens Story

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—There was a bit of tenseness on the set of "Mystery of Edwin Drood" at Universal when Stuart Walker, the director, told Heather Angel, playing the rôle of an 18 year old boarding school girl, that she would have to remove her wedding ring. Heather said she didn't see how she could. It was a matter of sentiment with her due to the newness of her marriage to Ralph Forbes.

Walker permitted her to carry a handkerchief so that it concealed the ring, but told her she could get away with that for only one sequence. Today they shot another scene and Miss Angel, with a downcast look, took off her ring.

It's an interesting group of sets Universal has erected for "Edwin Drood." The largest set that Universal studio put up since "The Hunchback of Notre Dame" eleven years ago is the English village of Cloisterham. Streets, stores, a cathedral, a row of homes, and a girls' school are in this set.

Mrs. Rockefeller III. Criticizes System of 'Pet' Charity Benefits

New York, Nov. 20.—[Special.]—Criticizing the "kind of social work where one group gives the money, another group time and experience, and the third group accepts both," Mrs. John D. Rockefeller III., herself an active social worker, addressed a meeting of the conference on family life and national recovery today.

Mrs. Rockefeller said plainly what she thought of "the arranging of benefits along with a large amount of publicity, the use of influential names without much spirit behind them, and continual buying of tickets for one's friends' so-called pet charities."

WHAT IS A "SIGNOFF."

A signoff is definitely not a pass. Unfortunately we have all been rather careless in our use of this expression as a verb. We are apt to say: "Why would you not let that hand be signed-off at a partial score?" when we really mean that the hand should have been passed at a partial score declaration. Undoubtedly this misuse of the term as a verb has caused confusion, and we should be more careful in the future. The expression itself comes, of course, from the world of wireless; we started using it in my home in 1926 when we were commencing the study of contract, usually with the radio turned on, especially at night. The announcer's stock phrase seemed so applicable to this function in contract that we adopted it quite naturally—first as a kind of joke, then as a serious technical term. Indeed, no better phrase for the purpose has yet been suggested to me. Others seem to agree; it has been, or is being, universally adopted by contract writers and players in the sense in which we use it.

A Definition.

A signoff response or rebid is one which warns the partner that as far as the bidder knows at that moment, he has no further information of a positive character to give. It does not forbid the partner to continue bidding—it warns him to do so only on his own responsibility. It does not proclaim that under no conditions can you take any further constructive part in the bidding. Sometimes you will quite properly make a signoff response, but your partner will then rebid his hand in a manner which throws fresh light on the value of your holdings in his support, so that your next response can be a very positive one, eclipsing your preliminary signoff. Remember also that quite often you will sign off by actually increasing the contract. That is the case when you revert from a new declaration back to one in which you are already known to have a fit: For instance, the bidding having been—one heart, two hearts, two no trumps, three hearts, three no trumps—if the responder now goes four hearts, that is nothing but a signoff of the most unmistakable kind, merely seeking greater safety in the suit contract, presumably on distributional grounds. If the bidding were—one heart, two hearts, three no trumps—here again the rebid to four hearts is no acceptance of the slam try made by the opening bidder, but a signoff into a supposedly safer or easier, though higher, contract.

A Negative Definition.

I can make it still clearer by adding this: no rebid or response is a signoff if it either:

1. Takes the bidding, or is driving the partner to take the bidding, beyond a contract for two odd; or

2. If it breaks new ground [i. e., shows a fresh suit or makes a positive move in no trumps] in such manner as to drive the bidding beyond a contract for two odd. Remember this particularly when partner may have to deny or get you out of a bid of two no trumps.

Do not consider these explanations as applying after an opening bid of one no trump has been made. As you know, there is a special bidding procedure then, and we have our own way of signing off in a suit, as very fully explained in earlier articles. The principle is the same, as you see, but it would only be confusing if I did not make it clear that what I am explaining now in connection with signoffs is meant for the bidding which can follow an opening bid of one in a suit.

Some Illustrative Bidding Sequences.

Assuming the opponents do not overcall—by doing so they make it easy for you to sign off by passing, at least on the first opportunity—the opening bidder is signing off by merely rebidding his suit. One heart, one spade or one no trump, two hearts. The same applies if the bidding is—one heart, two diamonds or two clubs, two hearts. On the contrary, if the bidding goes—one heart, one no trump, two no trumps, now the opener is definitely not signing off, but strongly inviting a continuance, as if the responder makes another move, either by seeking safety in a belated heart raise, or by bidding a weak suit himself, then the bidding is ipso facto beyond the two level. The same would apply to one heart, one no trump, two spades. Opener, despite the preliminary weak response of one no trump, is driving his partner to bid beyond the two level, even if only from dismay. To bid thus, he must feel pratically sure of making three odd in hearts on his own thirteen cards, relying on the partner for no more than one trick and one entry into dummy.

Let Small Child Develop Latent Talents Freely

His Early Artistic Efforts Shouldn't Be Critized.

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

They're limitless—the subjects we haven't touched upon in this column. Here for instance is one of a group of letters which have never had any real attention in print:

"Dear Mrs. Bevans: I am applying to you to help me regarding my little boy's talent in drawing. He is now 6½ years old and the drawing that I am herewith enclosing talks for itself. I have no idea nor any means to help him. If there is any possible chance to help to bring out his talent I would appreciate hearing from you about it—some advice to me where to take him or what to do with him. Just have the sketch before you—it is remarkable to watch him, how he pictures things."

This is not just a "fond mother" letter, and in answering it we are answering the many other mothers who see or suspect unusual artistic ability in their children. We wrote her:

"I agree with you that your little boy is highly talented in drawing. My advice, however, would not be to have him taught—especially at such an early age. The better thing to do is to buy him the right sort of materials and let him be free to draw when he feels the urge. Taking children on little trips to market, to see trains, to the park and the zoo often stimulates creative talent.

"The materials I would suggest are large sheets of heavy paper like dull wrapping or drawing paper, crayons, pencils with soft lead, paint [poster colors are preferable to regular water colors] and rather large, soft brushes for this early age."

When children are really talented artistically it is well not to criticize or make too many suggestions about the drawing or painting which they do. One is apt to notice such things as objects being drawn in an assymmetrical way—as one eye in a face being higher than the other, or a building being lopsided. But these characteristics are typical of early drawing [as well as typical of certain fine modern art] and should be allowed to pass unnoticed. A child's artistic expression at this age should be quite untrammeled. Let me repeat that it is always advisable to make it possible for them to work on a large scale so that they can not only use their larger muscles but be bold in their technique.

New York, Nov. 20.—[Special.]—Officials of the Metropolitan Opera association and the Philharmonic Symphony society are at work drawing up a budget to cover a plan for combined operation during the season of 1935-'36, it was learned today. A fundamental consideration would be to have the orchestra play for the opera and to have the Philharmonic give its own concerts in the opera house.

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

We were talking yesterday about the relaxed muscle and nerve in the pursuit of grace and poise, the basic features of charm. When you hear people talking about a charming person you visualize only one who has such command of herself that she is never awkward in word or gesture. Certainly you do not think of that highly strung girl who breaks into a room, trips over things, laughs hysterically, talks so, and one about whom people never say: "What a charming person."

There is ease and poise and a pleasing self-assurance in everything the charming one does. She has every muscle in control. She speaks in a well modulated voice. When she hands you something she does it with a graceful gesture. She doesn't shove a book at you or a cup of tea, or a cocktail, say.

When she comes into a room, you are aware of this self-control and pleasing assurance. She pauses in the doorway for the fraction of a minute to get her bearings, to take in the scene before her, to place the people she knows and those she doesn't, so she won't find herself in the awkward position of being plumb up against a strange face without anything to say. She walks in with graceful bearing; not stiff, not military, not too cocksure or aggressive. Her feet are pointed straight ahead, her chest it up, her back is straight, her head up with chin drawn back. Hers is the bearing of command without being commanding, but just sure of herself and where she is going and what she is doing.

Then, when she gets in the room, she makes her greetings to those she knows and says her polite and sufficient "how do you do" to those to whom she is introduced. Then she seats herself without fluster or hurry. She takes her time, gets close to the chair, and lets herself down in its seat easily. No throwing herself at the chair, perhaps landing on its arm or in some awkward manner which calls for shifting and shuffling.

HELPS WHOLE FAMILIES

Attention, MOTHERS, to what every doctor knows to be a fact, and what they say to avoid

If you have children who are occasionally constipated, you should know this.

If you are "not yourself" because of a constipated condition, don't blame it on your blood condition, or your age, but first try this treatment that safely relieves sluggishness in children or adults.

The Proper Treatment

You can't safely relieve the bowels with any medicine if you can't regulate the dose. To regulate dosage, you should have a liquid laxative. When necessary to repeat, you can gradually reduce the dose. And that is the secret of safe relief from a sluggish, constipated condition at any age.

A liquid laxative can be measured. Its action can be thus controlled. If properly made, of such natural laxative elements as senna and cascara, it forms no habit—even in the youngest child. And such a laxative will help the bowels to help themselves.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is an approved liquid laxative containing herbs, active senna, and cascara, and is the one widely used. You can always obtain it at any drug store. Why not make the "liquid test" which has attracted so much attention of late? It helps nearly everyone who tries it. It may make you feel better overnight. The children will like it, too; Syrup Pepsin has a delightful taste.

If you will risk sixty cents to discover the safe, pleasant action of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, we believe bowel worries will be over for your household.

BE CAREFUL

IF any laxative is dipsetic (makes you thirsty).

IF it affects your appetite.

IF you need more today than the first time you took it.

IF it drains the system (by too watery a movement).

IF a bad "burning" is felt.

IF there is severe griping.

CUBS SEEK LINDSTROM TO PLAY THIRD BASE

Jackson Scores Four Goals for Leafs.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 20.—(AP)—The Toronto Maple Leafs scored their sixth consecutive National Hocky league victory here tonight, defeating the hapless St. Louis Eagles, 5 to 2, in a rough and tumble encounter which caused a near riot.

Although the Leafs won the game in the final period the principal action of the evening came in the second, when fists and clubs waved menacingly and seven penalties were called.

Hal Cotton and Scotty Bowman started the swinging midway in the period. All members of both squads rushed on to the ice and finally separated the combatants, but not until Chuck Conacher also made a few passes at Bowman. The trio were given major penalties and banished for five minutes.

Eagles Score First.

Glenn Brydson started the scoring for St. Louis in the first period, taking a pass from Howe. Bill Hollett scored unassisted to tie the score in the second.

In the final period Busher Jackson scored four times as the defense of the youthful Eagles crumbled. Jackson now leads the league with seven goals and two assists.

BOSTON, 1; DETROIT, 0.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 20.—(AP)—Expert back checking held the speedy Detroit Red Wings under control tonight when the Boston Bruins gained a 1 to 0 victory in their second home game in the National Hocky league.

The winning goal was scored early in the second period when Happy Emms, former Red Wing star, led a three man drive into Detroit territory He passed to Nels Stewart, who shot at the Detroit cage after splitting Walter Buswell and Teddy Graham. Stewart played the rebound out to Johnny Gagnon, whose drove the puck home.

The Bruins miscued on several other scoring chances. Marty Barry missed an open net, Tony Savage saw Goalie Normie Smith trap one of his slashing drives, and Art Giroux's score was not counted because he fired from inside the blue line.

New York, Nov. 20.—(AP)—The Montreal Maroons, handed the New York Americans their second shutout of the season, 3 to 0, before 10,000 tonight.

It was a dull game most of the way as a tight Maroon defense cut off every New York scoring attempt.

The first goal came on a quick thrust by Earl Robinson when the Americans left him unguarded for a moment. Late in the third period Gus Marker scored twice. Red Dutton and Goalie Roy Worters, of the Americans, deflected the puck into the net for him, on both shots. Lineups:

New York Ring Board Weighs Scoring Faults

New York, Nov. 20.—(AP)—A baffled boxing board, the New York State Athletic commission, today wearily surveyed the wreckage of what was once a fairly sound system of judging prize fights and at the end of hours of argument and discussion wound up exactly where it started—nowhere.

Brig. Gen. John J. Phelan, chairman, wants to retain the present combined system of point and round scoring, despite a rising tide of bad decisions that reached its crest Friday night in Madison Square Garden. Bill Brown, his militant associate, wants to scrap the present complicated code, do away with the two judges, and return to the old plan of the referee being in full charge.

As a result they "compromised," and decided to ask the legislature to amend the law so that a referee's vote will count the same as that of a judge when there is a disagreement. At present the referee makes the final decision when judges disagree.

Almost without variance in major fights through the last year, storms of controversy have followed decisions. The night Max Baer tore Primo Carnera to shreds the cards of the officials had Carnera leading on points when the challenger finally stopped him in the eleventh round.

Both decisions in the Barney Ross-Jimmy McLarnin series brought roars of protest. Last Friday night Sammy Fuller, Boston lightweight, knocked young Peter Jackson of California down three times, beat him apparently all the way, and still lost the decision.

Mrs. Huston Tells Colonel He Can't Have a Ball Club

Brunswick, Ga., Nov. 20.—(AP)—"You are not going to buy any ball club, you are going to stick to your cows!"

So what is Col. Tillinghast L'Hommedieu Huston, the former part owner of the Yankees, who yearns to return to the game, going to do in the face of an ultimatum like that from Mrs. Huston?

"Like most men," Col. Huston said today, "I am under 'P. G.,' which decoded means 'petticoat government.' When I returned recently from New York where rumors cropped up that I was going to buy the Brooklyn club and install Babe Ruth as manager, Mrs. Huston spoke her piece. Her tone and manner of saying it implied an indisputable authority."

Although he has been out of baseball for several years, Huston, who as partner of Col. Jacob Ruppert, brought about the deal that landed Babe Ruth with the Yankees, maintains a keen interest in the game.

He's still a prospective purchaser of a major league club if an attractive proposition turns up. Doubtless his interest centers on the Brooklyn team, but recent reports indicate it is not for sale.

MAROONS FEAR ILLINI PASSES, BUT HAVE HOPE

They Believe Berwanger Will Save Them.

Illinois has reason to remember Jay Berwanger of the Maroons, University of Chicago followers pointed out yesterday when reports reached the Midway that the Illini are pending all their defensive efforts in preparation for the Chicago-Illinois match at Stagg field Saturday toward stopping "the flying Dutchman." In last season's tight defensive struggle between the two teams Berwanger, then a sophomore, made 84 yards in running plays, as against a total of 64 yards made by all the Illini backs.

Chicago, likewise, has a few things to remember, including the punting of Les Lindberg, and the passing combination of Jack Beynon to Crain Portman, which beat them with one flip. The pre-game situation this year is much like that of last season, with both teams fearing the same performers. The difference appears to be that both teams have sharpened their attacks, which may mean that the game will be a high scoring offensive duel rather than bitter defensive fight.

Rain Handicaps Maroons.

The Maroons yesterday had little opportunity to do any attack-sharpening. Rain prevented the scheduled scrimmage, and the practice consisted of a chalk talk by Assistant Coach Otto Strohmeier, who has scouted Illinois, and an hour of dummy maneuvers on both offense and defense. Both Johnny Baker, injured end, and Ralph Balfanz, sophomore, wing aspirant, were with the first team.

Eight Maroons will be playing their last game for Chicago. They are Capt. Ell Patterson, center; John Baker, Bill Langley, and Bartlett Peterson, ends; John Womer, tackle; Tom Flinn and Ed Cullen, quarter backs; and Barton Smith, full back.

They'll Concede Nothing.

Though Illinois normally should be given the edge because of its superior record, especially in the comparison of the games played by the two teams against Ohio State, Maroon fans are conceding nothing. They point out that Chicago played its best game against the Illini last year, and had the advantage in every department but the score, and that the team now will be at top strength for the first time in several weeks.

ILLINI TEST WIB HENRY.

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—Wib Henry, sophomore substitute quarter back, was shifted to half back today as the Illinois regulars reported after a layoff of a day and began work for the Chicago game. Henry's running and throwing abilities may gain him a position in the starting back field.

Although Eddie Gryboski did not scrimmage, the regular guard was out in a suit and will be in condition for the encounter. Bill Walker appeared at end in place of Gene Dykstra, who was called home to Chicago by the death of an uncle and will not return until Thursday. Three freshman teams interpreted Chicago offensive ideas against the varsity elevens, with chief emphasis on a defense to stop Jay Berwanger. New plays designed especially for this game were taught the varsity.

Immediately after the party Griffith, accompanied by Stanley Harris, newly appointed manager of the Senators, left for Louisville, Ky., to attend the annual minor league meeting.

King Levinsky pulled away at the weights, boxed, joked and puffed yesterday while the boxing commission watched to see whether he is fit for the Art Lasky fight Friday night. They said he is and the King said: "You're right!"

BY FRENCH LANE.

"I never have watched him when he appeared to be in better physical condition," Triner said. "Maybe Lasky will give him a licking Friday night, but it won't be because Levinsky isn't in shape."

Triner hastened to add that Levinsky has the stamp of approval of the Illinois commission for this match as far as being physically fit is concerned.

Packy Lauds King.

Packy McFarland, master boxer of his time and a member of the commission, conferred with Chairman Triner before the latter made his statement. He too had looked on as the Kingfish went through his drill.

Then McFarland added: "His judgment of distance is better than I've ever known it to be. He had to be at tops to go through this kind of training session."

Levinsky weighed 204 pounds. He skipped the rope for ten minutes before he climbed into the ring. Next he engaged Adolph Wiator, a right husky up-and-coming heavyweight, for two rounds. His second punch landed on Wiator's head with such force that the sparmate surely would have gone down had he not been wearing a heavily padded head guard.

They slugged viciously until the finish. The Kingfish next boxed a round with Tommy Davenport. That was all Davenport wanted, so Rudy Sterbenz took the Kingfish on for one more round. There was more floor work and a furious session with the punching bag before the Kingfish would call it a day's work.

The King Jests.

The Kingfish was in good humor. He kidded the members of the boxing commission as he romped through the drill. Once after he had belted Wiator a terrific punch in the stomach he glanced over and shouted, "How's that one, Mr. Triner?"

A few minutes later while he was giving Davenport a dozen slaps about the ears and chin he grinned out once more, focused his glance on McFarland, and shouted, "Isn't this the way you did it, Packey?"

His sister Lena—Leapin' Lena—leaned on the apron of the ring. Her new blonde hair—she was a brunette the last time the Kingfish fought—sparkled beneath the bright lights. "Knock him cold!" she shrieked.

"Never mind that," answered the Kingfish. "Let's wait and put Lasky on the ice."

"After all these years I've just found out what the Kingfish needs," Lena told the members of the boxing commission. "It is a lot of hard work. Now that he's down to 204 pounds he's going to stay there if I have to match him up for a fight every other week and then go out myself on the road with him. There's to be no rest for the Kingfish this winter, for we're going to make plenty of money."

Business Is Rushing.

The members of the commission will journey over to Trafton's gymnasium this afternoon to see Lasky. The big fellow with the long pointed chin pleased the ringsiders who watched him box four rounds yesterday. Tom Jones opposed him for two rounds, and Tony Souza went in against him for his last two.

Reports from the counting room last night were that the bout may draw 15,000 customers, who will pay about $30,000.

TRIAL OF $10,000 CUB CONTRACT SUIT IS STARTED

Boston, Mass., Nov. 20.—(AP)—The $10,000 suit brought by Eddie McGrath, 1931 Harvard baseball captain, against the Chicago Cubs for alleged breach of an oral contract opened today with Emil Fuchs, president of the Boston Braves and a national league director, representing the defense.

Fuchs, a former New York City magistrate and attorney, was admitted to the Massachusetts bar a few weeks ago.

McGrath said he was approached by John Doyle, one of the Chicago Cubs scouts, in May, 1931, and entered into a verbal agreement to play with that club after his graduation. McGrath said the Cubs promised him a $5,000 bonus for signing and a $500 monthly salary. Attorneys indicated the case would be ready for the jury tomorrow.

George Pinelli Signed by National League as Umpire

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 20.—(AP)—George Pinelli, former Cincinnati Reds infielder, was signed as a National league umpire today. Pinelli umpired in the Pacific Coast league last year.

BOILERMAKERS, GOPHERS READY TO CELEBRATE

That Is, if They Can Win Saturday.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Preparations now are being made at Lafayette, Ind., and Minneapolis to celebrate winning of the Western conference football championship. Minnesota hopes to start its celebration about 4:30 Saturday afternoon in Madison when the Badgers have been numbered eighth in the Gopher list of victims. About the same time the Boilermakers expect to have beaten Indiana.

If these plans materialize, Minnesota will have won five conference games and three nonconference games. Purdue will have four conference victories and nonconference victories over Carnegie Tech and Fordham. Purdue lost its first two games of the season, the first to undefeated Rice institute, 14 to 0, and the second to Notre Dame, 18 to 7.

Stand on Record.

The Boilermakers, in retrospect, could find several reasons why they did not win from these teams, among them an injury to Duane Purvis which kept him out of the Rice game and forced him to alternate with Jim Carter in the Notre Dame game. An inexperienced line, which was slow in reaching its peak, is another excuse. None of these has been advanced officially by the Purdue coaching staf. Moreover, Purdue has not entered into any argument concerning the merits of its eleven and that of Minnesota or Ohio State. The Boilermakers are content to permit their record to stand. They only insist that Purdue's four game conference schedule is no fault of theirs, and if they had had the opportunity they would have been pleased to play a fifth game against any team in the Big Ten.

It Isn't Won Yet.

It is outside our province to remind both teams, Minnesota and Purdue, that the conference title is not won as yet. This duty has been fulfilled, or is being fulfilled, by Coaches Bernie Bierman and Noble Kizer. It is logical that coaches are most nervous when only one step remains to reach a season's goal, and this week you can wager that Minnesota and Purdue coaches have at least a mild attack of the jitters.

There is sufficient reason. Wisconsin, always a stubborn foe as far as Minnesota is concerned, was only beaten 6 to 3 last year by a Gopher team which rated a couple of touchdowns better. Dr. Clarence Spears of Wisconsin, who has regained some of his good nature by virtue of Wisconsin victories over Michigan and Illinois, knows how to play his men against Minnesota's line attack. The Badgers may not accomplish much on offense, but they can create as much havoc if, by any chance, they hold Minnesota to a tie.

Weather May Count.

The weather may be a factor. A muddy field, rain or snow, tend to make teams equal. If Lund cannot pass, because of a heavy ball, the Wisconsin line might conceivably hold Minnesota in check. Michigan did for one half, when Minnesota refused to take a chance on passing in its own territory.

Indiana represents more of a threat to Purdue than Wisconsin does to Minnesota. Indiana has tied Iowa and indeed outplayed the Hawkeyes. And Indiana also tied Temple, 6 to 6, which looms more important if Temple marches through the remainder of its schedule victorious. In other words, Indiana, on occasion, can play inspired football and it must be added that the Hoosiers generally do against Purdue.

This year Purdue has not scored in proportion to the yards gained—for example, last Saturday's 7 to 0 triumph over Fordham and the 13 to 7 victory over Iowa, when the Boilermakers had about a 5 to 1 ratio in ground gaining. This waste of power always lays a team open to defeat if its rival capitalizes on its one or two scoring chances.

But the result of Saturday's game between Purdue and Indiana probably rests on Purdue's running attack, featuring Carter and Purvis, and backed up by Purvis' passing and kicking. If Indiana can check these men under two touchdowns it will be most surprising, although once again the condition of the gridiron will be important.

GRIMM WANTS SLUGGER, ALSO SOME PITCHERS

Indianapolis Would Sell Sox a Star.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 20.—Traders in baseball's winter flesh marts, the windiest ilk on the globe, are assembled here for four days of talking through their hats, with occasional interludes of honest to goodness accomplishment.

On this, the first day, there was much talk, but not even as much accomplishment as had been anticipated. Several really hot trades and purchases are in the making, but actual closing in several cases was postponed because certain key men like Bill Terry won't get here till tomorrow.

Sox Party Arrives.

Owner Lou Comiskey and Manager Jimmy Dykes of the White Sox also were early arrivals, though about two hours later than Grimm.

The net of the day's talkings, in so far as the Chicago teams are concerned, was that Red Killefer, manager of the Indianapolis Indians, called on Mr. Comiskey and offered to peddle him one Vernon Washington, runner-up to Earl Webb as batting champion of the American association. The Sox sought to draft Washington this fall, but found he was not liable to the draft by a matter of eight days under a technical baseball law.

Killefer at first wanted two players and $10,000, but along about dusk Red thought he heard $20,000 jingling in Mr. Comiskey's pocket. So far the deal hasn't been closed.

Because of the tardiness of Terry and also Pie Traynor, manager of the Pirates, Manager Grimm did not open his drive to land two pitchers from a coveted list which includes Carl Hubbell and Hal Schumacher of the Giants; Larry French, of the Pirates, Curt Davis of the Phillies, and Van Mungo of the Dodgers.

Cubs May Get Freddy.

While Grimm was waiting to get going on the pitcher business, though, he began to talk about his great desire for a third baseman who can hit. And up popped the name of Freddy Lindstrom. Freddy wants to go back to third busing, his first love, and it is reliably reported he would like to be with the Cubs, one of the reasons for this being that Chicago is his home town. He is in attendance here.

Charley knows Freddy would like to play third base for the Cubs and it is further rumored that the Pirates have talked some of putting Lindstrom on the block.

Regarding the matter of trading material, it is said that Grimm will trade any one of about eighteen players on his roster. His swap list, however, is headed by Kiki Cuyler, Guy Bush, Stanley Hack, Charley Root, and Bud Tinning.

Wentz Attends Meeting.

Lew Wentz, the Oklahoma multi-millionaire, who has been trying to purchase the world champion St. Louis Cardinals, arrived today. He said there was nothing important about his visit, but it was rumored that he might close the deal for the Cardinals during the meeting.

According to rumors Wentz already has closed the deal for the Cardinals.

The annual post-season playoff series for the American association championship will not be played next season. Owners decided to open the season April 16 and close Sept. 15. Whether the little world series will be resumed next year depends on the outcome of a joint meeting tomorrow. The association has asked the International league to abandon its playoff series to clear the way for the interleague games.

Charles H. Knapp, Baltimore, was reëlected president of the International league for a two year term. Warren C. Giles, Rochester, was reelected vice president, while William B. Carpenter, Cincinnati, was reappointed umpire in chief.

HALL NAMED TO HEAD U. S. L. T. A. ANOTHER TERM

New York, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Walter Merrill Hall of New York, president of the United States Lawn Tennis association, and four fellow officers were renominated today to govern the U. S. L. T. A. for 1935.

With nominations in the past tantamount to election, Hall, who was nationally ranked fourth in 1918, was renominated at the head of a slate chosen by a committee of which Charles N. Beard was chairman.

Hall's aids will continue to be Holcombe Ward of New York as first vice president; Joseph W. Ivy of Kansas City, Mo., second vice president; Ralph Westcott of Chicago, secretary, and Lawrence A. Baker of Washington, treasurer.

The personnel of the delegates at large to the executive committee was kept intact with the exception of Harry S. Walsh of Chicago, whose place is to be taken by Capt. J. H. Bishop of Culver, Ind., president of the Western Lawn Tennis association. The other delegates renominated are Alrick H. Man Jr. and Walter L. Pate of New York, and Joseph W. Wear of Philadelphia.

Meeting with Cardinals Worries Halas.

BY GEORGE STRICKLER.

Two of the most talked of football teams in the National league, the Bears and Cardinals, were hard at work at Wrigley field yesterday for their game Sunday. But they tackled the day's chores with widely divergent attitudes.

In the Bears' dressing room, a tall man stood off by himself pulling a towel to and fro across his back with listless deliberation. He was George Halas, owner and coach of the world's champions, and for once visitors found Halas stripped of his dignity.

He frowned slightly and glanced furtively at a large picture of the Detroit Lions, an inspiring piece of photography which has been displayed prominently in the Bears' quarters for a definite purpose. The Lions, undefeated, play the Bears twice next week. It didn't inspire Halas much. He turned away with a grimace.

"O, what a headache!" he moaned. "And before them we get the Cardinals. I wish I had taken up plumbing."

It was evident that the strain of maintaining a victory march is telling on the men who have played 30 games without suffering defeat. The Cardinals' victory over Green Bay and their stand against Detroit afford the champions little solace.

Over on the other side of the park the Cardinals were a happy, confident group, eager for the day's work. They have forgotten Nagurski and Feathers. A new defense, one that deals in systems and not personalities, has been given them. They have felt the thrill of their own strength and have gained confidence.

Rain Hampers Practice.

"It might sound silly to everyone else, but we think we will beat the Bears," ran the tenor of their conversation. "Somebody is going to beat the Bears some day and it might just as well be us on Sunday."

At the conclusion of yesterday's drills, when the Bears worked outdoors in the morning and the Cardinals held a chalk talk in the afternoon, because of the rain, Halas and Coach Paul Schissler of the Cardinals announced their squads in good shape. Barring injury during practice the rest of the week, both will be at full strength Sunday.

PROTEST HELLER TRANSFER.

New York, Nov. 20.—[Special.]—The New York Giants announced today that they had received word that the Boston club had entered a protest with Joe Carr, president of the National Football league at Columbus, O., against Warren Heller being transferred to the Giants from the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Heller reported for practice to replace the injured Harry Newman in the back field and was expected to prove a valuable asset to the Giants in their important game with Boston at the Polo grounds on Sunday.

The Giants contend that there is nothing in the National league rules to prevent the transfer of Heller's contract from Pittsburgh to the local eleven, but state that there is nothing they can do but wait for a ruling from Carr on the matter. The Redskins maintain that the transfer should not be allowed.

3,000 ATHLETES ARE EXPECTED AT OLYMPIC GAMES

[Copyright, 1934, By the New York Times.]

BERLIN, Nov. 20.—The program for the Olympic games of 1936 was outlined today before the American Chamber of Commerce in Berlin by Dr. Theodor Lewald, president of the Olympic organizing committee.

According to present indications, Dr. Lewald said, the games promise to be even a bigger event than those at Los Angeles. Nearly 3,000 athletes from fifty countries are expected to compete, whereas only 1,500 took part at Los Angeles.

They will have at their disposal, Dr. Lewald stated, the most modern set of sporting grounds available anywhere in the world. These will include a stadium seating more than 100,000 spectators and numerous fields for special sports.

Chancellor Hitler, Dr. Lewald further announced, has agreed to act as patron of the games. It was Hitler's disregard of burocratic tangles and generous allotment of money, said Dr. Lewald, that made these elaborate Olympic plans possible.

All of the larger countries, except Great Britain, already have accepted the invitations extended by Germany to compete, Dr. Lewald said. British acceptance is expected to be voted at a meeting of the British Olympic committee on Dec. 6.

BLACK HORSE AND CAVALRY POINT FOR POLO GAME

The 106th Cavalry polo team yesterday continued preparations for its game with the Black Horse troop at the Chicago Riding club, Ontario street and McClurg court, Saturday night. The 106th trio will be seeking to avenge a defeat at the hands of the Black Horse troop three weeks ago.

The 106th team, composed of Tommy Anderson, Doc Hubert, and Dick Strauss, last Saturday scored its second victory of the season by defeating the Riding club Juniors, 7 to 6½. In another contest on the program the 122d Field Artillery Juniors will oppose the Riding club Juniors.

Polo League to Entertain Players at Armory Tonight

Fifty polo players of the middle west will be guests of the Metropolitan Indoor Polo league tonight at the 124th Field Artillery armory, 52d street and Cottage Grove avenue. The affair will be the pre-season get-together of players before they inaugurate their campaign a week from Saturday night in the south side armory arena.

TERRY AND THE PIRATES—BLISSFUL IGNORANCE

DICK TRACY—Man Wanted

Repair Faces of Hawk Trio After Drill

Dr. H. F. Meacham, the Blackhawks' club physician, who is a busy enough man even in the slack periods of hocky, reached a new high in endeavor yesterday when he was called upon to do some crocheting on the chins of Tommy Cook, Norman Locking, and Marty Burke. All of this stitching was the result of the Hawks' most spirited scrimmage of the season, done in the interests of their battle with the St. Louis Eagles at the Stadium tomorrow night.

The Hawks, who will arrive tomorrow night to erase the memory of their sorry home debut against the Toronto Maple Leafs last Sunday, in which they were soundly thumped by a 5 to 0 score, were sent through a two hour drill so spotted with flying sticks and spills that the aforesaid trio were forced to call upon Dr. Meacham for treatment. The doctor, having done with his patching, announced that all three will be available for tomorrow night.

Among those present yesterday was Paul Thompson, the Hawks' high scorer in last year's Stanley cup victory, who had been absent from Monday's drill because of a heavy cold. Art Coulter, defense player who is troubled similarly, stayed home yesterday, but phoned to promise he will be about to work in tomorrow morning's session.

The drill yesterday was facilitated in more ways than one by the perfect condition of the Stadium ice.

The Blackhawk management yesterday revealed no fresh tidings about the status of its two holdouts, Center Doc Romnes and Defense Man Taffy Abel. It is uderstood that the latter, whom the patrons demanded in loud voice and large numbers last Sunday, when the Hawks' weak defense became apparent, is quite satisfied to stay at his job in a northern Michigan brewery until the Hawks meet his terms, if ever. Romnes, on the other hand, may be used in a deal whereby the Hawk defense might be strengthened. Alex Levinsky, New York Ranger checker who was sold to New York by Toronto, has been mentioned as a possibility.

P. G. A. PLANS TO INCREASE FIELD IN OWN TOURNEY

Present Rules Eliminate Too Many Stars.

The United States amateur and women's golf tournaments will not be the only major events in the game to undergo changes in makeup, it was revealed yesterday at the opening of the Professional Golfers' association annual meeting at the Morrison hotel.

During the recent season the amateur tournament was changed to conform with the British system of all match play, and the number of qualifiers in the women's event was increased from 32 to 64. It is this latter change which the P. G. A., national organization of pro golfers, plans to adopt.

"Many members of the association feel that such a change is desirable," R. W. [Doc] Treacy of Milwaukee, a vice president of the association, said. "Under the present rules, the qualifying score for the P. G. A. championship is so low that a difference of only one or two shots often eliminates a man."

May Exempt Quarter Finalists.

If the plan in question were adopted by the P. G. A., it probably would also be necessary to change the match play system, limiting the first two rounds to eighteen holes each, to avoid extending the event another day.

Another proposal is to exempt the eight quarter finalists from the necessity of qualifying, thus giving a number of foreign born golfers a better break. Under the present constitution only members of the American Ryder cup team, which is restricted to American born players, are exempt from the qualifying round.

Expect to Elect Officers Today.

The present meeting, which will end tomorrow, is being attended by 55 officers and delegates from all sections of the country, including George Jacobus of Ridgewood, N. J., president of the P. G. A., and Charles Hall of Birmingham, Ala., honorary president. Another widely known golfer present is Johnny Farrell of New York, former national open champion, who is a vice president of the organization. Election of officers for the 1935 season is expected to be held today.

TOM BASS, FAMED SADDLE HORSE TRAINER, DIES

Mexico, Mo., Nov. 20.—(AP)—Tom Bass, Negro, whose fame as a horseman won the applause of Presidents and royalty, died here today.

Rex McDonald, Miss Rex, Black Squirrel, Forest King, Jack o' Diamonds, and many other famous saddle horses received all or part of the training from Bass. Thousands of trophies stored in the home where he died attest his success during a half century of showmanship.

Born near Columbia, about seventy-three years ago, Bass claimed to be the only Negro ever to exhibit at the American Royal Horse show in Kansas City.

POLISH OFFENSE AT IOWA STATE FOR FINAL GAME

Ames, Ia., Nov. 30.—(AP)—The Iowa State Cyclones today laid final plans for the Kansas State game Saturday as they ran through an offensive scrimmage against the scrubs for the last time this season.

Both aerial and running attacks were emphasized and the varsity brushed up on plays that were not used last week against Drake. No new plays have been given out.

Bag Ratio on Mudhens and Ducks 2,000-1

BY BOB BECKER.

Some time ago this department asked for information about the number of mudhens shot in the northern Illinois lake country in proportion to the ducks killed. A number of sportsmen in the state are interested in learning something about the relative abundance of ducks in the hunters bags compared to the thousands of mudhens killed.

Reports on Pistakee Lake.

J. W. Kreuser, 1311 Rosedale avenue, Chicago, has given us a report on a group of shooters that annually hunt on Pistakee lake in the Fox lake region. He also tells what the mudhen shooters would like in the way of laws. His letter follows:

"Let me express the views of the Eagle Point gang that shoot on Pistakee lake. Up to last year, with no leash on the pot hunters, the average kill would be about 2,000 mudhens to one duck. This season I can give you quite accurate figures for the first two dates of the open season [Oct. 6 and 7]. On those two days the 20 hunters on Eagle Point killed about 750 mudhens. [Note: This is an average of about 37 mudhens per shooter for the two days. Under the present law a full two day bag limit would be 50 birds.]

Asks Limit of 15 Mudhens.

"There were about 120 hunters in all on the lake. Two ruddy ducks were killed by hunters who didn't know what they were. If those 100 shooters got half as many mudhens as our gang of 20 shot you can figure the number of birds taken on that lake the first two days of the season.

"What the real sportsman wants on Pistakee lake is a limit of 15 mudhens, a limit of two shooting hours and no open water hunting two hours after sunrise."

In this day of reduced bag limits, with many hunters complaining about a reduction in their shooting, Mr. Kreuser's report is especially noteworthy because he urges further restrictions on bird shooting, rather than more lenient laws.

Merry Gardens Fights Called Off by Coulon

The show booked at Merry Gardens tonight has been canceled because Promoter Johnny Coulon was unable to obtain a suitable substitute for Sammy Musco against Jimmy Christy in the windup.

Tommy Paul of Buffalo, N. Y., former featherweight champion, and Everett [Young] Rightmire of Sioux City, Ia., may clash in a feature contest at Midway Arena on Dec. 3. . . . Rightmire is to return next week from a vacation at Sioux Falls, S. D. . . . Young Geno, La Salle 126 pound boxer, will go home for Thanksgiving after a two months' sojourn in California. . . . Earl Mastro, former local star, stopped off at Albuquerque, N. M., en route to Hollywood.

Eight amateur matches have been arranged for the show to be presented at the Y. M. C. A., 1515 West Monroe street, next Tuesday. Harold Fitzsimmons, Joliet, Central A. A. U. heavyweight titleholder, will meet Tony Musco of Aurora, in the main event. Other encounters will involve Bob Tinsley and Matty Piovanich, Dave Schimmel, and Sam De Pasquale, Vern Ovens, and Ben Hauser, and Dan Villa and Dom De Pasquale.

Mickey Patrick, ex-East Chicago, Ind., light heavyweight, athletic committee chairman of the East Chicago Elks, Lodge No. 981, is arranging a Christmas charity amateur program at East Chicago Dec. 12. . . . Arrangements have been started for the annual Illinois Athletic club amateur tournament at the club in January. . . . Karl Ogren went three rounds yesterday with Puggy Weinert at Northwest gymnasium for a 10 round bout with Frank Rattaglia at Arcadia Gardens next Tuesday. F. M.

N. U. NOMINATES DUVALL ONE OF BIG TEN'S BEST

Big Full Back Is to Lead Attack on Michigan.

While other schools are singing the praises of their Kostkas, Craynes, and Wetzels, Northwestern is ready to stand up and present Hugh Duvall as a full back worthy of gracing any select company of line plungers.

It is upon the ample shoulders of the 200 pound husky that the Wildcats will place most of their hopes for a victory over Michigan in the season's finale at Ann Arbor Saturday. After a slow start this year Duvall demonstrated in the games against Wisconsin, Illinois, and Notre Dame that he is one of the hardest hitting full backs in the conference.

Averages Four Yards.

He reached his peak against Notre Dame Saturday, when he time and again rolled back the Irish for gains of 10 yards of more. In 16 attempts he piled up a total of 64 yards for an average of 4 yards per carry.

Duvall isn't the only Wildcat back to show improvement in recent games. Wally Cruice, also playing his second year on the squad, leaped into the category of outstanding backs as a result of his showing against Illinois and Notre Dame. He reeled off a number of long runs in both games and now stands out along with Duvall and Bob Swisher as the Wildcats' principal ground gaining backs.

This trio, along with Steve Toth, will comprise Northwestern's starting back field against the Wolverines. George Potter, veteran quarter back, who played a few minutes in the Notre Dame game, will also be available for duty. Potter has been out of action several weeks with a knee injury.

The squad held its first workout of the week yesterday afternoon. The practice consisted of a defensive dummy scrimmage against a freshman squad that demonstrated Michigan plays and formations. All scrimmage has been canceled for the week.

MICHIGAN PATCHED UP.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—A patched up Michigan team went through the motions of preparing for Northwestern this afternoon, spending most of the period trying to make its forward passes click and its running plays work.

The patches in the lineup were represented by Russell Fuog at center, Tage Jacobsen and Bud Hanshue at left tackle, and Steve Remias at full back. The tackles were working in place of John Viergever, Fuog was a replacement for Gerald Ford, and Remias was at full back for Cedric Sweet, all men who probably will not play Saturday because of injuries.

Horween Aids Harvard Plans to Beat Yale

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—Arnold Horween, now in the lether business in Chicago, arrived today to help whip the Harvard eleven into shape for its game with Yale at New Haven Saturday. This is the second season that Horween has dropped his Chicago activites and answered his alma mater's call.

Press Is Barred.

No newspapermen were allowed to witness the session. Horween and Casey experimented with new lineups in the back field. Bill Watts, sophomore, went in at right half for George Blackwood. The Harvard board of strategy also decided to use Mike Adlis, 17 year old sophomore, at right tackle.

Horween sat in at the Yale-Princeton thriller at Princeton last week-end and today told the players Yale could be beaten despite its 7 to 0 victory over Princeton.

He Doesn't Want the Job.

Although there has been considerable talk about a shakeup in the Harvard coaching staf as a result of the football team's poor season and the possibility of drafting Horween for the head coachship, it is understood here that Horween has told intimates that he will not again neglect his business to take over the job of coaching a Harvard eleven.

As result of Yale's victory over Princeton the demand for tickets for Saturday's game indicates a capacity crowd of almost 70,000.

YALE POLISHES DEFENSE.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 20.—(AP)—Yale's "iron men" engaged in a long defensive drill against Harvard plays today as preparations were continued for the game with the Crimson in the bowl Saturday.

For more than two hours Coach Ducky Pond sent the eleven players who defeated Princeton through an intensive session featured by a dummy scrimmage in which the varsity opposed a scrub team utilizing Harvard formations. The regulars gave a good account of themselves.

Except for Kim Whitehead, star half back, who has a slight limp, the team which played throughout last Saturday's game is in excellent condition. Whitehead is expected to be fully recovered in time for the Harvard battle.

A.A.U. O. K.'s Gymnastics Meet at Blackhawk Park

An invitational gymnastics meet for men to be held at Blackhawk park, La Vergne and Belden avenues, on Dec. 14 yesterday was sanctioned by the registration committee of the Central A. A. U. George W. Sonnenleiter of the Chicago park district is in charge of the tournament. Entry blanks may be obtained from him at Blackhawk park.

Rain Cancels Scrimmage at Notre Dame

Notre Dame, Ind., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—Notre Dame will enter Saturday's game with Army at New York without having had the benefit of live scrimmage against Cadet plays.

A steady downpour this afternoon forced Notre Dame's large squad into the gymnasium, where Coach Elmer Layden did what he could on a dummy skirmish on offense and defense.

Layden has decided tomorrow is too close to Saturday to risk injuries in a scrimmage, so the squad will leave Thursday noon with little practice against Army maneuvers to guide them, and with only the echoes of tomorrow night's proposed pep meeting to cheer them as they face an Army team which has lost only one start in eight.

Irish to Drill in East.

Speakers for the pep session will include Layden, Joe Boland, and Tom Conley, two of his assistants; Robert Proctor of Elkhart, and Frank Coughlin, former Notre Dame captain, now of South Bend.

The only practice Notre Dame will have after tomorrow will be at the Westchester Country club in Rye, N. Y., to which drill the natives usually flock in large numbers preventing any secret maneuvers.

ARMY LEARNS IRISH TACTICS.

West Point, N. Y., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—Army practiced in secret today for the Notre Dame game. The cadets were drilled for almost an hour on defense, two scrub teams alternating in putting on the Notre Dame offensive.

The power plays had more success than the aerials, the big team having some difficulty at the outset with the strange formations which made up the running attack. However, the alert varsity forwards spent most of the period over in the scrub backfield pushing the passers and smearing many of the attempts of the scrubs to gain ground through the air.

Cadets Practice Passing.

The Cadets devoted the last half of their practice period to polishing up their own forward passing game. Jack Buckler and his understudy, Ossie Simons were on the throwing end of the passes with Whitey Grove and Joe Stancook as receivers. Stromberg and Edwards also participated in this drill.

NAVY WORKS ON NEW PLAYS FOR ARMY ENCOUNTER

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—Practice began in the dressing room this afternoon and was continued on Farragut field, as Lieut. Tom Hamilton and his aids began to give the Navy team its finishing touches for the Army game less than two weeks off.

Enough players to make a little over three teams spent nearly the first hour of the practice session in the dressing room while Hamilton outlined some new phases of the general offensive used this season which will be perfected during the next ten days and used in a match for the first time in the service contest.

Work on these plays was continued on the field, the plays being run by the three teams, at first against sandbags and then with a "B" squad team as the opposition. The Navy's "Army" team continued its drill in the plays of the service under Frank Foster, and will be used in the next day or two for the varsity's defensive practice.

Badger Alumni Give Team Dinner Saturday

Madison, Wis., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—The Wisconsin Alumni association will sponsor a banquet for the football team Saturday night in the gymnasium. Usually, these affairs have been held two or three weeks after the close of the football season and by that time interest has begun to lag. Pat O'Dea, who will remain for the Minnesota game, will attend.

Gophers Raise Prices for Basketball Games

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—The University of Minnesota today announced an increase in prices for its basketball games. General admission was raised from 40 to 55 cents and reserved seats were boosted to 80 cents and $1, as compared to a flat scale of 65 cents last year.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

EARLIER CHICAGO.

DEAR Wake: Back in 1876 Tom Nenning was proprietor of a saloon on the southwest corner of Division and Larrabee streets, where he introduced the beer schooner known as "Buffalo Snits," and he was known far and wide as "Buffalo Snits."

There was a big watering trough in front where teamsters watered their horses while lassoing a few of those big Buffalos. Dairy farmers did likewise while passing by to the H. H. Schufeldt distillery at Chicago avenue and Larrabee [Montgomery Ward corner] for wagonloads of slop feed for their cows.

Old Wesson street, now Gault court, was home of the Murphys, who operated the fruit stand in the I. C. passenger station at the foot of Lake street. The Gannons and Burkes, parents of Bobby, Mayor Harrison's oil inspector, also were residents of this district. Shea, Kipley, Schaack, and Whalen were the topnotch fly cops and beat it along Division street.

About 1899 Robert G. Ingersoll lectured at McVicker's theater and we paid $1 a head to stand against the wall in the top gallery. Ingersoll was a fine looking man, the greatest orator I ever heard. He walked to the center of the stage, shoved his hands deep into his pockets, looked out at the audience and smiled. The crowd broke into a tremendous cheer that shook the building. He had no spotlight, scenery, or ballyhoo; just walked out on an empty stage and did his stuff. H. W. Meltzer.

Harvey: I am a duck hunter, but regulations posted in the postoffice relative to duck stamps have me puzzled. The first paragraph states: "Every hunter of migratory fowl over 16 years of age is now required to have in his possession a migratory bird hunting stamp."

I have been trained to see the white of a duck's eyes before I shoot, but please advise how I can tell whether or not the migratory fowl is over 16 years old. Anyway I prefer them under that age, with no stamp required, evidently. R. G. C.

They've painted it and changed the porch
That held our swing and knew such tales
Of happy childish laughter].
New owner's modern—bet he'd scorn
The thought of our old daddy,
Who used to loll upon the porch
While swapping tales with Paddy.
And mother with her merry laugh
At tales quite past believing
[The mem'ry of these three somehow
Has set my heart to grieving].
And now I wish I hadn't planned
To come, for tears are falling,
For other days and other ways,
And folks there's no recalling. J. C.

Mrs. Dempsey Improves; Jack Goes to Boston

New York, Nov. 20.—[Special.]—The condition of Mrs. Jack Dempsey, wife of the former heavyweight boxing champion, who became ill yesterday, was reported so much improved today that Dempsey returned to Boston, Mass. Dempsey last night had hurried to the bedside of his wife from Harwichport, Mass., where he was refereeing a wrestling match when informed of her illness. Mrs. Dempsey's temperature had dopped from 103 to 100 degrees today, the nurse in attendance said. Her temperature was apparently induced when she struck her chest in an accident while supervising decoration of their new apartment. Mrs. Dempsey is the former Hannah Williams, musical comedy star.

Gophers Drill for Badgers on Wet Field

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—The University of Minnesota football team went back to serious work today for its windup game with Wisconsin at Madison Saturday. The footing was not the best after a steady rain, but Coach Bernie Bierman figured that it would provide a good test of what may be expected at Madison at this time of the year.

Bierman had one solace as he returned to work after a light Monday. That was that his cripples would be in shape, and that the squad as a whole would be in the best condition since before the Michigan game. Since that time an injury or two has appeared for every game, but all of the casualties are fit to go against the Badgers.

Seidel, Oech Ready.

Glen Seidel, quarter back, and Vern Oech, guard, both kept out of the Chicago game, reported in much improved condition. Bierman, however, will go easy with them this week in order to allow them to heal completely. Butch Larson saw service Saturday, but only sparingly. He, too, will be ready Saturday for full time duty if need be.

BADGERS EXPECT 38,000.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—After a day's rest, Coach Doc Spears sent the Wisconsin regulars back into action at Camp Randall this afternoon as the Badgers prepared for the Minnesota invasion Saturday.

While the Badgers were taking it comparatively easy yesterday, the athletic ticket office was undergoing one of its most strenuous workouts in several years. Harry Schwenker, manager of sales, and his force of workers, passed out more than 1,000 pasteboards, and announced last night that the ticket office would be kept open extra hours for the remainder of the week to take care of the rush.

About 7,000 seats remained this afternoon, although most of them are back of the goal posts. A sellout of 38,000 seemed assured today.

Spears Sees a Battle.

Frankly and naturally pessimistic over the Badgers' chances, Coach Spears thinks Wisconsin will give the high-geared Gophers a tough game if they tackle as they did against Illinois.

Hopeful Badger followers point to the fact that seven points or less have decided most of the games since 1921, and that Pat O'Dea, the Badgers' gridiron immortal who was given quite a bit of credit for inspiring the Wisconsin victory over Illinois, has consented to remain for the battle with Minnesota.

KNOX PRESIDENT PRAISES SPIRIT OF LOSING TEAM

Galesburg, Ill., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—Admiration for the Knox football team, which has not won a game in 26 starts, was expressed by President Albert Britt in a chapel address today. He said he admires the players because although they have never tasted victory in their college gridiron career their spirit remains unbroken.

"There is more reason to commend the Knox team this year, on the basis of performance and spirit, than at any time in the history of the college," said President Britt. "When a team can take it on the chin game after game and come up smiling there is no need for the college to feel apologetic about that team's record."

Speaking of the Knox football policy President Britt expressed his belief that it is "dictated by the tradition of the college which, while recognizing the importance of the game and the right of the players to receive on the gridiron the same quality of instructions as in the classroom, recognizes also that the foundation of the college rests on a stronger and broader base than football alone."

FORMER PREP STARS TO MEET IN ARMORY GAME

Several players who starred as members of the Catholic High School league teams will be in the lineup of St. Mary's college of Winona, Minn., when the squad opposes St. Viator at the 124th Field Artillery armory, 52d street and Cottage Grove avenue, Saturday night.

The players include Charles Lantz, formerly of De La Salle; Andy Smith, St. George; Joe Entress and Jim Dowling, De La Salle. Dowling, however, may not start in the game, according to Coach Ed Krause. He suffered a back injury against Concordia.

Iowa Given Long Defense Drill for Ohio

Iowa City, Ia., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—With only two more days of practice remaining before the final game with Ohio State, Coach Ossie Solem sent the University of Iowa football squad through a long defensive scrimmage today.

The varsity with only three veterans in the starting lineup had fair success in stopping Buckeye plays although the tackling of first string linemen failed to satisfy the coach. Solem gave the regulars individual drill on charging and blocking before scrimmage.

Floyd McDowell, guard, who had a finger nail torn off in practice yesterday was able to scrimmage with the aid of a splint.

The other varsity guard, Red Nelson, was not in uniform due to an infected foot but was expected to be available for the final game.

OHIO BACK AT WORK.

Columbus, O., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—Ohio State's players went back to work today after receiving a surprise gift in the form of a short 15 minute workout from Coach Francis Schmidt yesterday. The holiday was the first Ohio State has received this fall.

Schmidt started out practice with a long offensive drill in preparation for the season's final against Iowa Saturday and finished with a turn against the freshmen on defense against Iowa plays.

Tucker Smith, trainer, reported Dick Heekin is limping with a bruised knee, while Jack Smith's old knee injury suffered a slight aggravation. Tippy Dye, who was injured in the Michigan game, reported today, a slight bruise on his chin being the only sign of injury. Inwood Smith, guard, was present with his lower lip patched with tape to protect the stitches he had taken following the Wolverine game.

Ruth's Homer Wins Game for All-Stars, 1 to 0

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, Nov. 20.—Sixteen thousand Japanese fans today saw the best game played by the American league stars since they began their barnstorming trip in Japan. A home run by Babe Ruth won for the Americans, 1 to 0, in a pitching duel between Earl Whitehill and 17 year old Etji Sawamura of the Nippon All Stars at Shizuoka.

Sawamura blanked the major leaguers until the seventh inning and yielded only five hits. The Japanese made three hits off Whitehill. Sawamura recently was expelled from Kyota Commercial school because he played baseball against professionals.

Rain yesterday prevented the finalists in the football races of the Chicago Public High School league and the Catholic league from engaging in practice for the championship games Saturday and Sunday. The City league survivors, Lindblom and Fenger, who meet at Soldiers' field Saturday, and the winners in the Catholic league, St. Mel and Leo, who clash at Loyola stadium Sunday, will resume preparations today.

Fenger's eleven, one of the lightest teams to reach the league finals for more than a decade, listened to a short talk by Coach Doug Fessenden in the school gymnasium. Undefeated in league competition, Fenger this afternoon will go through a long forward passing drill which features Charles Williams and Wes Morris.

Williams, Morris Are Fenger Stars.

The passing combination of Williams and Morris enabled Fenger to score two touchdowns against Crane Tech in the semi-finals last Saturday. Fenger will depend on the two players to bring it its first league championship and the right to oppose the Catholic league champion in the game for Mayor E. J. Kelly's Christmas benefit fund at the lake front arena Dec. 1.

Lindblom hopes to gain its first league championship against Fenger. Under the direction of Coach E. Lansford Moore, Lindblom has reached the semi-finals ten times. Last year it failed in the semi-finals, losing to Morgan Park. Lindblom will outweigh Fenger and will rely on the hard plunging Anthony Juska, 175 pound full back, and Joe Dubsky, 168 pound junior.

St. Mel Piles Up 118 Points.

St. Mel, the highest scoring team in the Catholic league, is confident of a victory over Leo, the east division champion. St. Mel, undefeated and untied, piled up 118 points in winning six consecutive victories in the west section. Leo was tied twice in league competition. It scored 68 points to its opponents' 32.

St. George defeated De La Salle, 7 to 0, in the mud at Evanston in the last sectional game of the season. The defeat sent De La Salle into the cellar of the east section. Jim Bruder scored the winning touchdown in the third quarter on a pass from Larry Cafone.

INDIANA SEEKS NEW PUNTER FOR PURDUE BATTLE

Hoosiers Hope to Work Out Deceptive Attack.

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—Indiana coaches devoted most of today's football practice to offensive maneuvers, realizing that it will take a powerful or deceptive attack to cross Purdue's goal in Ross-Ade stadium Saturday. Coach Bo McMillin was looking for another punter, with the report of physicians that Bob Keck, star kicker, who suffered a twisted knee in the Maryland game, will not be able to play. Corbett Davis and Ettore Antonini took turns at kicking under McMillin's instruction. One or both may do the punting Saturday.

PURDUE GETS SECRET DRILL.

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—The seriousness with which Coach Noble Kizer regards Indiana's threat to Purdue's chance of at least sharing in the Big Ten title was indicated this afternoon when he ordered a secret drill for the first time this season.

Kizer cannot forget the 7 to 6 upset the Boilermakers were handed here in 1930 in similar circumstances and announced he would devote the afternoon to attempting to improve the scoring punch of the eleven.

The combination of Purdue's fight for title honors and Indiana's fight to not only blight the Boilermaker chances but remove the Old Oaken Bucket from Lafayette territory resulted in a heavy rush on the ticket office today. By far the largest crowd of the home season is expected for the game. The crowd will be swelled by several hundred fathers as the game will feature the annual Dad's day here.

New York, Nov. 20.—Expansion of offerings imparted a heavy tone to United States government bonds in somewhat more active dealing today. The group held well above the level of a week ago, however. Treasury issues were 1-32d to 8-32ds lower, and Home Owners' loan 3s and 2¾s lost around ¼. Liberty First 4¼s were 3-32ds higher at 103.20.

New York traction bonds were in strong demand, following an admission by the mayor that negotiations with the Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit corporation looking toward unification of the subways were proceeding satisfactorily and that some agreement might be reached speedily. New highs for the year were recorded in Interborough 7s and refunding 5s and Brooklyn-Manhattan 6s. Manhattan first and second 4s advanced sharply.

High Grade Issues Firmer.

There was a better tone to the market for gilt-edged corporation bonds. Utilities were given better support, even though it seemed that the city administration was determined to go through with the plan of imposing an additional tax on the local companies. While this would not affect directly the companies outside New York, it would establish a dangerous precedent for other cities.

Higher prices were paid today for Union Pacific 4½s, American Telephone debenture 5s, 5½s and sinking fund 5s; Armour 4½s, Burlington refunding 4½s, Detroit Edison 5s of 1955, Consolidated Gas 4½s, New York Telephone 4½s, and Pennsylvania general 5s and consolidated 4s.

Secondary Bonds Irregular.

Second grade and speculative issues followed no uniform trend. Many declined a point or so, but a few gained that much. In the latter class were: New Haven convertible 6s, Container 5s, Kansas City Southern refunding 5s, and Purity Bakeries 5s. Weakness developed in Columbia Gas 5s, American Water Works 6s, Chicago-Terre Haute income 5s, Chicago and North Western refunding 5s, and Pere Marquette 4s and 4½s.

Total transfers aggregated $12,233,000 par value compared with $12,388,000 on Monday. The turnover in governments was $2,770,000 against $3,180,000.

Florida Power and Light.

Investors' Guide: Will you kindly give me information on Florida Power and Light preferred?—D. R. F.

Answer: Florida Power and Light company is controled by American Power and Light company. It furnishes electricity to a population of 399,000 in 152 Florida communities, among which are Miami, Daytona Beach, and St. Augustine. About 83 per cent of gross is from sale of electricity and the balance from other utility services.

Although operating revenues in the twelve months to Sept. 30, 1934, increased about $500,000 over the preceding twelve months, operating expenses and taxes increased about a million dollars. As a result net income dropped to $45,000, which was just 4 per cent of preferred dividend requirements, from $561,000, which was 49 per cent of preferred dividend requirements for the twelve months to Sept. 30, 1933.

Gross in 1933 was $9,600,000, against $10,313,000 in 1932. In 1933 net income was $9,600,000 or only $1.24 per preferred share, against net of $1,214,000 or $7.78 per preferred share for 1932. Net income in 1931 was $2,038,000, against $2,164,000 for 1930.

At the close of 1933 current assets of $3,065,000 were $2,013,000 less than current liabilities of $5,078,000. Included in current liabilities was a $2,232,000 note payable to the parent company.

The 156,144 shares of $7 preferred and 10,000 shares of $6 preferred are junior to $74,000,000 of funded debt, none due until 1951. Nothing has been paid on the preferred since Jan. 3, 1933.

Allis-Chalmers.

Answer: Allis-Chalmers is represented in a wide variety of industries. It manufactures industrial, agricultural, and electrical equipment.

Upturn in 1934 earnings marked the first strong reversal of a four year downward trend of earnings. Not only did operations in the first nine months of 1934 result in a loss of only $299,000 before interest of $608,000, while in the corresponding 1933 period loss before interest of $605,000 was $1,435,000, but the improved showing was accomplished while unfilled orders increased from $5,874,000 on Sept. 30, 1933, to $8,500,000 on Sept. 30, 1934.

In 1933 the company lost $2,106,000 before interest, against a loss of $2,182,000 before interest in 1932. Charges were covered 2.53 times in 1931 and 5.39 times in 1930.

Working capital on Sept. 30, 1934, was $23,126,000, which was 167 per cent of the $13,858,000 5 per cent debentures, due May 1, 1937.

STATE AUDITOR SHUTS CENTRAL REPUBLIC TRUST

Action Follows RFC Suit on Dawes Loan.

BY HOWARD WOOD.

The Central Republic Trust company, former "Dawes" bank, late yesterday afternoon was closed for examination and adjustment by State Auditor Edward J. Barrett. Such action usually precedes the appointment of a receiver, but Mr. Barrett said last night he could not forecast a decision on further action until he received a report from the examiner.

The state auditor's action followed by one day the filing of a suit in the Federal court by the Reconstruction Finance corporation seeking to collect $14,000,000 double liability from stockholders of the bank. The RFC suit disclosed that the Central Republic still owes the RFC $57,107,000 on the original loan which the RFC granted to that institution June 25, 1932.

Take Over Records.

Representatives of the state auditor entered the bank at 4:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon and took charge. William C. Freeman, vice president, who has been in charge of the bank since the resignation of Joseph E. Otis Sr., several months ago, and other officers of the bank turned over their records to the auditor's men.

Auditor Barrett spent yesterday dodging reporters and others seeking information as to his intentions concerning receivership for the bank. For several hours spokesmen for Barrett were kept busy announcing that he was "in town" but could not be reached. Late in the afternoon these spokesmen announced that Barrett had intended to leave for Springfield last night but had changed his plans and would remain to direct the taking over of the Central Republic.

The bill filed by the RFC attorneys on Monday stated that the RFC had been informed that the auditor was about to place the bank in receivership.

If a receiver is named by Mr. Barrett it was believed that William L. O'Connell, general receiver for state banks, will be placed in charge.

Little for Receiver to Do.

Inasmuch as the bank is merely a shell with all its assets already in the hands of the RFC to secure the unpaid portion of the $90,000,000 loan, however, representatives of the bank had asserted that there was no valid reason for a state receivership. With the RFC in possession of the assets there is nothing for the state auditor to receive except a lucrative trust business. Officials of the bank stated that they had been servicing about 3,500 trusts since the institution ceased to be a bank of deposit in October, 1932.

The move of the RFC in instituting the suit in the federal courts to collect from the stockholders under the double liability laws of Illinois, attorneys for the RFC explained, was not due to dissatisfaction with the policy of liquidation that has been under way for two years, but was made in line with the policy of the RFC to realize from every possible source of revenues.

RFC Didn't Ask Receivership.

Being in full possession of all the bank's assets the RFC asked only that a receiver be appointed to collect any funds that might be forthcoming from the stockholders. This would not have necessitated a receivership for the bank.

Gen. Charles G. Dawes, former chairman of the Central Republic and one of its stockholders, returned yesterday afternoon from Hot Springs, Ark., where he had gone two days before. He was visiting with a group of business, banking, and political leaders at the home of Harvey Couch, a former director of the RFC, when news of the suit filed by the RFC reached him Monday night.

Upon his arrival Gen. Dawes said he had no comments to make regarding the action of the RFC in filing the suit.

Meantime yesterday the RFC filed in the Circuit court here a bill for collection against the holders of the Central Republic's 140,000 shares of $100 par capital stock identical in all respects to the suit filed on Monday in the federal court. This move, it was understood, was purely a formality to cover the RFC in the state courts and probably will not be pushed, action being concentrated on the bill filed in the federal court.

Attorney Harold Rosenwald of the RFC's legal staf in Washington said yesterday that the stockholders have until Dec. 3 to file their answers to the bill in the federal court and that no additional steps would be taken in the meantime.

Condition of Finances.

Outstanding unpaid debts consist entirely of $58,339,000, of which $57,107,000 is owed to the RFC as the balance unpaid on the $90,000,000 loan granted June 25, 1932, and $1,232,000 is owed the Chicago loop banks that participated in a $5,000,000 loan to the Central Republic on the same date.

The RFC loan is secured by $76,200,000 worth of cash and collateral, the cash amounting to between $500,000 and $600,000, in addition to the bank's regular working fund. The $1,232,000 owed to the loop banks is secured by foreign securities.

During the period from June 25, 1932, to date the officials of the Central Republic, acting under strict supervision of the RFC and subject to its approval, have liquidated $39,318,000 of collateral and paid with this money $36,661,000 of principal and $2,657,000 of interest on its combined debts to the RFC and the Chicago banks. Of the $36,661,000 principal $32,893,000 has been paid to the RFC and $3,768,000 to the Chicago loop banks.

The Central Republic on June 25, 1932, accepted the full amount of the $90,000,000 commitment from the RFC, but only drew down $10,000,000

MORE EXTRA DIVIDENDS DECLARED; RAILROAD INCLUDED IN LIST

The Cincinnati, New Orleans and Texas Pacific railway yesterday declared an extra dividend of $3 a share and a semi-annual dividend of $4 a share on the common, payable Dec. 26. Six months ago a payment of $4 was made and a year ago the company resumed common dividends with payment of $8 a share.

The Mesta Machine company declared a quarterly dividend of 37½ cents on the common stock, payable Jan. 1. This represents an increase in the company's total cash dividend distribution over the 50 cents quarterly payments made before the recently distributed stock dividend of 66 2-3 per cent.

Abbott Laboratories yesterday declared an extra dividend of 15 cents a share in addition to the regular quarterly payment of 50 cents, payable Jan. 2. This is the fourth extra to be paid this year. On April 1, 10 cents was paid, on July 2, 15 cents, and on Oct. 1, 10 cents.

The Beech-Nut Packing company declared an extra dividend of 50 cents on the common stock together with the regular quarterly distribution of 75 cents. The extra is payable Dec. 15 and the regular Jan. 2.

The American Equitable Assurance company declared a dividend of 25 cents a share on the common, payable Dec. 1, the first payment since one of 30 cents a share in August, 1931.

ARGENTINA WINS FIGHT TO CONTROL MEAT PACKERS

[Copyright: 1934: By the New York Times.]

BUENOS AIRES, Nov. 20.—The packers have lost their long legal battle against government control of their business. The Supreme court has declared the meat trade law constitutional and upheld the action of the minister of agriculture in fining seven packers 5,000 pesos each for refusing to permit examination of their books.

The law which the packers fought establishes a meat trade control bureau in the ministry of agriculture, which has demanded that the packers disclose their cost accounting systems and other commercial secrets. The Supreme court decision holds that, without inspection of the packers' books and vouchers, "the government would lack any weapon against combinations of companies and commercial tactics which would have the Argentine live stock industry at their mercy."

P. A. Walters Named Head of Chicago Bond Men's Club

P. A. Walters, vice president of Stone & Webster and Blodget, Inc., has been appointed president of the Bond Men's club of Chicago to succeed Charles S. Garland, vice president of Brown Harrison & Co., Inc. Mr. Garland will leave Chicago shortly to assume his new duties as vice president in charge of his company's Philadelphia office.

Prince Back from Europe; Silent on Armour President

New York, Nov. 20.—[Special.]—Frederick H. Prince, chairman of Armour & Co., returned from Europe tonight. He declined to discuss the impending election of a new president for the company, but said he would be present at the directors' meeting in Chicago on Friday.

Board of Trade Assets Total $3,384,932

The Chicago Board of Trade yesterday made public a balance sheet giving its financial condition at the beginning of 1934 and an income account covering operations for last year.

The action follows a similar step by the New York Stock exchange and other security markets in response to promptings by the new federal securities exchange commission. Although the board is primarily a commodity market, its stock department brings it under jurisdiction of the commission.

Assets Total $3,384,932.

The balance sheet of the exchange listed total assets of $3,384,932, including a $10,490,000 real estate note of the Chicago Board of Trade Safe Deposit company, which constitutes its principal book assets. The note is carried at the nominal figure of $2,490,000, which represents the original appraisal of the land on which the Board of Trade building now stands.

The building is owned by the Chicago Board of Trade Safe Deposit company, in which the Board of Trade proper has no direct stock ownership. Stock of the building corporation is owned by five members or estates of former members of the exchange. The land on which the building stands was sold to the building corporation when the present structure was erected.

Take Note for Land.

In payment the exchange took the building corporation's real estate note for $10,490,000. Fred C. Clutton, secretary of the exchange, explained yesterday that instead of carrying the note at par it is still listed at the original appraised value of the land.

Interest on the note which the Board of Trade would receive is canceled out to the last cent by the rental which its pays for its quarters. The exchange also makes certain guarantees to the building corporation to make up any deficit in operating income.

The income account published is the same as that contained in the last annual report of the exchange. Net income for the year ended Jan. 8, was $52,159. The balance is given as of Jan. 8 also.

Surplus is carried at $3,216,195. This is equivalent to $2,076 for each of the 1,549 memberships outstanding. Seats are currently selling around $6,000 each.

EDISON EARNINGS RISE IN OCTOBER; AGAIN TOP 1933

The Commonwealth Edison company's consolidated net income again has risen above a year ago after showing a decline in September. Figures for October, released yesterday, include net income of $455,545 after charges, compared with $393,591 in the preceding month and $363,659 in October, 1933.

Gross revenues for the month amounted to $6,392,032, against $6,060,912 in September and $6,170,013 a year ago. In August of this year net income amounted to $149,150, compared with $79,440 in the corresponding month of last year.

For the first ten months of the year net income totaled $4,945,966, compared with $5,202,859 a year ago. It was explained that the increase in gross revenues for the ten month period this year was almost offset by increased provision for taxes, which includes the 3 per cent federal tax on sales to residential and commercial consumers and the state 2 per cent retailers' occupation tax on electricity, and by larger payrolls under the NRA.

MORGAN BACK FROM EUROPE; SPEAKS ON U.S. AS GROUSE HUNTER

New York, Nov. 20.—(AP)—J. P. Morgan arrived today from a quiet four-month vacation in England and said America could get along with less excitement.

"There has been a steady, quiet economic improvement in England," he said, but he could point to no specific cause for the upturn there. "They have done best with their internal economy. They were careful how their money was spent."

When questioning turned to America, he replied with a smile, "You know the answer," and explained the grouse season was excellent. The wind was right, the weather was good, and that he and his friends had a great time at the English shooting grounds.

He indicated there was no liklihood of J. P. Morgan, private banker, changing the status of his institution to J. P. Morgan, investment banker, as the result of the recent reapeparance of new foreign securities in the United States.

GOLD CURRENCIES AGAIN WEAKEN AGAINST DOLLAR

New York, Nov. 20.—[Special.]—The Holland guilder dipped 1 point today to 67.70 cents as weakness again overtook gold bloc currencies. The belga, apparently under rigid official support, lost 1 point to 23.32 cents. Francs cheapened ¼ point to 6.59 cents and Swiss francs dropped 1 point to 32.45 cents.

At the closing price of the franc the dollar was worth 59.45 cents, based on the old par of the franc, against 59.43 cents yesterday. Calculated on the new par of the franc the dollar was valued at $1.0066, against $1.0063.

Weakness of the guilder coincided with the arrival here of $1,108,100 gold from Holland which had been engaged last week when the exchange fell below its gold import point. Sterling rose ¼ cent to $4.98⅝ and was followed by the Japanese yen which gained 4 points to 29.10 cents and the Canadian dollar which improved ⅛ cent to $1.02⅝. Italian lire continued weak with a decline of ½ point to 8.525 cents while German marks were unchanged at 40.23 cents.

RETAIL FOOD INDEX SHOWS SLIGHT DROP

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—(AP)—A slight decline in retail food prices during the two weeks ended Nov. 6 was reported today by the labor department. During that week it took $1.153 to buy the same amount of food that $1.154 bought the previous two weeks and $1 bought in 1913.

Prices were 8 per cent higher than during the corresponding period the previous year and about 28 per cent higher than on April 15, 1933, the low point in recent years.

Of the 42 foods included in the index, 16 fell in price, 11 showed no change, and 15 increased. Meats dropped 3 per cent. Fruits and vegetables decreased 2.8 per cent. Eggs, dairy products, and cereals were among those foods which cost more.

BIG LOSS FACED BY NOTEHOLDERS OF MIDDLE WEST

Won't Get 42 Cts. on Dollar, Says Dewey.

Holders of the serial debentures of the Middle West Utilities company—of which there are $40,000,000 held by the public—cannot expect to get back even 42 cents on each dollar invested in the ill starred Insull holding company. That was the warning given in a letter received yesterday by the noteholders from protective committee headed by Charles S. Dewey.

The option granted the common stock holders to buy out the claims of the noteholders on the basis of 42 cents on the dollar was merely a "gesture," the committee asserted. The offer was calculated to convince the junior security holders that the company's assets are not as valuable as they contend, the noteholders were told.

Expect Option to Lapse.

"We have no expectation that the common stock holders' committee will ever be successful in raising anything like the money required to exercise this option, although if its claim that the assets are worth over $125,000,000 is correct they ought to raise the money in a very short time," the committee said.

"We wish to impress on you," the committee further told the noteholders, "that you should not buoy yourself with the hope that you will get 42 cents on the dollar for your notes."

Thus the largest of the former Insull enterprises, which at one time controled assets said to be worth in excess of two billion dollars, cannot pay on a liquidation basis even half of its debts aggregating some $65,000,000. In addition to the $40,000,000 of notes held by the public the banks have about $25,000,000 coming from the company which is secured by collateral of variable value.

Stockholders Refuse Option.

Prior to the receipt of yesterday's letter the counsel for the common stock holders, Orville J. Taylor, had served notice that his committee would not accept the proffered option of the noteholders. Both the noteholders and stockholders are jockeying for position in preparation for the opening of arguments on the merits of the reorganization plan under the amended federal bankruptcy act. The formal arguments over the plan, which is sponsored by the noteholders and opposed by the stockholders, will begin Dec. 12 in the federal District court.

The proposed plan calls for giving the noteholders 37 per cent of the stock in a reorganized company, while the banks representing the secured claims would get 63 per cent. Stockholders would be all but frozen out of the picture, being given warants entitling them to buy stock at specified prices over a ten year period.

The noteholders' commtitee's statement said that those assenting to the plan need not take any action at this time, as the committee will file the claims and vote the notes in favor of the plan. Dissenting noteholders may notify the committee and their holdings will not be voted in favor of the plan, the letter added.

O'CONNOR DENIES RESIGNATION AS CONTROLER

New York, Nov. 20.—(AP)—J. F. T. O'Connor, on his arrival from Washington tonight with Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the RFC, denied reports he had resigned as controler of the currency.

"It isn't so," he said. "I am returning to Washington tonight, and I will be back at work in my office in the morning."

Earlier O'Connor's office in Washington had made a similar denial of the reports. Capital officials are understood to consider O'Connor's retirement only a question of time. He has been offered the post of federal reserve agent at the San Francisco Reserve bank. General belief in Washington is that he will accept.

One explanation of the situation offered unofficially was that relations between Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau and O'Connor had not been as harmonious as was possible, and that Morgenthau had been desirous for a long time of having his own man in the office.

Jones said he was in New York to attend a meeting of the board of the Missouri Pacific railroad tomorrow.

Europe Wants Sound Money Says Palyi; Wishes U. S. Did

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

There is now a strong tendency in Europe to return to conservative monetary methods, including balancing of budgets, Dr. Melchoir Palyi, noted German economist and now a guest professor at the University of Chicago, said yesterday in a talk before the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations at the Palmer house. He added that he wished he could report the same thing for this country.

DR. MELCHIOR PALYI.

Dr. Palyi gave a cross section of economic and monetary conditions as he found them during his recent visit to Europe. He asserted there is little danger of any of the gold bloc nations deserting the gold standard. Even the Belgians, he said, are not likely to give up gold without a great deal of thought.

Finds Depression Passing.

There has been a relaxation in the depression generally, Dr. Palyi asserted, particularly in Great Britain. He explained that the people grew tired of waiting for the depression to end and got busy themselves, in some countries receiving considerable help from government expenditures.

There has been diminution in unemployment generally, he added, saying that this was greatest in Germany and least in France. The German situation he attributed as being partly due to the large amounts spent by the government on various enterprises.

The return to conservatism has been most noteworthy in Great Britain, Dr. Palyi continued, saying also that the improvement there has also been the most marked. Business improvement has taken place despite the fluctuations in exchange rates, he said, pointing out that the pound showed a downward tendency from July to October, while it has gone up since October.

British Seek Balanced Budget.

Discussing the reasons for the improvement in the British situation, Dr. Palyi said there are a number of underlying factors. Foremost among these, he explained, has been the tendency evinced by all parties since 1931 to work toward balancing of the budget. The fact that the balancing of the budget has been more apparent than real, he added, has not done any harm, since the fact that the authorities have accepted the idea that expenditures and income must balance has produced a wholesome effect.

Dr. Palyi said Britain is profiting enormously by the turnover in gold. During the first six months of this year, he explained, some £300,000,000 [roughly $1,500,000,000] in gold was imported and exported through London. He said that this produces a very good revenue for London brokers, British shipping, etc. Another factor which has helped the British, he said, was the reduction in interest rates.

PENNSY PLANNING ELECTRIC TRAIN SERVICE BY JAN. 1

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—The Pennsylvania railroad's electrification program, financed by the Public Works administration, is more than 80 per cent completed as to passenger service.

"All efforts are now being centered," said a statement issued by the railroad, "upon inaugurating through electric passenger train operation between New York and Washington early in January. The second and final step in the program, electric operation of the entire freight service in the same territory, will follow shortly afterward."

Those employed in the construction work, all of whom were furloughed Pennsylvania railroad men, now number 11,200, and the monthly payroll has grown to exceed $1,000,000, the highest mark since the start of the project.

OCCUPANCY IN OFFICE BUILDING IMPROVING, RENTAL SURVEY SHOWS

Improvement in office building occupancy throughout the United States is shown in the Oct. 1 vacancy survey, reported yesterday by George W. Klein of Indianapolis, chairman of the rental committee of the National Association of Building Owners and Managers, which has its headquarters in Chicago.

"Average vacancy for the entire country," said Mr. Klein, "is 26.92 per cent—a decline of .45 per cent since May 1 last, when the average stood at 27.37 per cent.

"This improvement is not confined to any section of the nation. Five of the six geographical districts reveal an upward trend. This is the second time that improvement has been shown, a .2 per cent betterment having been recorded May 1, prior to which time the trend had been consistently downward for more than four years."

GRAINS BREAK SHARPLY UNDER SELLING WAVE

Wheat Below Dollar; Corn Relapses.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

A wave of selling washed over the grain market yesterday, bringing the severest reaction in several days. Wheat broke 2 cents a bushel with all futures again dropping below the dollar mark. An abrupt halt was brought to the steady advance in corn, which has been leading the market for several days. After selling at new high quotations early in the day, corn prices relapsed and closed with losses up to 1¾ cents a bushel.

Good rains reported over a large section of the winter wheat belt and declines in foreign wheat prices were outstanding features of the news that provided the background for the selling. The liquidation was regarded as profit taking. Selling in the corn pit came from many small holders, who were cashing in on the price appreciation of the last week.

Other Grains Decline.

Other grains declined along with wheat and corn. Rye was conspicuously weak with all futures closing more than 2 cents a bushel lower. The maximum loss in oats was ⅞ cent a bushel. Closing prices on December futures were:

	Yesterday.	Monday.	Week ago.
Corn	.83⅝	.85⅛	.81⅝
Oats	.52½	.53⅝	.51⅞
Rye	.71⅝	.73½	.70½

News on the corn situation yesterday was of the same character that has been providing fuel for the speculative activity in that grain for the last week. The demand for cash corn continued unabated with Chicago dealers able to purchase only 12,000 bushels for shipment here from the country.

Only 29 Cars of Corn Arrive.

Failure of the expected improvement in the foreign situation to materialize was emphasized again yesterday when some wheat futures in Liverpool sold at new low quotations for the season. Competition between Argentina and France for markets has steadily depressed foreign prices and acts as an effective check on the market here.

STOCKS DECLINE IRREGULARLY IN MIXED TRADE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Nov. 20.—Discouraged selling by traders disappointed by the list's failure to continue its rise into high ground kept the stock market divided against itself again today. Utilities showed some strength, but the rails were on the downgrade, the silver mining group was compelled to give further ground, and an assortment of industrial favorites, including American Can and Allied Chemical, sold down from a fraction to a point or more.

Merchandising shares were apathetic in spite of the example set by Associated Dry Goods, the chief beneficiary of a large extra dividend by Lord & Taylor, a subsidiary. Some of the food stocks had more than their customary amount of trouble.

N. Y. Traction Shares Rise.

Bright spots included New York traction shares which sprang to life anew on indications that definite progress is being made in the city's unification negotiations with the company.

The turnabout in the power and light shares was attributed in some measure to profit taking. An encouraging performance in this locality was that of American Telephone which recovered more than 2 points of the heavy losses it suffered in last week's trading, following announcement that the affairs of the corporation were to go under investigation by the communications commission.

Brokerage house comment indicated that the spectacle of a stock of this rating selling at nearly par had been too much for many investors to resist, even though directors should reduce the present $9 dividend to $6 at tomorrow's meeting as some shareholders fear.

I. C. C. Ruling Ignored.

In the case of carrier stocks, the I. C. C. ruling revising rates upward for western carriers on merchandise shipments was ignored in favor of lower trafic figures last week. Union Pacific and Delaware and Hudson gave up about 2 points each and Atchison sagged half as much.

Farm and mail order shares were generally on the minus side of the column, but their losses were small. A conspicuous strong spot was the business machines. Airplanes were less active, as were the alcohols.

Many standard industrials did little more than mark time. The range on United States Steel common was the narrowest in a long time. The final sale represented a loss of an eighth point for the day.

NEW QUOTATIONS ON STEEL SHOW LITTLE CHANGE

New York, Nov. 10.—[Special.]—Quotations on leading steel products, filed today by principal producers with the American Iron and Steel institute for the first quarter of 1935, indicated the present price structure would be virtually unchanged.

All producers have not yet filed their prices, and as a result quotations for the next quarter have not been established. Under the steel code, the lowest price filed with the institute becomes the established price for the industry.

Producers will 'have until Dec. 1 to post their prices for next year. Today was the first day on which the price schedules could be filed.

WESTERN RAILS WIN RATE CHANGE TO GAIN REVENUE

Carriers Allowed to Meet Truck Competition.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—(AP)—Endeavoring to aid western railroads in securing more revenue, the interstate commerce commission today ordered a revision of class freight rates in the territory west of the Mississippi river.

To permit the carriers to meet motor truck competition the commission authorized them to reduce rates up to 170 miles and over that distance narrowed the limits so that rates will increase more rapidly on long hauls, thus increasing the income.

Apply Eastern Class Rates.

In an effort to assist shippers in Illinois and the territory around Duluth, Minneapolis, St. Paul, and other northwestern points the commission ruled that eastern class rates shall apply to and from the northwestern section and western rates to and from Illinois when shipments come from western territories or go to that section.

The commission also established a fourth rate zone in the west along the line from Casper to Sheridan and east, with a rate 15 per cent higher than in zone 3. This previously had been included in the third zone as a sub zone.

Today's decision was a revision of the western trunk line class rate case decided in 1930. The railroads contended that decision did not increase revenues sufficiently to prevent losses and applied for reopening of the case last spring.

ASKS SPECIFIC STAND.

Paul Blanchard, representing Armour & Co., yesterday demanded that as a result of a ruling released in Washington boosting certain classes of freight rates west of the Mississippi river, the railroads make more specific their stand on increased rates under the petition now pending before the interstate commerce commission.

The Washington ruling, announced today, covered an old petition filed in 1931, and has no direct connection with the request for general freight rate boosts now being considered, Commissioner Clyde B. Aitchison, before whom Blanchard made the demand, stated.

Walter R. Scott of Kansas City, vice president of the National Industrial Traffic league, described the proposal of the railroads to charge $1 for the issuance of each order bill of lading as "another unreasonable tax on business" in giving testimony before the commissioner.

REORGANIZATION OF MO. PACIFIC COMES UP TODAY

New York, Nov. 20.—[Special.]—Creditors of the Missouri Pacific railroad, 12,000 mile unit in the Van Sweringen transportation empire, will discuss tomorrow a plan for taking it out of bankruptcy with its owners, trustees and possibly members of the Interstate Commerce commission and Reconstruction Finance corporation.

Jesse Jones, chairman of the RFC, which loaned the Missouri Pacific $23,000,000, has expressed a desire to attend the meeting. Others who plan to attend are O. P. and M. J. Van Sweringen, who added the Missouri Pacific to their holdings in a stock market coup before the break of 1929; bankers for the Missouri Pacific and the Van Sweringens and representatives of the bondholders. L. W. Baldwin, former president, now trustee of the bankrupt property, and Guy A. Thompson, the other trustee, will be present.

REVIVAL CURBED BY ATTACKS ON BUSINESS, THORPE

Propaganda attacks directed at American business have seriously retarded recovery, Merle Thorpe of Washington, D. C., editor of Nation's Business, stated last night before the Illinois Manufacturers' Cost association at the Hotel Sherman.

Likening the battle of business toward recovery to a war, Thorpe declared that the government propagandists had not only failed to inspire confidence among business leaders but had injured their morale by deprecating the ability of business to pull through.

"How unlike war methods has been our attitude," Thorpe continued. "Instead of inspiring confidence in the generals and captains and sergeants on the business front, we have done everything to discredit them in the eyes of the privates and civil forces back home. Leaders of every battalion, from finance to retailers, have been attacked as unpatriotic, selfish and crooked."

WHEAT EXPORTS OF U. S. DROP TO ZERO LAST WEEK

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—(AP)—America's wheat exports for nearly a half century one of the principal items in this country's foreign trade, sank to their lowest level in many years last week when not a single bushel was shipped abroad. The department of commerce said today that only 13,000 bushels of all types of grain were exported during the week.

The drouth last summer, officials said, left the country without the usual export surplus and little or no effort was being made to sell any grain abroad. The lowest previous level in recent years was during the week of June 9 when 20,000 bushels of wheat were shipped.

State Asks Receiver for Glass Insurance Firm

Ernest Palmer, state director of insurance, yesterday filed suit in the Circuit court through Attorney General Otto Kerner, against the Acme Plate Glass Mutual Insurance company, asking appointment of a receiver and an injunction against further transaction of business. The bill claims that the company has a deficit of $7,296.

CENT. REPUBLIC TRUST IS CLOSED BY STATE AUDITOR

of it immediately. Another $30,000,000 was taken out a few weeks later, and the balance, $50,000,000, in October, 1932, when the bank ceased to be a bank of deposit and turned over its deposit liabilities and an equivalent amount of cash to the newly organized City National Bank and Trust company.

Neither Monday's action of the RFC nor yesterday's action of the state auditor affects the City National bank in any way whatsoever. The City National is an entirely separate institution and is a highly liquid bank, having a large proportion of cash assets. The City National took over at greatly reduced rental the banking house formerly occupied by the Central Republic at 208 South La Salle street in October, 1932, and has been doing an active banking business ever since, its loans and deposits increasing since its inauguration. The Central Republic moved across the street to the building formerly occupied by the old National Bank of the Republic at the northwest corner of Adams and La Salle.

Assessment May Hit Hundreds.

Hundreds of prominent Chicagoans, as well as other hundreds of people of modest means, are subject to assessments of $100 per share for each share of Central Republic stock they hold, as a result of the RFC's filing suit for double liability collections.

The RFC's move, it was believed in some quarters, may have been inspired by the suit now pending against the stockholders of the Peoples Trust and Savings bank, an institution which was taken over by the Continental Illinois Bank and Trust company two years ago and whose depositors were paid in full by funds supplied by the Continental under contract with the Peoples Trust. The stockholders of the Peoples Trust are now resisting in court the Continental bank's attempts to force an assessment against them on the grounds that the bank wasn't closed by the examining authorities but was closed under contract. The Central Republic also closed out its deposits under contract, in this case with the RFC.

Some of Those Liable.

Among the stockholders of the Central Republic who may be assessed $100 per share on the holdings to satisfy the debt are John W. O'Leary, former president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, who is listed with holdings of 647 shares. Others, besides members of the Dawes and Greenebaum families, whose banks merged and who are listed as holders of thousands of shares of stock in the Central Republic, are: Lucius Teter, 401 shares; Ernest J. Stevens, 400; Edwin W. Sims, former United States district attorney, 169; George S. Shinnick, Columbus, O., 600; Raymond W. Stevens, late president of the Stevens hotel, 410; Gilbert E. Porter, attorney for Sam

SOCIAL CENTER OF '80S LEASED FOR RESTAURANT

English Inn Planned for Chandler Residence.

BY AL CHASE.

Rhys Williams, a member of the Globe Theater cast at the English Village, A Century of Progress, and A. M. Guard Smale, who operated the Cheshire Cheese in the same village, yesterday leased the old-time mansion for five years from Buckingham Chandler and his sister, Isabel Buckingham Chandler, wife of Hobart P. Young, attorney, who hold title to the property.

Plan to Rejuvenate Property.

The two lessees will rejuvenate the property, but will make no important structural alterations. They will use the entire eighteen room residence for restaurant purposes, opening shortly before Christmas. The First Realty company, of which Buckingham Chandler is president, negotiated the transaction.

The old mansion in its early days was the scene of many brilliant social and diplomatic functions. Mrs. Anna Buckingham Chandler was one of the social leaders of the early '80s. Rush street was then the home of many of Chicago's most important families.

Benjamin H. Buckingham, Mrs. Chandler's father, who financed the erection of the first grain elevator in Chicago, built a frame residence at 722 Rush street in 1856. It was destroyed in the big fire of '71 and the present brick home erected seven years later.

Interior Unusual.

The residence is unusual in many ways. All of the woodwork throughout is of clear white pine, elaborately carved and waxed. The ceilings of the two drawing rooms are embellished with murals, larger even than those in the Potter Palmer mansion on Lake Shore drive, erected later. The entire third floor was used as a ballroom.

Frank R. Chandler, for many years identified with Chicago realty activities, died in 1933 at the age of 92. Mrs. Chandler passed away in 1922. The Rust street residence was lived in by Mr. Chandler up to the time of his death. It has been in the Chandler family since 1856.

HOG PRICES DROP SHARPLY; CATTLE WEAKEN FURTHER

The largest Tuesday hog receipts since January, coupled with a break in lard and fresh pork prices, caused a precipitous downturn in the hog market yesterday. The break was the sharpest since Oct. 10 and carried the average price 30 cents under last Friday's level.

Light weights under 200 pounds dropped 10 to 30 cents and in some instances were off 40 cents compared with the high point of the previous session. Old crop butchers and sows carrying a lot of fat weakened 10 cents.

Hogs weighing 220 pounds and over sold from $8.00 to $8.15 including the $2.25 tax to the federal government. Packers bought the bulk of the 140 to 200 pound lights at $6.25 to $7.75.

Swift & Co. paid yesterday's $9.90 top for one load of 1,280 pound steers. Very little sold above $9.00, the bulk of beef steers going within a range of $5.25 to $8.75. Veal calves slumped to the lowest levels of the season.

The lightest sheep receipts since the middle of August saved the lamb market from a pounding. Prices maintained a fairly even keel despite the break in other live stock.

LARD DROPS SHARPLY; DOWN 17½ TO 27½ POINTS

Weakness in hogs and corn combined with selling of lard futures attributed to hedging by packers carried prices off sharply yesterday, lard closing 17½ to 27½ points lower, while bellies were off 2½ to 20 points. Scattered longs sold on the way down with support at the last in both lard and bellies coming from cash interests. Cash lard closed at 10.35 cents; loose at 10.27 cents, and leaf at 10.25 cents, while oellies were 14⅜ cents per pound. Prices follow:
